The Hallowed House

Widow's Home Becomes Jesus' Place Of Triumph

(All was over now, but was it? Why was the body missing from the tomb? Had Christ really risen? And then He appeared before them in the same hallowed house which had given them asylum during the awesome chain of events. This is the final article on "The Hallowed House".)

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

The wall is thick. It is brick, stone, mortar and plastered mud baked hard. It is massive, encompassing and high. Eyes cannot penetrate that wall. Intellect cannot pierce it. It is a human wall, though, rigid, confining.

Rarely does man even glimpse the other side.

But it has happened. It happened once when skeptical, disillusioned men were there to record it. It happened, in a world-illuminating flash of history, in a room in a lime-whitened house in Jerusalem.

There, men saw what the limiting wall of their nature conceals from them. And time has not blotted out the sight.

The witnesses were plain, practical men, sons of the soil and sea, shaped by hard, tangible experience. They had been drawn to a man like themselves, a woodworker, who added love and grace to man's drudging lot.

THEY HAD thought Him divinely endowed to reform the world, and had bound themselves to His service. But Jesus had been seized, condemned and hung as a criminal, leaving them the marked, terrified survivors of an outlawed course.

For them, the venture was over. The dream was done. Heartbroken, fear-ravaged, their last vestige of self respect and conviction gone, they huddled in the house of a friend who sheltered them even in their ignominy.

For the mistress of that house, the widow Mary of Cyprus, there was no flinching, no turning back. Indeed, the women followers of Jesus, in that black hour, still felt He lived on. The apostles did not.

They were dour, spiritless men, with stony faces and hard, desperate reckonings. They had given up, and their limbs were watery with apprehension and utter despondency. They trusted no encouraging harbinger nor hope.

They hunched about the chamber like bloodless husks. Their eyes stared blankly. Some sat motionless, their bodies numbed. Others paced about, convulsed at intervals by shudders. When one sought to speak, he gave up in stammering.

The door to the room was closed and bolted because of their fear and the furious mood of authorities, who, on learning of the empty tomb, had circulated an alarm

In Jerusalem On Good Friday

Story Of The Crucifixion Is Recited By Empty Tomb

JERUSALEM, Jordan Section (AP)—The story of the Crucifixion was recited beside an empty tomb in Jerusalem this Good Friday in the babel of ancient and long-dead languages widely spoken at the time of Christ.

Each of the old liturgical languages represents a Christian community with jealously guarded traditional rights in the Church of the Holy Sepulchre.

Normally, Oriental and Western churches have Easter at different times because of calendar differences but this year they celebrate Easter together.

This means there must be careful planning and split-second timing of services in the church to avoid friction.

If an Orthodox priest lights a lamp belonging to Armenians a near riot will follow.

The feeling is so strong on these points that the various rights have been written into international treaties. One such dispute in Bethlehem was a contributing cause to the outbreak of the Crimean War.

The first language used in the Church of the Holy Sepulchre Good Friday morning was the Latin tongue spoken by a Roman Centurion who stood beside the cross and declared, "Surely this was the Son of God." Roman Catholics gathered in the church to hold an early service.

By 9:30 a. m. the Latins had to make way for the Greek Orthodox, whose liturgy embodies Greek spoken by the Apostle Paul and most educated persons in New Testament times.

In the afternoon the language of Pharaohs and the language spoken by Christ mingled when the Syrians and Egyptians both held a burial service at the Holy Sepulchre almost simultaneously.

In their liturgy, the Syrian Orthodox Christians use the Aramaic language spoken by Christ and most of his disciples.

It was the tongue in which Jesus cried from the Cross "My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken me."

While these ancient tongues were used in liturgies, modern languages like German, English, Spanish and Italian were used in sermons and prayer as pilgrims carried heavy crosses along the Way of the Cross. They carried crosses from the place of Christ's trial before Pilate to the Holy Sepulchre, stopping at each of the 14 Stations of the Cross to hear sermons in their own language.

Polaris Moves Closer To Operational Use

SAN CLEMENTE ISLAND, Calif. (AP)—The Navy Polaris missile today was a step closer to operational use aboard an atomic submarine after a successful test launching from 100 feet below the ocean surface.

The 28-foot bottle-shaped missile like a bright yellow whale, broke the choppy Pacific Thursday and zoomed up 1,800 feet despite a 25-knot wind.

Then, its five seconds of solid fuel expended, the missile arched gracefully back to a splash landing in the sea near this island off Southern California.

BOSTON (AP) — Movie star Gary Cooper, 58, who underwent prostate gland surgery Thursday, was reported in good condition today at Massachusetts General Hospital.

South Africa Faced By New Strike Threat

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—South Africa's government braced today to meet the threat of another crippling Negro work boycott protesting the white regime's stern racial policies.

Police kicked off a new series of raids against "inciters and agitators," rounding up 100 persons in the African settlement of Orlando, on the outskirts of Johannesburg.

The outlawed African National Congress' emergency committee circulated pamphlets through Orlando and other Johannesburg Negro settlements Thursday calling for a one-week work boycott beginning Monday.

Deputy Police Commissioner C. J. Lemmer warned that "the hundreds of thousands of law abiding Africans must not stay away from work."

"They must ignore the pamphlets if they have received them. They must not allow themselves to be intimidated," Lemmer declared, adding that "police will be on duty in full force and will be able to provide all the protection needed."

The government of wounded Prime Minister Hendrik F. Verwoerd clearly planned to take all necessary measures to prevent a repetition of the no-work campaign—a potent economic weapon in this country where three million whites lean heavily on the labor of 10 million Negroes.

Ex-Captain, Guerrillas Elude Castro

Premier Directing Mountain Operations In Intensive Hunt

LAS MERCEDES, Cuba (AP)—An insurgent former officer of Fidel Castro's army today continued to elude crack government mountain troops in a chase over the soggy pinnacles of east Cuba's Sierra Maestra.

Castro is directing operations in the ninth day of an intensive manhunt for ex-Capt. Manuel Beaton and his band of armed guerrillas, believed to number about 50 men. Fidel's brother Raul, the armed forces chief, and other top commanders also are in the field.

A cloak of official silence hung over the military movements in the densely forested steep Sierra overlooking the Caribbean along Cuba's southeast coast.

The only official word late Thursday night was that Beaton had not been caught.

(There were unconfirmed reports in Havana that 1,000 regulars of Castro's army had ringed 6,560-foot Pico Turquino—Cuba's highest mountain—in the belief they had trapped the bulk of the rebels. Official sources refused to comment on this and another report of fighting in the area of Palma Soriano, along th eastern fringe of the Sierra Maestra, in which it was said 12 government soldiers were killed.)

Cuban newsmen reported they saw Castro in the hills but he ordered them to get out.

From other sources in the general area of this tiny village at the foothills of the Sierras this much was learned:

Castro has thrown thousands of men into the drive from three directions—east, north and west—on Beaton's suspected center of operations.

There is a possibility that one or two more rebel bands operating independently of each other are hiding out in the mountains.

Story Abductors Arrested Is Denied

Kidnaped Boy Home Safe After Father Pays Ransom

PARIS (AP)—Amid reports that his kidnapers were being run to earth, 4-year-old Eric Peugeot was home safe and sound today, although "still upset." His abductors freed him early this morning on a Paris sidewalk not far from home—supposedly after payment of ransom.

At one point the French News Agency reported two men and a woman had been arrested in Paris as the boy's kidnapers. But within minutes national police headquarters denied the story.

The 4-year-old heir to a French automobile empire was found unharmed, crying on a sidewalk within half a mile of his home shortly before 1 a.m. today. He said he had been left there by two men, apparently the same pair who whisked him away from the playground at an exclusive St. Cloud Country Club Tuesday afternoon.

The newspaper France-Soir reported that Eric's father, Roland Peugeot, said he had paid a ransom to the kidnapers Thursday afternoon. The amount was not revealed, but the abductors had demanded $100,000.

Eric and his parents were in their sixth-floor apartment this morning, the drapes drawn and four police on guard outside.

"To get Eric released I scrupulously followed the conditions of the kidnapers," Peugeot was reported to have said. "I had to have confidence in them. They

Allies' Aides End Talks In Washington

Lack New Idea To Seize Initiative Against Khrushchev

WASHINGTON (AP) — The stage was set today for Western unity in basic issues at the outset of next month's summit meeting with the Soviet Union.

But the Western camp lacked any spectacular new idea with which to seize the bargaining initiative from Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The three days of foreign ministers talks which ended Thursday completed the major homework on strategy for the summit gathering starting in Paris May 16. That meeting will bring together President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, French President Charles de Gaulle and Khrushchev.

The Western foreign affairs chiefs referred unfinished odds and ends to inter-allied specialist groups in Paris, London and Washington. The ministers themselves will have another pre-summit gathering in Istanbul May 1. The Western government chiefs will assemble in Paris May 15 for a final strategy session before the big conference opens the following day.

The Western foreign ministers made elaborate plans to keep small-power allies informed on their proceedings. They also arranged to contact the Soviet Union in advance on procedural matters, including a Western decision to take up disarmament as the No. 1 summit discussion topic.

The ministers reached speedy accord on the two major cold war issues headed for summit discussion — Germany-Berlin and disarmament. Basically, they readopted their previous stand on these issues with few modifications, even though the Reds have rejected the Western proposals before.

On Germany, the ministers stood by their long term goal of a reunified, democratic Germany, including German-wide elections.

They agreed again that the issue of Communist-surrounded Berlin should be solved by the reunification of Germany, although if this is impossible, they may seek some kind of interim accord under which Allied rights to the city would remain unimpaired.

On disarmament, the foreign ministers renewed their support of the Western proposals set forth last month at the now deadlocked Geneva disarmament parley.

They decided to reoffer at the summit some specific parts of their plan on which speedy agreement might be possible without requiring strong policing that the Soviets object to.

Hit-Skip Driver Sought After Weirton Fatality

WEIRTON — Police today are pressing the search for the driver of a hit-skip auto which struck a 72-year-old retired Weirton steelworker Thursday night at 8.

Alexander John Gryskevich died of internal injuries Thursday night at 11:30 in Weirton General Hospital.

Police were questioning witnesses today. They have requested bystanders who saw the accident to report to headquarters.

Gryskevich, Hancock County's third traffic fatality in 1960 and Weirton's first, was knocked 19 feet by the impact. He was crossing a street and had nearly reached the curb when struck, police said.

The victim was the father-in-law of Weirton Patrolman Mitchell Baltich.

Cells Emptied Under Court's Amnesty Rule

Two men who were serving time under Municipal Court sentences — an unusually small "population" for City Jail — were released from their cells this morning by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff's amnesty rule that no minor offender would spend the Easter weekend behind bars.

Before freeing the prisoners shortly before 9 this morning, the judge went into the jail to talk with them, explained the reason for their release and exacted a promise that they will return Monday to resume serving their time.

He released a man serving time in lieu of an intoxication fine and another who had been unable to pay a fine assessed in mid-week on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol. The man convicted of drunken driving said his mother is expected to pay his $250 fine today and the judge said if that is done he will not be required to return. The man has been behind bars since his arrest last Saturday morning.

The man serving time for intoxication, a familiar figure to both the court and the police force, smiled and thanked the judge as he headed out of headquarters with a small bundle of personal possessions under his arm.

The judge announced Wednesday that he would free any minor offenders in the jail on Good Friday, provided they promised to return Monday to resume serving their time.

"Jail is no place for anyone on Good Friday and Easter," he commented at that time.

Judge Chertoff said this morning he was surprised by the widespread attention his action attracted in news media throughout a three-state area. The story of his Good Friday amnesty has appeared on page one of metropolitan newspapers and has been broadcast on many radio and television stations. One Cleveland station tape recorded an interview with the judge for broadcast as a news feature.

4th Hancock Tavern Hit By Raiding Police

Weirton Man Nabbed On Liquor Violation At Ex-Club Paddock

West Virginia State Police raided another Hancock County tavern Thursday night and arrested a Weirton man for illegal possession of liquor.

The raid at the Campbell Club, also known as the Club Paddock—on State Route 30 back of Chester last night at 8:55 followed on the heels of a series of raids Wednesday night at three other taverns and the Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163.

Operating with a search and seizure warrant, a group of state troopers led by Cpl. A. A. Barney of the Weirton Detachment arrested Arthur E. Lewis of Weirton.

Lewis posted bond and was scheduled for a hearing today before Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland. State Police said other charges may be filed.

Technicality Results In Return Of 'Slot'

Poor spelling has cost the Internal Revenue Service a slot machine.

One of the more than 50 it picked up during a Northern Panhandle raid last January came from Pat's Tavern in Chester.

The warrant spelled the owner's name as Felix Kelogy.

Back went the machine Thursday after the IRS discovered the last name was Kology, not Kelogy, since the spelling error made the warrant defective.

Wrongdoing Is Denied

West Virginia Official's Use Of City Plane Upheld

Jack McDaniel, associate of Hune, Inc., today denied any wrongdoing in the use of his plane by the West Virginia state's attorney general for political campaigning last winter.

W. W. Barron of Charleston, seeking the Democratic nomination for governor, had declared that efforts were way off base to find something wrong with the arrangement whereby he used the private plane in his political bid.

Barron branded critical reports of his connection with the Ohio-based airplane as "part of the web of defamation spun by forces opposed to my nomination in their desperate but futile attempts to defeat me in this election."

He confirmed that he used a small plane owned by Hune, Inc., of East Liverpool, to take two political trips. Barron said the plane, while based at Charleston last winter, was used by other persons for non-political trips, but the cost of operating it was handled by the individuals concerned.

Principal officers of Hune, Inc. are Alton Thayer McDaniel of Chester and his two sons, Ronald Jack and Robert T. McDaniel. The firm distributed coin - operated vending machines and juke boxes.

Barron said he didn't know who owned the plane but found out and discontinued using it. Atty. William E. Conklin of Chester made arrangements for the use of the aircraft, Barron said.

"There is nothing wrong whatsoever in what I have done," he commented. "I am grateful to Bill Conklin for his efforts to assist me in this campaign. . .

New Major Rockslide Feared At Niagara Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—Large cracks at the crest of the American Falls have stirred fears of a third major rockslide that could crumble a section about the size of a football field.

The first slide, in 1954, tumbled 185,000 tons of rock over Prospect Point. In 1956, a 120,000-ton slide destroyed most of a power station, killing one man.

Two men who were serving time under Municipal Court sentences — an unusually small "population" for City Jail — were released from their cells this morning by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff's amnesty rule that no minor offender would spend the Easter weekend behind bars.

Before freeing the prisoners shortly before 9 this morning, the judge went into the jail to talk with them, explained the reason for their release and exacted a promise that they will return Monday to resume serving their time.

He released a man serving time in lieu of an intoxication fine and another who had been unable to pay a fine assessed in mid-week on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol. The man convicted of drunken driving said his mother is expected to pay his $250 fine today and the judge said if that is done he will not be required to return. The man has been behind bars since his arrest last Saturday morning.

The man serving time for intoxication, a familiar figure to both the court and the police force, smiled and thanked the judge as he headed out of headquarters with a small bundle of personal possessions under his arm.

The judge announced Wednesday that he would free any minor offenders in the jail on Good Friday, provided they promised to return Monday to resume serving their time.

"Jail is no place for anyone on Good Friday and Easter," he commented at that time.

Judge Chertoff said this morning he was surprised by the widespread attention his action attracted in news media throughout a three-state area. The story of his Good Friday amnesty has appeared on page one of metropolitan newspapers and has been broadcast on many radio and television stations. One Cleveland station tape recorded an interview with the judge for broadcast as a news feature.

4th Hancock Tavern Hit By Raiding Police

Weirton Man Nabbed On Liquor Violation At Ex-Club Paddock

West Virginia State Police raided another Hancock County tavern Thursday night and arrested a Weirton man for illegal possession of liquor.

The raid at the Campbell Club, also known as the Club Paddock—on State Route 30 back of Chester last night at 8:55 followed on the heels of a series of raids Wednesday night at three other taverns and the Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163.

Operating with a search and seizure warrant, a group of state troopers led by Cpl. A. A. Barney of the Weirton Detachment arrested Arthur E. Lewis of Weirton.

Lewis posted bond and was scheduled for a hearing today before Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland. State Police said other charges may be filed.

Technicality Results In Return Of 'Slot'

Poor spelling has cost the Internal Revenue Service a slot machine.

One of the more than 50 it picked up during a Northern Panhandle raid last January came from Pat's Tavern in Chester.

The warrant spelled the owner's name as Felix Kelogy.

Back went the machine Thursday after the IRS discovered the last name was Kology, not Kelogy, since the spelling error made the warrant defective.

Students, Police Clash

TOKYO (AP)—About 1,000 left-wing university students opposing the U.S.-Japan security treaty and a like number of policemen clashed in front of the Parliament Building today. Two policemen and three demonstrators were slightly injured. Two demonstrators were held for disorderly conduct.

Wrongdoing Is Denied

West Virginia Official's Use Of City Plane Upheld

Jack McDaniel, associate of Hune, Inc., today denied any wrongdoing in the use of his plane by the West Virginia state's attorney general for political campaigning last winter.

W. W. Barron of Charleston, seeking the Democratic nomination for governor, had declared that efforts were way off base to find something wrong with the arrangement whereby he used the private plane in his political bid.

Barron branded critical reports of his connection with the Ohio-based airplane as "part of the web of defamation spun by forces opposed to my nomination in their desperate but futile attempts to defeat me in this election."

He confirmed that he used a small plane owned by Hune, Inc., of East Liverpool, to take two political trips. Barron said the plane, while based at Charleston last winter, was used by other persons for non-political trips, but the cost of operating it was handled by the individuals concerned.

Principal officers of Hune, Inc. are Alton Thayer McDaniel of Chester and his two sons, Ronald Jack and Robert T. McDaniel. The firm distributed coin - operated vending machines and juke boxes.

Barron said he didn't know who owned the plane but found out and discontinued using it. Atty. William E. Conklin of Chester made arrangements for the use of the aircraft, Barron said.

"There is nothing wrong whatsoever in what I have done," he commented. "I am grateful to Bill Conklin for his efforts to assist me in this campaign. . .

New Major Rockslide Feared At Niagara Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—Large cracks at the crest of the American Falls have stirred fears of a third major rockslide that could crumble a section about the size of a football field.

The first slide, in 1954, tumbled 185,000 tons of rock over Prospect Point. In 1956, a 120,000-ton slide destroyed most of a power station, killing one man.

Midland Council Authorizes Change

State Will Handle Health Laws

Midland Borough Council Thursday evening passed a resolution giving the Pennsylvania Department of Health permission to take over the administration and enforcement of borough health laws.

Council informed by Dr. C. L. Wilbar Jr., medical director of Region III at Meadville, that the borough must set up a health board or allow the state to take over the health services by May 15, or the state would invoke action.

THERE WILL be no cost to the borough for the state service and Council consented, explaining that it is difficult to get members to serve on a board and to find a health officer and that health conditions merit attention.

The administrative codes of 1929 permit the state to administer the health laws of the borough.

As a first health problem for investigation, Council approved a motion by Councilman Joseph Hibbard, sanitation chairman, that the state be informed of complaints of residents about a junk yard on 2nd St. near the 1st St. School.

Council accepted a low bid of $2,475 by the Midland Auto Sales for a 1960 Dodge Dart for a police cruiser. The price is $3.293 with $818 allowed for a 1958 Dodge trade-in.

MIGLIORE FORD, the other bidder, asked $3.345 and a trade-in of $745. Council acted after a motion by Councilman Joseph D'Alesio.

Burgess Eli Corak, chairman of the labor committee, reported that agreement has been reached between the borough and Steelworkers Local 5059, to which the street department employes belong.

The contract calls for a 10-cent hourly increase and a $5 monthly increase for those on pension and retroactive to Jan. 1, as requested by the union. The contract is being prepared by Atty. Robert Masters, borough solicitor, for signing.

During a discussion of Daylight Saving time, it was brought out that the borough will adopt whatever dates the Crucible Steel Co. sets.

LESTER Trainer, traffic chairman, reported that only a few "kinks" remain in the traffic situation during mill shift changes at 3rd St. and Midland Ave.

He said the main problem now is left turns off Midland Ave. at 12th, 10th, 6th, and 3rd Sts. He said that his committee, which includes Councilmen Harvey Sponcer and Hibbard, will meet with the police department and make recommendations at Council's meeting April 28.

R. E. Steebner, borough engineer, will consult the Davey Tree Expert Co. of Pittsburgh about spraying trees. Councilman Raymond Presutti pointed out the company had been authorized to do the work sometime ago and had not.

Steve Germusa, president, reported that the Midland Area Polio Clinic, of which he is chairman, will hold a third clinic April 28 from 1 to 4 p. m. at the Steelworkers Hall.

COUNCIL, on a motion by Presutti, approved that any flags needed by the borough be bought from American Legion Post 481, which is conducting a sale.

Trainer, also Americanism chairman for the post, said that flags of all sizes are available and orders are being taken for delivery by May 30.

He said the flag sale is aimed to create more patriotism and greater display of the American flag. Though the post will make some profit, the flags are being sold at a great savings, he said.

The new, 50-star flags may be legally flown on Memorial Day though previously they were not to be flown until July 4th. Legionnaires will begin a concentrated house-to-house canvass of the Midland area Tuesday at 7 p. m., taking orders.

APPLICATIONS for personnel at the Veterans Memorial Swimming Pool this summer will be accepted until May 12 in the office of the borough secretary, after Council's approval and a motion by Sponsor that openings be advertised.

Personnel needs include a cashier, matron, baby pool attendant, five life guards, three boy checkers and four girl checkers. Though anyone may apply for the jobs, they are usually filled by Lincoln High students. Louis Granito will be manager again.

Sponcer and Steebner will inquire about prices for signs for the front of the Borough Building and report at the next meeting.

Council granted Dominic J. Scalera, 621 Beaver Ave., permission to cut curbing for a drive way. Work will be under supervision of the borough engineer.

A LETTER from Joseph Jonas, Midland area chairman of the fund raising campaign of the Beaver County Society for Crippled Children and Adults, thanked firemen and Council for their co-operation.

Mrs. C. K. O'Hara and Mrs. Malena Westlake, borough secretaries, will begin making reservations for borough officers and councilmen to attend the convention of borough officials June 26-29 at the Hilton Hotel in Pittsburgh.

Reading of officers' reports was dispensed with by Council approval. Bills were ordered paid.

Some Of New Library Books Are Likened To 'Spring Tonic'

Although grandma always prescribed a dose of sulphur and molasses in the spring of the year, the Carnegie Public Library suggests that some of the new books in the field of medicine may be just as beneficial.

Miss Frances Jones, librarian, said new acquisitions in this field include the following:

Dr. William Brams' "Your Blood Pressure and How to Live With It," Dr. George Crile's "Cancer and Common Sense" and Dr. "George Bland's "Arthritis, Medical Treatment and Home Care." This third doctor serves on the faculty of the Vermont College of Medicine. He lists all the clinics in the country which specialize in arthritic treatment. He emphasizes the problem of rheumatoid arthritis asserting that "People fear what they don't know infinitely more than what they do know."

A pair of books which study mental health problems bear unique titles: "Look Before You Leap," by John A. Nelson, and "Dr. Purgatory," by Dr. Jan Marks.

The first volume discusses 20 kinds of deviant minds, and the author has selected his title in the hope that he can prevent tragic marriages. The second book is the brutally honest self portrait of the struggle of a young doctor to free himself from the bondage of drug addiction.

The history of the development of medicine through the years makes us all more respectful of the level of modern science and the trials it suffered in arriving at its present state.

A German doctor, William Treue, has penned a history of the doctors who served government leaders. From the madness of George III and the private thoughts of Catherine the Great to anecdotes about Henrich Himmler, "Doctor at Court" is most enlightening.

The founder of scientific surgery, John Hunter, an unlettered Scotsman, is the hero of "The Reluctant Surgeon." The more recent events in 19th and 20th Century medicine are chronicled in Jurgen Thorwald's "The Triumph of Surgery." This is an absorbing odyssey written as a novel but based on fact.

Since the presidential campaigners are now in full bloom, two election-year publications should prove useful. Michael Amrine has written a biography of one of the fighting senators, "This Is Humphrey." A state senator in Massachussetts has collected 1,001 jokes, stories, and gems of wisdom under the title of "If Elected I Promise." Speakers and politicians — and hecklers — should find in this book a gold mine.

Humor and poetry can also come in for their share of attention in the spring. "Lyrics on Several Occasions" by Ira Gershwin should satisfy the sentimental. This Pullitzer prize winning author's annotations add lively interest. Bart McDowell tells about keeping house and the children while the little woman brought home the bacon in "I Was a Career Girl's Consort."

A trio of light-hearted novels is ready to greet the post - Easter reader. Jimmy Durante is credited with originating the title, "Don't Raise the Bridge, Lower the River." The author, Max Wilk, guarantees a stitch in the side from this genuinely funny novel. "The Education of Pretty Boy" by Havilah Babcock is a heart warming story of a hunter and a boy and his dog. Paul Gallico has followed up his tremendous success with "Mrs. 'Arris Goes to Paris" with "Mrs. 'Arris Goes to New York."

For pure escape with suspense via fiction, the library recommends Mary Stewart's "My Brother Michael."

Road Grader Bought By Madison Township

A contract for the purchase of a new road grader from the Galion Iron Works Co. of Galion has been authorized by Madison Township trustees.

The firm's bid of some $17,000 was the lowest of 4 received, and will allow the trustees a trade-in of around $5,600 on the present grader. The model has a diesel motor.

Bids were also received from the Construction & Machine Co., the Mark Tractor & Equipment Co. and the Rish Engineering Co.

The trustees will meet April 29, instead of April 28 as scheduled because of a meeting of the County Trustees and Clerks Association at Lisbon that night.

Blowout Occurs At Wrong Time; Driver Penalized

A district motorist whose car blew a tire — just as the State Highway Patrol was checking it for possible unsafe tires — was among seven area drivers penalized Thursday by County Judge Earl Spalding of East Palestine.

Donald Ray Marcum, 19, of the Sub-station was fined $10 and costs for operating an unsafe vehicle as a result of the citation issued by the Lisbon patrol, which had stopped him to inspect his auto.

Robert Loughley, 27, of Cannons Mills Rd. was fined $10 and costs for failure to halt at an intersection, and Ruel Adkins, 39, of 1910 Harvey Ave. forfeited a $20 bond on a similar charge.

Russell J. Beck, 18, of 252 E. High St., Lisbon, and Fred E. Campsey, 19, of 233 W. High St., Lisbon, were fined $10 and costs each for speeding.

John L. Thoman, 19, of Newell forfeited a $15 bond on a charge of driving a vehicle without a muffler.

August Lotze, 57, of Unity Rd. was fined $25 and costs for driving without a valid operator's license.

Ohio Man Is Killed When Car Hits Tree

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—Sholon E. McClead, 32, of Clinton (Summit County), was killed today when his car spun out of control on Ohio 93 and crashed into a tree north of Canal Fulton.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said the car was traveling 90 miles per hour when the mishap occurred. McClead was thrown out of the vehicle.

Motorist Cited In City Mishap

A 19-year-old East Liverpool motorist was fined $10 and costs today in Municipal Court on charges filed by police as the aftermath of a minor traffic mishap Thursday at 9:16 p. m. at E. 6th St. and Broadway.

James Lee Chapman, 713 Alton St., pleaded guilty before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of failure to stop within the assured clear distance. Police said Chapman's 1953 two - door sedan struck the rear of a 1954 sedan driven by Frank B. Miller, 17, of 3231 St. Clair Ave. while Miller was halted for a traffic light.

Chapman told police he was attempting to light a cigarette as he approached the intersection. He dropped the cigarette and while reaching for it on the floor of the car, his attention was distracted, he said. Chapman also said the traffic light was showing an amber signal and he thought Miller would proceed.

The crash damaged the rear bumper and license plate of Miller's auto and the front bumper of Chapman's car, police said. It was the only traffic mishap reported here overnight.

Rest Stop Report Given

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A report by the governor's committee investigating migrant labor employment and transportation says rest stops for such workers should be built in northwestern Ohio. The rest camps should include laundry, toilet and other facilities for workers imported by farmers in that area, the report adds.

Hancock Census 'Mop-Up' Slated

Interviewers are scheduled to begin "mopping up" operations Saturday as the 1960 census of population and housing enters its final stages, according to Thomas F. Wilshire of Fairmont, regional director of the West Virginia area including Hancock County.

The principal job of the "clean-up" interviewers will be accounting for the "blue" household questionnaires which were left in every fourth home during the first stage of the census which opened April 1.

A few persons have failed to mail the "blue" report form to the Census Bureau's district office. Also, some of the report forms which have been received have not been completely filled out, officials said.

The interviewers will make personal visits beginning Saturday to the households from which report forms have not been received and obtain the answers to the census questions.

Other answers will be obtained by telephone as the interviewers seek to fill in questions left blank by householders or answered incorrectly in the report forms already sent to the census office.

Hurt In Plane Mishap

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Claudine Fogle, 47, of suburban Englewood, was injured Thursday night when the light plane she was flying with her husband made a forced landing and flipped over near Brookville. She was treated for head cuts following the crash northwest of here. Her husband, Ray, 51, was not injured.

Mrs. C. K. O'Hara and Mrs. Malena Westlake, borough secretaries, will begin making reservations for borough officers and councilmen to attend the convention of borough officials June 26-29 at the Hilton Hotel in Pittsburgh.

Reading of officers' reports was dispensed with by Council approval. Bills were ordered paid.

Some Of New Library Books Are Likened To 'Spring Tonic'

Although grandma always prescribed a dose of sulphur and molasses in the spring of the year, the Carnegie Public Library suggests that some of the new books in the field of medicine may be just as beneficial.

Miss Frances Jones, librarian, said new acquisitions in this field include the following:

Dr. William Brams' "Your Blood Pressure and How to Live With It," Dr. George Crile's "Cancer and Common Sense" and Dr. "George Bland's "Arthritis, Medical Treatment and Home Care." This third doctor serves on the faculty of the Vermont College of Medicine. He lists all the clinics in the country which specialize in arthritic treatment. He emphasizes the problem of rheumatoid arthritis asserting that "People fear what they don't know infinitely more than what they do know."

A pair of books which study mental health problems bear unique titles: "Look Before You Leap," by John A. Nelson, and "Dr. Purgatory," by Dr. Jan Marks.

The first volume discusses 20 kinds of deviant minds, and the author has selected his title in the hope that he can prevent tragic marriages. The second book is the brutally honest self portrait of the struggle of a young doctor to free himself from the bondage of drug addiction.

The history of the development of medicine through the years makes us all more respectful of the level of modern science and the trials it suffered in arriving at its present state.

A German doctor, William Treue, has penned a history of the doctors who served government leaders. From the madness of George III and the private thoughts of Catherine the Great to anecdotes about Henrich Himmler, "Doctor at Court" is most enlightening.

The founder of scientific surgery, John Hunter, an unlettered Scotsman, is the hero of "The Reluctant Surgeon." The more recent events in 19th and 20th Century medicine are chronicled in Jurgen Thorwald's "The Triumph of Surgery." This is an absorbing odyssey written as a novel but based on fact.

Since the presidential campaigners are now in full bloom, two election-year publications should prove useful. Michael Amrine has written a biography of one of the fighting senators, "This Is Humphrey." A state senator in Massachussetts has collected 1,001 jokes, stories, and gems of wisdom under the title of "If Elected I Promise." Speakers and politicians — and hecklers — should find in this book a gold mine.

Humor and poetry can also come in for their share of attention in the spring. "Lyrics on Several Occasions" by Ira Gershwin should satisfy the sentimental. This Pullitzer prize winning author's annotations add lively interest. Bart McDowell tells about keeping house and the children while the little woman brought home the bacon in "I Was a Career Girl's Consort."

A trio of light-hearted novels is ready to greet the post - Easter reader. Jimmy Durante is credited with originating the title, "Don't Raise the Bridge, Lower the River." The author, Max Wilk, guarantees a stitch in the side from this genuinely funny novel. "The Education of Pretty Boy" by Havilah Babcock is a heart warming story of a hunter and a boy and his dog. Paul Gallico has followed up his tremendous success with "Mrs. 'Arris Goes to Paris" with "Mrs. 'Arris Goes to New York."

Road Grader Bought By Madison Township

A contract for the purchase of a new road grader from the Galion Iron Works Co. of Galion has been authorized by Madison Township trustees.

The firm's bid of some $17,000 was the lowest of 4 received, and will allow the trustees a trade-in of around $5,600 on the present grader. The model has a diesel motor.

Bids were also received from the Construction & Machine Co., the Mark Tractor & Equipment Co. and the Rish Engineering Co.

The trustees will meet April 29, instead of April 28 as scheduled because of a meeting of the County Trustees and Clerks Association at Lisbon that night.

Blowout Occurs At Wrong Time; Driver Penalized

A district motorist whose car blew a tire — just as the State Highway Patrol was checking it for possible unsafe tires — was among seven area drivers penalized Thursday by County Judge Earl Spalding of East Palestine.

Donald Ray Marcum, 19, of the Sub-station was fined $10 and costs for operating an unsafe vehicle as a result of the citation issued by the Lisbon patrol, which had stopped him to inspect his auto.

Robert Loughley, 27, of Cannons Mills Rd. was fined $10 and costs for failure to halt at an intersection, and Ruel Adkins, 39, of 1910 Harvey Ave. forfeited a $20 bond on a similar charge.

Russell J. Beck, 18, of 252 E. High St., Lisbon, and Fred E. Campsey, 19, of 233 W. High St., Lisbon, were fined $10 and costs each for speeding.

John L. Thoman, 19, of Newell forfeited a $15 bond on a charge of driving a vehicle without a muffler.

August Lotze, 57, of Unity Rd. was fined $25 and costs for driving without a valid operator's license.

Ohio Man Is Killed When Car Hits Tree

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—Sholon E. McClead, 32, of Clinton (Summit County), was killed today when his car spun out of control on Ohio 93 and crashed into a tree north of Canal Fulton.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said the car was traveling 90 miles per hour when the mishap occurred. McClead was thrown out of the vehicle.

Motorist Cited In City Mishap

A 19-year-old East Liverpool motorist was fined $10 and costs today in Municipal Court on charges filed by police as the aftermath of a minor traffic mishap Thursday at 9:16 p. m. at E. 6th St. and Broadway.

James Lee Chapman, 713 Alton St., pleaded guilty before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of failure to stop within the assured clear distance. Police said Chapman's 1953 two - door sedan struck the rear of a 1954 sedan driven by Frank B. Miller, 17, of 3231 St. Clair Ave. while Miller was halted for a traffic light.

Chapman told police he was attempting to light a cigarette as he approached the intersection. He dropped the cigarette and while reaching for it on the floor of the car, his attention was distracted, he said. Chapman also said the traffic light was showing an amber signal and he thought Miller would proceed.

The crash damaged the rear bumper and license plate of Miller's auto and the front bumper of Chapman's car, police said. It was the only traffic mishap reported here overnight.

Rest Stop Report Given

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A report by the governor's committee investigating migrant labor employment and transportation says rest stops for such workers should be built in northwestern Ohio. The rest camps should include laundry, toilet and other facilities for workers imported by farmers in that area, the report adds.

Hancock Census 'Mop-Up' Slated

Interviewers are scheduled to begin "mopping up" operations Saturday as the 1960 census of population and housing enters its final stages, according to Thomas F. Wilshire of Fairmont, regional director of the West Virginia area including Hancock County.

The principal job of the "clean-up" interviewers will be accounting for the "blue" household questionnaires which were left in every fourth home during the first stage of the census which opened April 1.

A few persons have failed to mail the "blue" report form to the Census Bureau's district office. Also, some of the report forms which have been received have not been completely filled out, officials said.

The interviewers will make personal visits beginning Saturday to the households from which report forms have not been received and obtain the answers to the census questions.

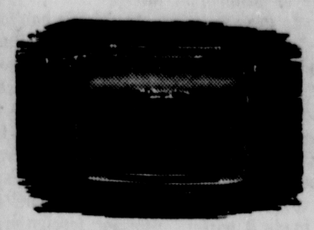

Other answers will be obtained by telephone as the interviewers seek to fill in questions left blank by householders or answered incorrectly in the report forms already sent to the census office.

Hurt In Plane Mishap

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Claudine Fogle, 47, of suburban Englewood, was injured Thursday night when the light plane she was flying with her husband made a forced landing and flipped over near Brookville. She was treated for head cuts following the crash northwest of here. Her husband, Ray, 51, was not injured.

Never Sell The Tinkerer Short

It is not necessary to understand all the gadgets being put into orbit to be convinced that the beginning of the outer space era is making the beginning of the age of aviation look like an event from medieval history. The jump from ground to air took 40 years. The missile era has materialized in months.

The newest satellite thrown into space by the Defense Department's Advanced Research Projects Agency is being described as a navigation aid. Its radio signals should make it possible in years to come for planes and ships to fix their positions precisely.

Its immediate predecessor in space was a picture-taking satellite that has made it possible to see the earth from aloft. Before that, a satellite was lobbed into orbit around the sun. These are U.S. achievements—latest of a sensational series that has included a talking satellite.

They are bearing out a prediction made when the United States was put into an embarrassing position by Russia's astonishing progress with rockets, missiles and satellites.

THE PREDICTION was that the impetus provided by the Russian-delivered jolt to American pride in being the country that got things done while other countries were thinking about getting started would carry the United States to pre-eminence.

Everything would be tried. Ideas would be a dime a dozen. Yankee ingenuity, which had been put under a cloud, would burst through like the summer sun after a thunderstorm. The dogged determination that made the clipper ships the pace setters on the oceans of the world and made the American airplane the world standard for reliable performance would make American missiles the best.

There is a peculiar psyghology involved in this.

Americans habitually underrate themselves in competitive situations. To hear them describe their shortcomings when they first encounter a Japanese Zero, a Russian MIG, a German Stuka, or the Red Chinese infantry, the United States is out of it.

Everybody's educational systems are better than America's.

Foreign diplomats are slicker, foreign food superior, foreign products more desirable and, naturally, foreign missileers more formidable.

But it always turns out the same way; at least it always has turned out the same way.

STARTING WITH the supposedly unbeatable mercenaries sent here by the British to wipe the colonists off the earth and coming up to date with the Russian rocketeers who were so far ahead it looked like no contest, Americans always have worked so hard to rise above their inferiority that they have astonished themselves, their carping politicos to the contrary notwithstanding.

They are going to do it in the missile era as surely as they did it in the airplane era, the automobile era and not so long before that in the covered wagon era.

Uncle Sam may be slow in starting and a little dopey when he does get started, but he is always so ashamed of his shortcomings he ends up by standing 10 feet tall.

What We Render Unto Caesar

The current belief about federal taxation runs like this:

Federal taxes are high but relatively painless because they're collected and spent by remote control; they're out of sight and out of mind. They are easier to bear, therefore, than local taxes.

The belief is well-founded.

Only once a year, on the closing date for income tax filing, do federal taxes come into painful focus for most taxpayers.

The rest of the time, most taxpayers give less thought about $100 shipped to Washington for spending, minus bureaucratic handling charges, than they give to $1 collected locally.

They are less ruffled by a federal foul-up that causes a couple billion dollars to be piddled away on a military project that was abandoned before it was half finished than a miscalculation of a few thousand dollars on some close-to-home project they can see with their own eyes.

WHEN IT IS proposed that they spend a million dollars of public money on a local project for their direct benefit, they choke up with misgivings. But when they are informed that the federal government is getting ready to spend three-quarters of a billion for the uplift of the underprivileged in a remote part of the world, the information is greeted with a shrug and a sigh.

Highway construction that is too expensive to be justifiable if local taxpayers must pay for it becomes not only justifiable but niggardly if the money is going to be forwarded from Washington.

Taxpayers turn pale with consternation at the staggering cost of educating the young, until someone suggests that if the money came from Washington it would take the sting out of this responsibility to the rising generation.

This is the mass psychology of the times —a phenomenon that surely will be as baffling to historians as it is to anyone who tries to analyze it currently.

THE TAXING power that has been bestowed unquestioningly on the federal government while taxing power is given only grudgingly and sometimes not at all to state and local governments has been one of the deep curiosities of the 20th century in the United States.

There is no counterpart anywhere in the world. Even in Britain, where taxes are confiscatory, all the taxing power resides in the central government, with result that total taxes are not as great as they are in the United States, where the federal government skims off the cream and state and local governments compete for the skimmed milk.

Year in and year out proposals are heard occasionally for doing something about it. Taxpayers are reminded endlessly of the disproportionate allocation of their wealth when it is divided up in Washington. Those who pay most get the least in return. Those who pay the least get the most. If there had been a deliberate intent to subvert the principles of equity under a federal system, it could not have worked more successfully than the federal tax system has worked, with a tremendous boost from the progressive income tax law.

WHAT WE RENDER unto Caesar, whether it's the traditional levy for the common defense or the latest proposal for letting Caesar pay for the care of the aged ill, is rendered with no thought to Caesar's right to collect it in such vast portions without being subject to the same skeptical scrutiny given to every local and state expenditure.

It's a thought to while away the drab, bleak days after another year's settlement for federal income taxes. Most of us will now go back to work to spend the next three months or so to earn Caesar's share before we can claim a penny for our own.

Geography Lesson Up To Date

Africa Freedom Day on April 15 is one of the prearranged climaxes of the worldwide Year of Africa, proclaimed for 1960. Some of the extemporaneous climaxes this year are going to get more attention than the formal occasion. But for those of us who learned our geography a few years ago, the formal occasion is of more than casual interest.

When we reached the Africa section of the geography book, there were four independent countries in Africa. They were Egypt, Ethiopia, Liberia and the Union of South Africa. Egypt, however, was limited in its independence by an understanding with Great Britain.

Today there are seven African nations that have emerged since World War II. They are Libya, Sudan, Morocco, Tunisia, Ghana and Cameroon. Before the end of the year, they will be joined by French Togoland on April 27, Congo on June 30, Somalia on July 1 and Nigeria on Oct. 1.

This is the African background for violence in South Africa.

This is the scope and sweep of African nationalism that has set the Dark Continent ablaze in half a generation.

No one who has been neglecting his geography lessons since leaving school can properly visualize an African in which vast regions no longer are colored according to the colonial power exploiting them.

In Africa today, there are 11 independent countries, not four, and by autumn there will be 15 independent countries. All of them will be governed by Africans whose skins are not white. And unless the white Afrikaans —the descendants of the Dutch settlers in South African—can learn how to rule the Negroes in their countries without whips and clubs, there may be no place in Africa for white men. Even Algeria, the stronghold of the French, may be divided into French and independent areas, to satisfy its nationalists.

Africa Freedom Day would have been unthinkable when most of us gave our last thought to geography. But in 1960 African freedom is the most dynamic new political force of mid-century. Those who fail to comprehend it will be missing the meaning of one of the tides of history.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

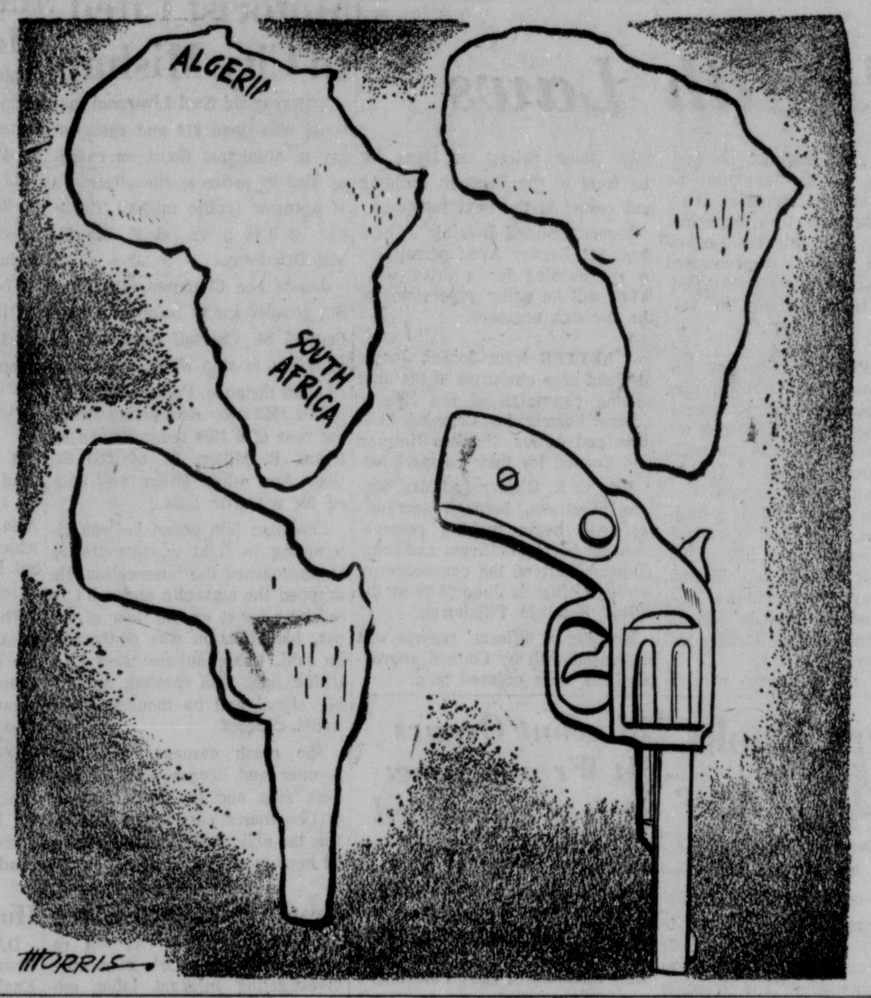

Moss Hart, who fought his way from slums and poverty to the top as a playwright, director and best seller author, is on Yale's 1960 list of inspirational speakers as a "Fellow in Arts and Sciences" and will lecture with some of the world's foremost intellectual leaders. In a sense Yale now combines the Whiffenpoof song with "You Gotta Have Hart."

It's a long hop from the East Side tenements and public schools to the rostrums of our great universities, but Moss Hart in his "Act One" has a single sentence that should be a great help to the baffled easily discouraged youths of today's campuses: "I grew up in an atmosphere of unrelieved poverty. The dark brown taste of being poor was forever in my mouth and the grim smell of actual want at the end of my nose. But I had a goad and a goal: the goad of poverty and the goal of a definite purpose."

SUGGESTION for a Democratic slogan in the fight to get into the White House: May this house be safe from ELEPHANTS . . . Five week recess will be taken in Geneva disarmament talks. The boys can't stand working to the point where they might seat or miss a cocktail party . . . France wants a seat on the atomic club. Hot seat, of course.

Bogus taxi drivers have been arrested in New York carrying hatchets, guns, knives and other weapons. They have at least the equipment necessary to get across town in traffic . . . "Cambridge Group" is active in Democratic campaign. Somebody must have told it that Nixon is a Yale or Princeton man. (What makes it think Harvard can do better in football under a Democrat?)

Evolution–Or Revolution?

Teamsters Push Political 'DRIVE'

By Victor Riesel

There will be nothing slow about the word "DRIVE" in the Teamsters new jargon. It refers to their big, heavily-oiled machine developed especially for use in the '60 election. "DRIVE" is a word made up of the initials of "Democratic, Republican, Independent Voter Education" program into which the mammoth union is beginning to pour millions of dollars. Before you put this down as corny, remember that it sprouts from the glass-walled hothouses of Madison Avenue.

Victor Riesel

The Teamsters want to elect a congressional bloc and they're willing to pay for it. Their most ambitious move is to go into the movie and television film producing field so they can reach millions of homes this fall.

Apparently the hucksters have convinced the Teamsters political action chief, Sidney Zagri, to forego beauty for talent in their "audio-visual" propaganda. The Teamsters already are negotiating with some senators and representatives for appearances in these shows.

THERE WAS NO NEED to eavesdrop on the recent luncheon discussion between Zagri and California's Rep. Jimmie Roosevelt. The Teamsters' contribution to the culture of the coming campaign was announced in a report the other day by Jim Hoffa's headquarters to his members. This is the same report which unveiled "DRIVE."

"From time to time, audio-visual material, such as the recent Wayne Morse film, will be prepared by the international union. A series of film telecasts by congressmen and senators is planned and will be made available periodically on issues affecting Teamster membership," said the report.

This "DRIVE" to educate voters will not exactly ignore the Teamsters themselves. "DRIVE" also will have the newest of Madison Avenue saturation type political sales approach. This will be built on a red and blue card system.

"Operation Red and Blue" means that a Teamsters political chief in each of the nation's precincts will be knocking on the door of each Teamster. The precinct steward will want to know just how each driver and warehouseman has registered and how he has voted in the past. This means covering 1,600,000 homes, but their big brother has it all worked out in one of the most fantastic political programs to be launched.

THE TEAMSTERS first costly move will be the red card file. This means making a street-by-street card index of every city into the country. This will be broken down into areas. Each street will be checked to see if a Teamsters member lives on it. Then the names will be listed by house address.

With this red file as the guide, the regional Teamsters joint council will send a man into each block to survey the brother's political philosophy, if any.

This will be recorded in the blue file. This will mean a card for every Teamster's home. Each card will note the member's registration, party affiliation and willingness "to volunteer" for political action. These will then be bundled into batches of "14 or 15."

This small bloc of Teamsters will be under the watchful eye of a neighborhood "political stewardess." She'll report to full time district political activists. In turn, the Teamsters charge d' political affairs down below will pass his information on up and soon enough it will be at the national headquarters in Washington. On its way up, it will go through a series of complicated colored district maps showing who on what street has not yet registered or volunteered.

Eventually the rank and file will be told for whom to volunteer and vote, of course. Before the candidates are "suggested" to the membership, the nominees will be screened for everything from their attitude toward Hoffa to their "cloakroom behavior."

If it works, there will be a third party in everything but name.

Back In The Picture

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Republican party leaders last fall treated Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York like a gate-crasher at an exclusive party where Vice President Richard M. Nixon was the guest of honor.

So out he went, but under his own power.

The frigid treatment he got so chilled his presidential ambitions —or at least his enthusiasm for making a race of it against Nixon —that the day after last Christmas he withdrew and left Nixon alone in the field.

What he said and what he left unsaid have to be balanced against each other. He said he was no longer a candidate but he didn't say he would object if the Republicans at their convention this summer decided to draft him.

He made no bones about the way Republicans around the country treated him. The professional Republican politicians, that is.

He said: "The great majority of those who will control the Republican convention stand opposed to any contest for the nomination."

But that didn't dim what seemed to be his belief he is a better man for the presidency than Nixon. From that day to this he has never once given his backing to Nixon by name.

And now, just as Nixon is running into some small bumps, comes the news that Rockefeller is going to resume his travels among Republicans around the country.

Nixon, who seemed a shoo-in for the Republicans' presidential nomination at their convention, has stayed pretty mum all year, as if speeches and statements on where he stands would be practically unnecessary till the campaign begins.

This was a little reminiscent—but in reverse — of New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in the 1948 presidential race.

Dewey did a lot of talking in the pre-convention days that year when he was trying to beat Sen. Robert A. Taft and Harold Stassen for the Republican moninations.

When he finally got it he seemed to believe what the pollsters told him: That he was a cinch to beat President Truman.

During the campaign Dewey acted like a man who felt so sure he'd win that he didn't think it necessary to commit himself on the issues or promise much when he got elected.

It was a disaster. Truman worked his head off. His victory over Dewey—it was the second presidential campaign Dewey had lost—sent the governor to the political showers permanently. He's never run for anything since.

Now Nixon doesn't know whether he's hearing the sounds of distant thunder. But a couple of little clouds have drifted across his political sun. His ratings in the polls have dipped.

Last week in total votes cast in the Wisconsin presidential primary he trailed the two Democrats, Sens. John F. Kennedy and Hubert H. Humphrey. True, he didn't campaign in Wisconsin but he was unopposed for the Republican vote.

This week, again running unopposed but this time in the Illinois Republican presidential primary, he was more than 150,000 votes behind the total rolled up by Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas, running unopposed for another Senate term. Nixon didn't campaign in Illinois, either.

But, on the heels of the Illinois results, the Denver (Colo.) Post editorially said "Rockefeller appears to be the most attractive Republican candidate that could be offered to the people of the United States this year. . . ."

Here in Washington some mumbling among Republicans began: That Nixon had better start talking and campaigning before the convention. But Sen. Everett Dirksen, Senate Republican leader, seemed to think things were going just dandy for Nixon.

"I think," Dirksen said, "his present technique is pretty good."

Now Rockefeller will begin moving around again, although this time campaigning in other states for Republicans running for various jobs. And he will take part in ceremonies.

So he'll be getting out among Republicans again. He may not be making a direct pitch for the Republican nomination but he'll be pitching the Rockefeller personality all over the country.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Chief of Police John Fultz at Wellsville issued an order against corner loafing.

The Rev. F. Eppling Reinartz took up his duties as pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, succeeding his father, the Rev. J. C. Reinartz, who resigned after 44 years of service.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Wellsville High School's dramatic club won a "superior rating" at the one-act play festival at Kent University with its production, "No, Not The Russians."

Road-edge reflector signals were installed by the Ohio Department of Highways on heavily-traveled roads in seven counties.

The Pennsylvania Railroad completed the installation of reflector type railway crossing signs at 5th and 9th Sts., Chester.

TEN YEARS AGO — Mrs. Donald Gass was returned as regent of the Rebecca Griscom Chapter of Daughters of America.

Clearing the right-of-way for the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd., the state Highway Department offered for sale 18 more homes and five outbuildings.

The Big Questions

By David Lawrence

Candidates' Abilities Unknown By Voters

What sort of "image" of a man's fitness for the presidency are the American people getting as they witness the battle among the various candidates for the Democratic nomination? Can they get their "image" out of a reading of speculative analyses of the statistics of a primary election in either Wisconsin or West Virginia? Certainly the speeches as reported in the press are of a diffuse nature and rather fragmentary.

David Lawrence

Maybe the television appearances help prospective voters somewhat to form certain impressions. But it would seem that the public hasn't yet crystallized its thinking about any of the candidates.

Some of the best politicians in the country, with years of contact with the voters, are in the U.S. Senate. What they say in public is the tactful or the partisan observation expected from them. What they say in private has more meaning.

TALKING PRIVATELY with an important senator on the Democratic side who comes from a big Northern state but who isn't himself a candidate, this correspondent asked first for an appraisal of the religious issue. He said:

"It seems to date to have benefited Kennedy somewhat, but I frankly don't know what countereffect it may have. If Republicans did cross over in Wisconsin to vote for Kennedy, then we may expect Protestant Democrats to begin crossing over to the Republican side in the election. I deplore the issue in politics and, interestingly enough, we have elected on the Democratic ticket many governors who are Catholics, and the issue hasn't cut too deeply into the campaigns."

The question was then asked as to what impression Sen. Kennedy has made thus far and what obstacles he faces. Here is the reply:

"I think that Kennedy's principal difficulty is that he is regarded as a boy. He is attractive in appearance. But what do the voters know of his experience? He has never been governor of a state, and he has had no experience in business. Has he executive ability? Is he subject to group pressures? Has he maturity of judgment? These are questions the voters are going to discuss among themselves, more than religion."

JUST NOW Sen. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Sen. Humphrey of Minnesota are in the limelight. It would be interesting if the results of some scientific poll were available to show how much the people really know about Messrs. Kennedy and Humphrey and their backgrounds in public life. In the Congressional Directory, which publishes brief biographies as supplied by each senator and representative, the following appears:

"Hubert H. Humphrey, Democratic - Farmer - Labor, of Waverly, Minn.; born in Wallace, S.D., May 27, 1911; educated in South Dakota schools; graduated with degree from Denver College of Pharmacy; University of Minnesota with A.B. degree, University of Louisiana with M.A. degree.

"State director war production, training 1942; assistant director War Manpower Commission, 1943; professor in political science, MacAlester College, 1943 and 1944; married Muriel Buck; four children.

"Elected mayor of Minneapolis in 1945 and 1947; member of First Congregational Church of Minnesota, American Political Science Assn., American Public Administration Society, Phi Beta Kappa and Delta Sigma Rho; elected to the U.S. Senate on Nov. 2, 1948; re-elected to Senate, Nov. 2, 1954; American delegate to United Nations 1956-57."

Listed also for Sen. Humphrey are three honorary degrees from colleges and universities.

SEN. KENNEDY'S biography gives a list of 16 honorary degrees he has received, half of them from Catholic and half of them from non-Catholic colleges. On other data, the Kennedy sketch reads as follows:

"John Fitzgerald Kennedy, Democrat, of Boston, Mass.; born in Brookline, Mass., May 29, 1917; Harvard University, 1940, bachelor of science cum laude; London School of Economics; joined Navy in September 1941; served in PT boats in Pacific; retired in April 1945; newspaper correspondent; married Jacqueline Lee Bouvier, Sept. 12, 1953.

"Author of 'Why England Slept' and 'Profiles in Courage'; Patriotism Award, University of Notre Dame, 1957; winner of Pulitzer Prize and Christopher Book Award for 1956; elected to Harvard board of overseers, 1957; elected to the 80th Congress on Nov. 5, 1946, re-elected to 81st and 82nd Congresses; elected to the U.S. Senate Nov. 4, 1952; re-elected Nov. 4, 1958."

Much more detail has been written, of course, about the lives of these two senators and published in the campaign material distributed by their supporters, but the truth is the public needs more information from disinterested sources.

What executive ability, for example, does each candidate possess? What is his faculty for dealing with specific problems of government? What is his basic character in making decisions? Does he "go with the tide," or does he resolve problems in a fair and equitable way irrespective of surface opinion? How would he stack up in international conferences "at the Summit?" In fact, is he really of presidential stature?

These are the questions to which the voters wish to know the answers.

Initiative Stifled

By Raymond Moley

Thousands of small, efficient operations are at the heart of our fabulous and unparalleled industrial system. A great many of them might very well contribute immeasurably to the defense effort. They will not.

For defense procurement is a chaos of declared policies which cannot be reconciled with existing practices. Small manufacturing concerns fear for what they may lose in money, time, know-how, and skills in such a jungle.

Suppose a small engineering firm devises an ingenious part for a missile. Under regulations this firm must give up its drawings. There is a good possibility that they will eventually be used by the Department of Defense to shop around among competitors for other firms that will produce the part at a lower price. This is one of the perilous chances.

DENHAM SCOTT of the Garrett Corp., a Los Angeles aircraft and missile components manufacturer, has given some startling testimony to Congress on this complex subject.

The small businessman who has products of his own design to offer has reason for loud complaints. He must "dig into his own pocket to finance the sales promotion and the brainwork necessary to design, produce, test, and refine" a product.

"The popular misconception that the government pays for all of the development in weapons systems and other programs is a monumental fiction," Scott says.

The small subcontractor is low man on the totem pole, beneath prime contractors and their subcontractors. He is faced by a maze of "weirdly assorted contractual documents" that reveal that he can negotiate only with his direct purchaser who, in turn, is restricted by terms of his own contract.

Scott shows, among other things, how the Department of Defense and its service branches define "proprietary data" so that much of what is ordinarily and by common law recognized as being a trade secret and therefore proprietary has been brushed aside.

Two regulations seriously disturb these small businesses. The first tells them that they must prepare a complete set of technical data suitable for manufacture by others; the other, that if the government determines from an examination of their drawings and process specifications that their design and "know-how" are discoverable by the process of "reverse engineering," it will brand their operation "non-proprietary." In practice, no one need go through the motions of "reverse engineering." The drawings are simply handed over.

SCOTT OBSERVES, "It's obvious that with modern chemistry and metallurgy virtually all compositions of matter can be broken down; similarly, if enough pieces are measured and probability theories applied, tolerances can be determined. The Department of Defense, therefore, is using a unique definition and practice which disposes of the problem of proprietary rights by disclaiming them as virtually non-existent."

Congress now has before it a good many bills dealing with defense procurement that might change these conditions and others and thus shorten our time between "ideas and hardware."

But we are pounded by the utterances of those already seeking public office or preparing to run this coming fall. More spending, they say, is the only solution to our defense shortcomings. Significant facts such as those which Scott points up go unnoticed in the din.

Never Sell The Tinkerer Short

It is not necessary to understand all the gadgets being put into orbit to be convinced that the beginning of the outer space era is making the beginning of the age of aviation look like an event from medieval history. The jump from ground to air took 40 years. The missile era has materialized in months.

The newest satellite thrown into space by the Defense Department's Advanced Research Projects Agency is being described as a navigation aid. Its radio signals should make it possible in years to come for planes and ships to fix their positions precisely.

Its immediate predecessor in space was a picture-taking satellite that has made it possible to see the earth from aloft. Before that, a satellite was lobbed into orbit around the sun. These are U.S. achievements—latest of a sensational series that has included a talking satellite.

They are bearing out a prediction made when the United States was put into an embarrassing position by Russia's astonishing progress with rockets, missiles and satellites.

THE PREDICTION was that the impetus provided by the Russian-delivered jolt to American pride in being the country that got things done while other countries were thinking about getting started would carry the United States to pre-eminence.

Everything would be tried. Ideas would be a dime a dozen. Yankee ingenuity, which had been put under a cloud, would burst through like the summer sun after a thunderstorm. The dogged determination that made the clipper ships the pace setters on the oceans of the world and made the American airplane the world standard for reliable performance would make American missiles the best.

There is a peculiar psychology involved in this.

Americans habitually underrate themselves in competitive situations. To hear them describe their shortcomings when they first encounter a Japanese Zero, a Russian MIG, a German Stuka, or the Red Chinese infantry, the United States is out of it.

Everybody's educational systems are better than America's.

Foreign diplomats are slicker, foreign food superior, foreign products more desirable and, naturally, foreign missileers more formidable.

But it always turns out the same way; at least it always has turned out the same way.

STARTING WITH the supposedly unbeatable mercenaries sent here by the British to wipe the colonists off the earth and coming up to date with the Russian rocketeers who were so far ahead it looked like no contest, Americans always have worked so hard to rise above their inferiority that they have astonished themselves, their carping politicos to the contrary notwithstanding.

They are going to do it in the missile era as surely as they did it in the airplane era, the automobile era and not so long before that in the covered wagon era.

Uncle Sam may be slow in starting and a little dopey when he does get started, but he is always so ashamed of his shortcomings he ends up by standing 10 feet tall.

What We Render Unto Caesar

The current belief about federal taxation runs like this:

Federal taxes are high but relatively painless because they're collected and spent by remote control; they're out of sight and out of mind. They are easier to bear, therefore, than local taxes.

The belief is well-founded.

Only once a year, on the closing date for income tax filing, do federal taxes come into painful focus for most taxpayers.

The rest of the time, most taxpayers give less thought about $100 shipped to Washington for spending, minus bureaucratic handling charges, than they give to $1 collected locally.

They are less ruffled by a federal foul-up that causes a couple billion dollars to be piddled away on a military project that was abandoned before it was half finished than a miscalculation of a few thousand dollars on some close-to-home project they can see with their own eyes.

WHEN IT IS proposed that they spend a million dollars of public money on a local project for their direct benefit, they choke up with misgivings. But when they are informed that the federal government is getting ready to spend three-quarters of a billion for the uplift of the underprivileged in a remote part of the world, the information is greeted with a shrug and a sigh.

Highway construction that is too expensive to be justifiable if local taxpayers must pay for it becomes not only justifiable but niggardly if the money is going to be forwarded from Washington.

Taxpayers turn pale with consternation at the staggering cost of educating the young, until someone suggests that if the money came from Washington it would take the sting out of this responsibility to the rising generation.

This is the mass psychology of the times —a phenomenon that surely will be as baffling to historians as it is to anyone who tries to analyze it currently.

THE TAXING power that has been bestowed unquestioningly on the federal government while taxing power is given only grudgingly and sometimes not at all to state and local governments has been one of the deep curiosities of the 20th century in the United States.

There is no counterpart anywhere in the world. Even in Britain, where taxes are confiscatory, all the taxing power resides in the central government, with result that total taxes are not as great as they are in the United States, where the federal government skims off the cream and state and local governments compete for the skimmed milk.

Year in and year out proposals are heard occasionally for doing something about it. Taxpayers are reminded endlessly of the disproportionate allocation of their wealth when it is divided up in Washington. Those who pay most get the least in return. Those who pay the least get the most. If there had been a deliberate intent to subvert the principles of equity under a federal system, it could not have worked more successfully than the federal tax system has worked, with a tremendous boost from the progressive income tax law.

WHAT WE RENDER unto Caesar, whether it's the traditional levy for the common defense or the latest proposal for letting Caesar pay for the care of the aged ill, is rendered with no thought to Caesar's right to collect it in such vast portions without being subject to the same skeptical scrutiny given to every local and state expenditure.

It's a thought to while away the drab, bleak days after another year's settlement for federal income taxes. Most of us will now go back to work to spend the next three months or so to earn Caesar's share before we can claim a penny for our own.

Geography Lesson Up To Date

Africa Freedom Day on April 15 is one of the prearranged climaxes of the worldwide Year of Africa, proclaimed for 1960. Some of the extemporaneous climaxes this year are going to get more attention than the formal occasion. But for those of us who learned our geography a few years ago, the formal occasion is of more than casual interest.

When we reached the Africa section of the geography book, there were four independent countries in Africa. They were Egypt, Ethiopia, Liberia and the Union of South Africa. Egypt, however, was limited in its independence by an understanding with Great Britain.

Today there are seven African nations that have emerged since World War II. They are Libya, Sudan, Morocco, Tunisia, Ghana and Cameroon. Before the end of the year, they will be joined by French Togoland on April 27, Congo on June 30, Somalia on July 1 and Nigeria on Oct. 1.

This is the African background for violence in South Africa.

This is the scope and sweep of African nationalism that has set the Dark Continent ablaze in half a generation.

No one who has been neglecting his geography lessons since leaving school can properly visualize an African in which vast regions no longer are colored according to the colonial power exploiting them.

In Africa today, there are 11 independent countries, not four, and by autumn there will be 15 independent countries. All of them will be governed by Africans whose skins are not white. And unless the white Afrikaans —the descendants of the Dutch settlers in South African—can learn how to rule the Negroes in their countries without whips and clubs, there may be no place in Africa for white men. Even Algeria, the stronghold of the French, may be divided into French and independent areas, to satisfy its nationalists.

Africa Freedom Day would have been unthinkable when most of us gave our last thought to geography. But in 1960 African freedom is the most dynamic new political force of mid-century. Those who fail to comprehend it will be missing the meaning of one of the tides of history.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

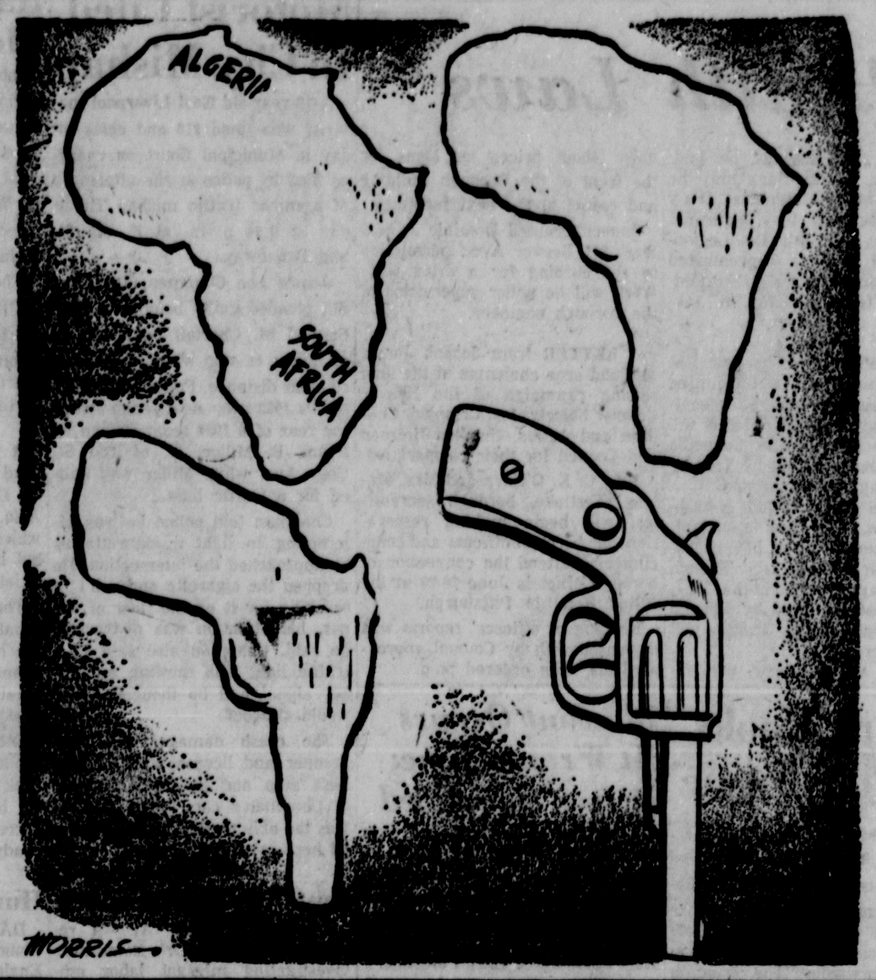

Moss Hart, who fought his way from slums and poverty to the top as a playwright, director and best seller author, is on Yale's 1960 list of inspirational speakers as a "Fellow in Arts and Sciences" and will lecture with some of the world's foremost intellectual leaders. In a sense Yale now combines the Whiffenpoof song with "You Gotta Have Hart."

It's a long hop from the East Side tenements and public schools to the rostrums of our great universities, but Moss Hart in his "Act One" has a single sentence that should be a great help to the baffled easily discouraged youths of today's campuses: "I grew up in an atmosphere of unrelieved poverty. The dark brown taste of being poor was forever in my mouth and the grim smell of actual want at the end of my nose. But I had a good and a goal: the goad of poverty and the goal of a definite purpose."

SUGGESTION for a Democratic slogan in the fight to get into the White House: May this house be safe from ELEPHANTS . . . Five week recess will be taken in Geneva disarmament talks. The boys can't stand working to the point where they might seat or miss a cocktail party . . . France wants a seat on the atomic club. Hot seat, of course.

Bogus taxi drivers have been arrested in New York carrying hatchets, guns, knives and other weapons. They have at least the equipment necessary to get across town in traffic . . . "Cambridge Group" is active in Democratic campaign. Somebody must have told it that Nixon is a Yale or Princeton man. (What makes it think Harvard can do better in football under a Democrat?)

Evolution—Or Revolution?

Teamsters Push Political 'DRIVE'

By Victor Riesel

There will be nothing slow about the word "DRIVE" in the Teamsters new jargon. It refers to their big, heavily-oiled machine developed especially for use in the '60 election. "DRIVE" is a word made up of the initials of "Democratic, Republican, Independent Voter Education" program into which the mammoth union is beginning to pour millions of dollars. Before you put this down as corny, remember that it sprouts from the glass-walled hothouses of Madison Avenue.

Victor Riesel

The Teamsters want to elect a congressional bloc and they're willing to pay for it. Their most ambitious move is to go into the movie and television film producing field so they can reach millions of homes this fall.

Apparently the hucksters have convinced the Teamsters political action chief, Sidney Zagri, to forego beauty for talent in their "audio-visual" propaganda. The Teamsters already are negotiating with some senators and representatives for appearances in these shows.

THERE WAS NO NEED to eavesdrop on the recent luncheon discussion between Zagri and California's Rep. Jimmie Roosevelt. The Teamsters' contribution to the culture of the coming campaign was announced in a report the other day by Jim Hoffa's headquarters to his members. This is the same report which unveiled "DRIVE."

"From time to time, audio-visual material, such as the recent Wayne Morse film, will be prepared by the international union. A series of film telecasts by congressmen and senators is planned and will be made available periodically on issues affecting Teamster membership," said the report.

This "DRIVE" to educate voters will not exactly ignore the Teamsters themselves. "DRIVE" also will have the newest of Madison Avenue saturation type political sales approach. This will be built on a red and blue card system.

"Operation Red and Blue" means that a Teamsters political chief in each of the nation's precincts will be knocking on the door of each Teamster. The precinct steward will want to know just how each driver and warehouseman has registered and how he has voted in the past. This means covering 1,600,000 homes, but their big brother has it all worked out in one of the most fantastic political programs to be launched.

THE TEAMSTERS first costly move will be the red card file. This means making a street-by-street card index of every city into the country. This will be broken down into areas. Each street will be checked to see if a Teamsters member lives on it. Then the names will be listed by house address.

With this red file as the guide, the regional Teamsters joint council will send a man into each block to survey the brother's political philosophy, if any.

This will be recorded in the blue file. This will mean a card for every Teamster's home. Each card will note the member's registration, party affiliation and willingness "to volunteer" for political action. These will then be bundled into batches of "14 or 15."

This small bloc of Teamsters will be under the watchful eye of a neighborhood "political steward-ess." She'll report to full time district political activists. In turn, the Teamsters charge d' political affairs down below will pass his information on up and soon enough it will be at the national headquarters in Washington. On its way up, it will go through a series of complicated colored district maps showing who on what street has not yet registered or volunteered.

Eventually the rank and file will be told for whom to volunteer and vote, of course. Before the candidates are "suggested" to the membership, the nominees will be screened for everything from their attitude toward Hoffa to their "cloakroom behavior."

If it works, there will be a third party in everything but name.

Back In The Picture

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Republican party leaders last fall treated Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York like a gate-crasher at an exclusive party where Vice President Richard M. Nixon was the guest of honor.

So out he went, but under his own power.

The frigid treatment he got so chilled his presidential ambitions —or at least his enthusiasm for making a race of it against Nixon —that the day after last Christmas he withdrew and left Nixon alone in the field.

What he said and what he left unsaid have to be balanced against each other. He said he was no longer a candidate but he didn't say he would object if the Republicans at their convention this summer decided to draft him.

He made no bones about the way Republicans around the country treated him. The professional Republican politicians, that is.

He said: "The great majority of those who will control the Republican convention stand opposed to any contest for the nomination."

But that didn't dim what seemed to be his belief he is a better man for the presidency than Nixon. From that day to this he has never once given his backing to Nixon by name.

And now, just as Nixon is running into some small bumps, comes the news that Rockefeller is going to resume his travels among Republicans around the country.

Nixon, who seemed a shoo-in for the Republicans' presidential nomination at their convention, has stayed pretty mum all year, as if speeches and statements on where he stands would be practically unnecessary till the campaign begins.

This was a little reminiscent—but in reverse — of New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in the 1948 presidential race.

Dewey did a lot of talking in the pre-convention days that year when he was trying to beat Sen. Robert A. Taft and Harold Stassen for the Republican monination.

When he finally got it he seemed to believe what the pollsters told him: That he was a cinch to beat President Truman.

During the campaign Dewey acted like a man who felt so sure he'd win that he didn't think it necessary to commit himself on the issues or promise much when he got elected.

It was a disaster. Truman worked his head off. His victory over Dewey—it was the second presidential campaign Dewey had lost—sent the governor to the political showers permanently. He's never run for anything since.

Now Nixon doesn't know whether he's hearing the sounds of distant thunder. But a couple of little clouds have drifted across his political sun. His ratings in the polls have dipped.

Last week in total votes cast in the Wisconsin presidential primary he trailed the two Democrats, Sens. John F. Kennedy and Hubert H. Humphrey. True, he didn't campaign in Wisconsin but he was unopposed for the Republican vote.

This week, again running unopposed but this time in the Illinois Republican presidential primary, he was more than 150,000 votes behind the total rolled up by Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas, running unopposed for another Senate term. Nixon didn't campaign in Illinois, either.

But, on the heels of the Illinois results, the Denver (Colo.) Post editorially said "Rockefeller appears to be the most attractive Republican candidate that could be offered to the people of the United States this year. . . ."

Here in Washington some mumbling among Republicans began: That Nixon had better start talking and campaigning before the convention. But Sen. Everett Dirksen, Senate Republican leader, seemed to think things were going just dandy for Nixon.

"I think," Dirksen said, "his present technique is pretty good."

Now Rockefeller will begin moving around again, although this time campaigning in other states for Republicans running for various jobs. And he will take part in ceremonies.

So he'll be getting out among Republicans again. He may not be making a direct pitch for the Republican nomination but he'll be pitching the Rockefeller personality all over the country.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Chief of Police John Fultz at Wellsville issued an order against corner loafing.

The Rev. F. Eppling Reinartz took up his duties as pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, succeeding his father, the Rev. J. C. Reinartz, who resigned after 44 years of service.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Wellsville High School's dramatic club won a "superior rating" at the one-act play festival at Kent University with its production, "No, Not The Russians."

Road-edge reflector signals were installed by the Ohio Department of Highways on heavily-traveled roads in seven counties.

The Pennsylvania Railroad completed the installation of reflector type railway crossing signs at 5th and 9th Sts., Chester.

TEN YEARS AGO — Mrs. Donald Gass was returned as regent of the Rebecca Griscom Chapter of Daughters of America.

Clearing the right-of-way for the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd., the state Highway Department offered for sale 18 more homes and five outbuildings.

The Big Questions

By David Lawrence

Candidates' Abilities Unknown By Voters

What sort of "image" of a man's fitness for the presidency are the American people getting as they witness the battle among the various candidates for the Democratic nomination? Can they get their "image" out of a reading of speculative analyses of the statistics of a primary election in either Wisconsin or West Virginia? Certainly the speeches as reported in the press are of a diffuse nature and rather fragmentary.

David Lawrence

Maybe the television appearances help prospective voters somewhat to form certain impressions. But it would seem that the public hasn't yet crystallized its thinking about any of the candidates.

Some of the best politicians in the country, with years of contact with the voters, are in the U.S. Senate. What they say in public is the tactful or the partisan observation expected from them. What they say in private has more meaning.

TALKING PRIVATELY with an important senator on the Democratic side who comes from a big Northern state but who isn't himself a candidate, this correspondent asked first for an appraisal of the religious issue. He said:

"It seems to date to have benefited Kennedy somewhat, but I frankly don't know what counter-effect it may have. If Republicans did cross over in Wisconsin to vote for Kennedy, then we may expect Protestant Democrats to begin crossing over to the Republican side in the election. I deplore the issue in politics and, interestingly enough, we have elected on the Democratic ticket many governors who are Catholics, and the issue hasn't cut too deeply into the campaigns."

The question was then asked as to what impression Sen. Kennedy has made thus far and what obstacles he faces. Here is the reply:

"I think that Kennedy's principal difficulty is that he is regarded as a boy. He is attractive in appearance. But what do the voters know of his experience? He has never been governor of a state, and he has had no experience in business. Has he executive ability? Is he subject to group pressures? Has he maturity of judgment? These are questions the voters are going to discuss among themselves, more than religion."

JUST NOW Sen. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Sen. Humphrey of Minnesota are in the limelight. It would be interesting if the results of some scientific poll were available to show how much the people really know about Messrs. Kennedy and Humphrey and their backgrounds in public life. In the Congressional Directory, which publishes brief biographies as supplied by each senator and representative, the following appears:

"Hubert H. Humphrey, Democratic - Farmer - Labor, of Waverly, Minn.; born in Wallace, S.D., May 27, 1911; educated in South Dakota schools; graduated with degree from Denver College of Pharmacy; University of Minnesota with A.B. degree, University of Louisiana with M.A. degree.

"State director war production, training 1942; assistant director War Manpower Commission, 1943; professor in political science, MacAlester College, 1943 and 1944; married Muriel Buck; four children.

"Elected mayor of Minneapolis in 1945 and 1947; member of First Congregational Church of Minnesota, American Political Science Assn., American Public Administration Society, Phi Beta Kappa and Delta Sigma Rho; elected to the U.S. Senate on Nov. 2, 1948; re-elected to Senate, Nov. 2, 1954; American delegate to United Nations 1956-57."

Listed also for Sen. Humphrey are three honorary degrees from colleges and universities.

SEN. KENNEDY'S biography gives a list of 16 honorary degrees he has received, half of them from Catholic and half of them from non-Catholic colleges. On other data, the Kennedy sketch reads as follows:

"John Fitzgerald Kennedy, Democrat, of Boston, Mass.; born in Brookline, Mass., May 29, 1917; Harvard University, 1940, bachelor of science cum laude; London School of Economics; joined Navy in September 1941; served in PT boats in Pacific; retired in April 1945; newspaper correspondent; married Jacqueline Lee Bouvier, Sept. 12, 1953.

"Author of 'Why England Slept' and 'Profiles in Courage'; Patriotism Award, University of Notre Dame, 1957; winner of Pulitzer Prize and Christopher Book Award for 1956; elected to Harvard board of overseers, 1957; elected to the 80th Congress on Nov. 5, 1946, re-elected to 81st and 82nd Congresses; elected to the U.S. Senate Nov. 4, 1952; re-elected Nov. 4, 1958."

Much more detail has been written, of course, about the lives of these two senators and published in the campaign material distributed by their supporters, but the truth is the public needs more information from disinterested sources.

What executive ability, for example, does each candidate possess? What is his faculty for dealing with specific problems of government? What is his basic character in making decisions? Does he "go with the tide," or does he resolve problems in a fair and equitable way irrespective of surface opinion? How would he stack up in international conferences "at the Summit?" These are the questions to which the voters wish to know the answers.

Modern Pony Express Heads For Frisco By Truck, Horse

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—A modern Pony Express, beset by problems the original never would have dreamed of, headed for San Francisco today by truck and horse.

Rider Jack Nolan arrived in the state capital Thursday on a tired horse and without the mail.

A shortage of riders, tired horses, an unexpected snowstorm and a disabled truck made the arrival a day late.

"We burned out the valves of the truck engine on the Austin (Nevada) summit," explained driver George Launder.

"Not enough horses and riders," said Nolan, who also lives in Culver City, Calif.

The real Pony Express, which carried the mail from St. Joseph, Mo., to Sacramento in 1860-61, used 70 riders who switched horses regularly during the 1,966-mile gallop.

Nolan, a gunsmith, alternated riding with Bill Cower, a driving instructor. They had four horses.

The original Pony Express started its first run April 3, 1860, and arrived in Sacramento April 13. From here, the mail went on down the Sacramento River to San Francisco by steam boat.

The modern-day version drove in from Placerville, Nolan riding his tired horse only from the city limits.

The mayor's office had telephoned Gov. Edmund G. Brown to tell him that the Pony Express rider was arriving with a letter from Missouri's Governor James T. Blair, Jr.

Then Nolan looked in the pouch and the letter wasn't there.

"Forget it," he said. "They forgot to put the letter in our pouch."

First Big Load Of Soviet-Built Cars Due In U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — The first volume shipment of Soviet-built automobiles will arrive in the United States next month, importer Robert J. Castle of Syracuse, N.Y., said today.

The car is the four-cylinder Moskvich which will carry a New York port of entry price of $1,500. Delivered in New York the car, slightly larger than most European imports but a shade smaller than domestic compacts, will cost about $1,620 including taxes.

The Moskvich is one of the 311 models from 6 manufacturers which will be displayed at the International Auto Show opening here Saturday. Its styling is somewhat similar to the Fords of the early 50s and the show models come complete with the Soviet red star as a radiator ornament.

Another new foreign car was introduced here Thursday, the Toyopet Tiara from Japan. Toyopet has been in the American market for two years with a larger car but the Tiara is sized and priced with Volkswagen and Renault.

Modern Pony Express Heads For Frisco By Truck, Horse

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—A modern Pony Express, beset by problems the original never would have dreamed of, headed for San Francisco today by truck and horse.

Rider Jack Nolan arrived in the state capital Thursday on a tired horse and without the mail.

A shortage of riders, tired horses, an unexpected snowstorm and a disabled truck made the arrival a day late.

"We burned out the valves of the truck engine on the Austin (Nevada) summit," explained driver George Launder.

"Not enough horses and riders," said Nolan, who also lives in Culver City, Calif.

The real Pony Express, which carried the mail from St. Joseph, Mo., to Sacramento in 1860-61, used 70 riders who switched horses regularly during the 1,966-mile gallop.

Nolan, a gunsmith, alternated riding with Bill Cower, a driving instructor. They had four horses.

The original Pony Express started its first run April 3, 1860, and arrived in Sacramento April 13. From here, the mail went on down the Sacramento River to San Francisco by steam boat.

The modern-day version drove in from Placerville, Nolan riding his tired horse only from the city limits.

The mayor's office had telephoned Gov. Edmund G. Brown to tell him that the Pony Express rider was arriving with a letter from Missouri's Governor James T. Blair, Jr.

Then Nolan looked in the pouch and the letter wasn't there.

"Forget it," he said. "They forgot to put the letter in our pouch."

At Review Parking Lot

Excavators Dig Up Past

A bit of the gaslight era of East Liverpool was being buried today at the corner of Washington and E. 4th St. as workmen completed repairs to the sidewalk at The Review parking lot.

Seven arched brick vaults, apparently used for coal storage before the turn of the century, are being packed with stone and soil to provide a solid foundation for the walks and lot entrance.

THE NARROW compartments, seemingly constructed when the former Moose Lodge building was built around 1888, probably were individual coal cellars for the tenants of the building who would have carried the fuel in scuttles to their open heating grates and cook stoves. Covered holes in the sidewalks may have served as chutes where they were loaded from horse-drawn wagons.

However, there are other theories concerning the original purpose of the vaults, ranging from ventilation and light to storage.

The three-story brick building—razed in 1958—was erected by George Wells of Hancock County. The main floor was used for the city post office for about 20 years until the present post office building was built in 1909.

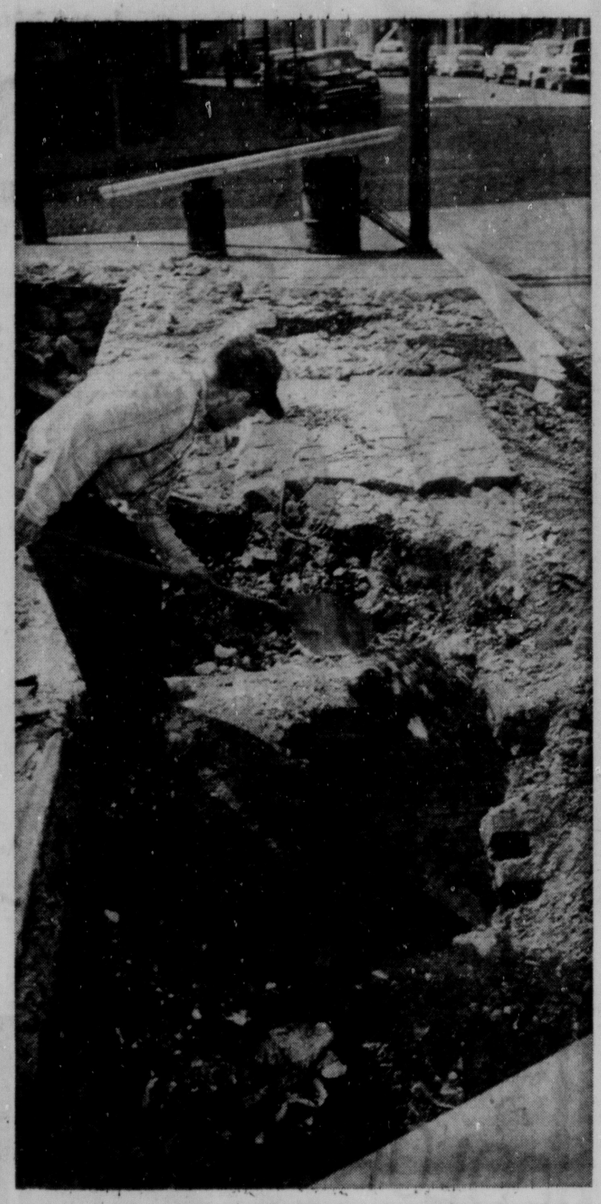

The News Review—predecessor of The Review—had its newsroom and business offices on the second floor and pressroom in the basement from around 1889 to 1895 when it moved to the old Review building on Washington St. which was then the First National Bank. The Moose Lodge obtained the building on E. 4th St. in 1915.

FILLING IN the vaults became necessary when it was found the soil of the parking lot continued to slip into the open areas.

The cement walks were broken with pneumatic drills and the brick arches were collapsed to insure a firm foundation. The work brought a number of spectators to conjecture on the original use of the vaults. Some recalled that natural gas was used principally for lighting in those days and that central heating had not yet become widespread.

Similar coal vaults, separate from the main foundations of buildings, are located elsewhere, including the former Potters National Bank site—known as the Croxall Building—at Broadway and E. 4th Sts.

In the foreground is one of the seven arched vaults being filled in at The Review parking lot at E. 4th and Washington Sts.

of straw in the wind that cheers Rockefeller's ardent admirers came Wednesday from Denver, Colo. when the Denver Post said editorially Rockefeller appears to be "the most attractive Republican candidate that could be offered. . . ."

Nixon's own preconvention policy, in the meantime, got a nod from Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois. Said Dirksen, "I think his present technique is pretty good."

West Virginia's Republican Gov. Cecil H. Underwood said in New York that while Rockefeller would make "a very strong candidate . . . right now Mr. Nixon is the strongest candidate we have." He added, "I do not foresee any change in the national picture."

In the Democratic race Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) was the leading candidate for the party's nomination in the opinion of a large majority of potential Pennsylvania convention delegates who answered an Associated Press questionnaire.

The AP asked the delegate candidates who they thought was the leading man, not necessarily their own first choice. Thirty-four of 41 who replied said Kennedy.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn), concentrating on what may be a crucial test for him in the May 10 West Virginia primary against Kennedy, has shifted about half of his Washington headquarters staff to that state.

That gave rise to some talk that he is short of campaign money and might be prevented from carrying out his West Virginia campaign as planned. An aide scotched the report, said Humphrey will continue with his plans in West Virginia and elsewhere. He added that Humphrey has made no secret of his financial problems but the campaign is solvent.

In Sacramento, Calif., Gov. Edmund G. Brown said it was "absolutely not true" that he has decided to support Kennedy. "I have not committed myself to Sen. Kennedy in any way whatsoever, or to anyone else," he added, denying a published report. Brown will lead the California Democratic delegation to the convention as a favorite son candidate.

In New York, a newly formed Stevenson for president committee said it will seek a million or more signatures there urging that Adlai Stevenson, two-time party candidate, be nominated again.

silly and is but a part of the web of defamation. . ."

Jack McDaniel, a pilot, said he had flown Atty. Conklin to Charleston on several occasions in connection with his firm's business and had decided to leave the craft there for the winter because of hangar and service facilities.

The plane was made available for Barron's use through Atty. Conklin and William Perry, radarman in the Charleston Airport Control Tower and a personal friend of Jack McDaniel.

The attorney had said he "knew some people who could use the plane," McDaniel said Perry was pilot for Barron's trips.

The plane owner said it "is much ado about nothing." "They are trying to make something out of nothing."

Thayer McDaniel said he does not know "Barron from a load of hay."

The plane normally is based at Herron Airport, which has no wintering facilities.

Atty. Conklin's office said he was in New Cumberland on court business this morning and was unavailable for comment.

Democrat Hassle Over Funds Waits Beaver Hearing

BEAVER — Beaver County court has been asked by four Beaver County Democratic committee members for an injunction to restrain the County Democratic Executive Board and others from using or paying any funds under the name of the board.

While the court at Beaver refused to take immediate action, Judge Robert McCreary signed an order requiring the defendants to show cause why such an injunction should not be issued.

Judge Morgan Sohn will hold a hearing Saturday at 9 a. m.

Seeking the injunction are John Essey of Aliquippa, Willard McNally and Jennie Havrilak, both of Monaca, and Olga Dzikowski of Ambridge, committee members.

The complaint was made against the Executive Board, county Democratic committee officers, James E. Ross, treasurer and campaign chairman, and Russell Milnes, campaign treasurer.

Youth Faces Charge Of Gasoline Stealing

LISBON — Richard DeDomenic, 19, of Youngstown will have a hearing Monday before County Judge James L. MacDonald on a charge of theft of gasoline Wednesday at 6 p. m. at the McKarn's Motors in Hanoverton.

Constable Roy Painter of Hanover Township said neighbors saw the youth taking gasoline at the garage, and notified him. But before he arrived, the youth and two others and a man had driven north on Route 9.

Painter notified the Sheriff's office, who alerted Salem police. Salem officers halted the car at Salem. The other youths, also from Youngstown, and the man, from Hubbard, were released.

Health Board To Meet

LISBON — The County Health Board will hold its monthly meeting Monday night at 8. Routine business is expected, according to Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner.

what's new at Olsen's

"The Easter Parade"

"Ollie Olsen"

Spring offers exciting new variety to spice your fashion life. Not only now, but the whole summer thru. Crisp little suits, smartly tailored walking suits that lead a double life. Neat and trim slim line coats. Hats that are bewitchingly beautiful—all designed to focus attention on the "just plain pretty" look for Miss or Mrs. America of today.

We have been so excited all week, just could hardly wait to tell you about the New dresses at Olsen's. Designed by Kay Junior for the young at heart (which means you too.) Yes, you saw them in "Seventeen". Five different styles to choose from — Dressy little eyelet, colorful scarf dress, petti point pique with unusual scarf treatment at the waist. A slim slim sheath with a cleverly striped print sash. And last our favorite, an imported fine cotton with jeweled buttons marching all the way down the front of the softly gathered skirt, and only $10.79 and $13.79, sizes 7-15. Best of all these are in drip dry cottons or a combination of miracle blends -that require so little care.

City Families Receive County Surplus Food

The County Welfare Department was making the monthly distribution of surplus food to East Liverpool families today at Central Fire Station.

In a distribution Thursday at Wellsville City Hall, 100 families representing a total of 245 persons received the food. At Salem Wednesday, 108 families representing 313 persons were given surplus.

A total of 172 Wellsville families are certified for surplus and at Salem 240 are eligible, according to Robert Bycroft, county welfare director.

The city of Fatehpur Sikri in India, built by the Emperor Akbar in 1565, still is in a state of good preservation. Its completion was abondoned by its inhabitants less than 50 years after because of an inadequate water supply.

At Review Parking Lot

Excavators Dig Up Past

A bit of the gaslight era of East Liverpool was being buried today at the corner of Washington and E. 4th St. as workmen completed repairs to the sidewalk at The Review parking lot.

Seven arched brick vaults, apparently used for coal storage before the turn of the century, are being packed with stone and soil to provide a solid foundation for the walks and lot entrance.

THE NARROW compartments, seemingly constructed when the former Moose Lodge building was built around 1888, probably were individual coal cellars for the tenants of the building who would have carried the fuel in scuttles to their open heating grates and cook stoves. Covered holes in the sidewalks may have served as chutes where they were loaded from horse-drawn wagons.

However, there are other theories concerning the original purpose of the vaults, ranging from ventilation and light to storage.

The three-story brick building—razed in 1958—was erected by George Wells of Hancock County. The main floor was used for the city post office for about 20 years until the present post office building was built in 1909.

The News Review—predecessor of The Review—had its newsroom and business offices on the second floor and pressroom in the basement from around 1889 to 1895 when it moved to the old Review building on Washington St. which was then the First National Bank. The Moose Lodge obtained the building on E. 4th St. in 1915.

FILLING IN the vaults became necessary when it was found the soil of the parking lot continued to slip into the open areas.

The cement walks were broken with pneumatic drills and the brick arches were collapsed to insure a firm foundation. The work brought a number of spectators to conjecture on the original use of the vaults. Some recalled that natural gas was used principally for lighting in those days and that central heating had not yet become widespread.

Similar coal vaults, separate from the main foundations of buildings, are located elsewhere, including the former Potters National Bank site—known as the Croxall Building—at Broadway and E. 4th Sts.

In the foreground is one of the seven arched vaults being filled in at The Review parking lot at E. 4th and Washington Sts.

of straw in the wind that cheers Rockefeller's ardent admirers came Wednesday from Denver, Colo. when the Denver Post said editorially Rockefeller appears to be "the most attractive Republican candidate that could be offered. . . ."

Nixon's own preconvention policy, in the meantime, got a nod from Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois. Said Dirksen, "I think his present technique is pretty good."

West Virginia's Republican Gov. Cecil H. Underwood said in New York that while Rockefeller would make "a very strong candidate . . . right now Mr. Nixon is the strongest candidate we have." He added, "I do not foresee any change in the national picture."

In the Democratic race Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) was the leading candidate for the party's nomination in the opinion of a large majority of potential Pennsylvania convention delegates who answered an Associated Press questionnaire.

The AP asked the delegate candidates who they thought was the leading man, not necessarily their own first choice. Thirty-four of 41 who replied said Kennedy.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn), concentrating on what may be a crucial test for him in the May 10 West Virginia primary against Kennedy, has shifted about half of his Washington headquarters staff to that state.

That gave rise to some talk that he is short of campaign money and might be prevented from carrying out his West Virginia campaign as planned. An aide scotched the report, said Humphrey will continue with his plans in West Virginia and elsewhere. He added that Humphrey has made no secret of his financial problems but the campaign is solvent.

In Sacramento, Calif., Gov. Edmund G. Brown said it was "absolutely not true" that he has decided to support Kennedy. "I have not committed myself to Sen. Kennedy in any way whatsoever, or to anyone else," he added, denying a published report. Brown will lead the California Democratic delegation to the convention as a favorite son candidate.

In New York, a newly formed Stevenson for president committee said it will seek a million or more signatures there urging that Adlai Stevenson, two-time party candidate, be nominated again.

silly and is but a part of the web of defamation. . ."

Jack McDaniel, a pilot, said he had flown Atty. Conklin to Charleston on several occasions in connection with his firm's business and had decided to leave the craft there for the winter because of hangar and service facilities.

The plane was made available for Barron's use through Atty. Conklin and William Perry, radarman in the Charleston Airport Control Tower and a personal friend of Jack McDaniel.

The attorney had said he "knew some people who could use the plane," McDaniel said Perry was pilot for Barron's trips.

The plane owner said it "is much ado about nothing." "They are trying to make something out of nothing."

Thayer McDaniel said he does not know "Barron from a load of hay."

The plane normally is based at Herron Airport, which has no wintering facilities.

Atty. Conklin's office said he was in New Cumberland on court business this morning and was unavailable for comment.

Democrat Hassle Over Funds Waits Beaver Hearing

BEAVER — Beaver County court has been asked by four Beaver County Democratic committee members for an injunction to restrain the County Democratic Executive Board and others from using or paying any funds under the name of the board.

While the court at Beaver refused to take immediate action, Judge Robert McCreary signed an order requiring the defendants to show cause why such an injunction should not be issued.

Judge Morgan Sohn will hold a hearing Saturday at 9 a. m.

Seeking the injunction are John Essey of Aliquippa, Willard McNally and Jennie Havrilak, both of Monaca, and Olga Dzikowski of Ambridge, committee members.

The complaint was made against the Executive Board, county Democratic committee officers, James E. Ross, treasurer and campaign chairman, and Russell Milnes, campaign treasurer.

Youth Faces Charge Of Gasoline Stealing

LISBON — Richard DeDomenic, 19, of Youngstown will have a hearing Monday before County Judge James L. MacDonald on a charge of theft of gasoline Wednesday at 6 p. m. at the McKarn's Motors in Hanoverton.

Constable Roy Painter of Hanover Township said neighbors saw the youth taking gasoline at the garage, and notified him. But before he arrived, the youth and two others and a man had driven north on Route 9.

Painter notified the Sheriff's office, who alerted Salem police. Salem officers halted the car at Salem. The other youths, also from Youngstown, and the man, from Hubbard, were released.

Health Board To Meet

LISBON — The County Health Board will hold its monthly meeting Monday night at 8. Routine business is expected, according to Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner.

Nike-Zeus Missile Dispute Breaks Out Again In House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army still says its Nike-Zeus antimissile missile could protect the United States against intercontinental attack. But the Defense Department is still doubtful.

The long dispute over the Nike-Zeus broke out again in closed door testimony before a House Appropriations subcommitee. The transcript of last month's hearings, heavily censored in spots, was made public today.

The Nike-Zeus system, still being developed, would combine radar to spot an enemy intercontinental missile and a killer weapon to erase it with a nuclear blast high in the air.

Lt. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau, the Army's chief of research, told the subcommittee he is confident the Zeus "can and will be successfully developed to meet and master the ballistic missile threat of the Soviet Union."

But Herbert F. York, research director for the Defense Department, which has the last word, told the same group "I think fallout shelters are a more effective way of saving lives in a ballistic missile attack than Zeus."

They testified at different hearings. Told of York's expressed opinion, Trudeau said it would be "completely wrong" to consider shelters the only answer.

"You need a passive defense in this country and you need an active defense," Trudeau said. "Nike-Zeus is the only thing that has got a chance of doing it before 1970."

Former City Man Gets Leniency From Court

Dean Stevens, 24, former East Liverpool man now of North Lima, was given another chance Thursday by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp, who decided not to impose sentence for robbery despite violation of terms of probation.

Stevens was indicted by the September Grand Jury in 1957, pleaded guilty and requested probation, which was granted Jan. 3, 1958. The terms included that he be of good behavior and obey all laws.

Adult Probation Officer Richard Rose said Stevens was sentenced for driving while intoxicated in a case in Municipal Court but Judge Sharp took into consideration the lower court's punishment and continued Stevens' probation providing he obeys the terms.

Court Drops Restraining Order Against Ohio Bell

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Common Pleas Judge G. H. Birrell has dismissed a temporary restraining order that prevented Ohio Bell Telephone Co. from removing telephones from the Cue and Cushion Billiard Parlor in Niles. The removal order was issued by the Utilities Commission at the request of Niles police, who believed the phones were being used for gambling purposes.

The injunction against Ohio Bell was granted last month to Mike Malvasi of Niles, in whose name the phones were listed.

$50 Seen Not Enough For Ohio Executions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Warden Beryle Sacks complains that a $50 allowance for each execution at Ohio Penitentiary is not enough to attract guards to take on the extra duties as attendants. Sacks told Gov. Michael V. DiSalle Thursday that the allowancce should be upped to $200.

Two guards each get $10 for throwing switches, one of which sends current through the electric chair. Six other attendants each get $5.

U.S. Steel To Lay Off 1,400 More At Lorain

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — U. S. Steel's National Tube Division announced that an additional 1,400 workers will be laid off by the end of this month due to a continuing drop in orders for steel and steel products.

The layoffs started March 29, when 500 men were released and one of five blast furnaces was shut down.

A second furnace went out Thursday and a third will be banked April 23, a spokesman said. Other operations will be curtailed proportionately, it was said. Eight of 12 open hearths will continue operating.

Under present plans, the layoffs this month would last only a week for 1,100 of the affected workers, the company said.

Hearing Set May 9

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Board of Liquor Control will hold a public hearing at 10 a.m. May 9 to determine whether its emergency freeze on carry-out beer and wine permits, invoked March 25, for 60 days shall become permanent.

Businessmen Voice Protests On Road Billboards Removal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Highway Department said today that some of its division engineers in eastern Ohio are getting protests from businessmen who have been directed to remove roadside billboards.

The department announced Feb. 18 that it will use two state laws to clamp down on roadside signs.

One statute makes it illegal to have any kind of advertising device partly or entirely on state property without consent of the highway director, who may revoke his permission at any time.

The other prohibits most advertising devices within 660 feet of the right-of-way of highway on the interstate system, if it is built on new locations outside city limits. This does not apply to information the law requires be posted, name of a property owner or identification of a business on the premises, "for sale" signs or directional signals.

The complaints came from persons in Guernsey and Belmont counties who have advertising along the present route of U.S. 40, Executive Secretary Robert E. Wallace said. If they fail to act in a reasonable time, he added, the department will have a sheriff's notice served and the director of highways may request common pleas court action.

T. Dye Barnhouse, deputy director for operations, said everyone having advertising equipment affected by the laws is being notified by registered letter. No complaints have reached department headquarters here directly, he said.

McElroy Gives Opinion About Immunization

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy says when a local board of education requests it, township trustees must have school children immunized, at public expense and without delay, against infantile paralysis, smallpox, diphtheria, whooping cough and lockjaw.

He gave the opinion Thursday to Trumbull County Prosecutor Charles H. Anderson who raised the question after receiving queries from the County Board of Education and the County Interscholastic Assn.

Lt. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau, the Army's chief of research, told the subcommittee he is confident the Zeus "can and will be successfully developed to meet and master the ballistic missile threat of the Soviet Union."

But Herbert F. York, research director for the Defense Department, which has the last word, told the same group "I think fallout shelters are a more effective way of saving lives in a ballistic missile attack than Zeus."

They testified at different hearings. Told of York's expressed opinion, Trudeau said it would be "completely wrong" to consider shelters the only answer.

"You need a passive defense in this country and you need an active defense," Trudeau said. "Nike-Zeus is the only thing that has got a chance of doing it before 1970."

Former City Man Gets Leniency From Court

Dean Stevens, 24, former East Liverpool man now of North Lima, was given another chance Thursday by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp, who decided not to impose sentence for robbery despite violation of terms of probation.

Stevens was indicted by the September Grand Jury in 1957, pleaded guilty and requested probation, which was granted Jan. 3, 1958. The terms included that he be of good behavior and obey all laws.

Adult Probation Officer Richard Rose said Stevens was sentenced for driving while intoxicated in a case in Municipal Court but Judge Sharp took into consideration the lower court's punishment and continued Stevens' probation providing he obeys the terms.

U.S. Steel To Lay Off 1,400 More At Lorain

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — U. S. Steel's National Tube Division announced that an additional 1,400 workers will be laid off by the end of this month due to a continuing drop in orders for steel and steel products.

The layoffs started March 29, when 500 men were released and one of five blast furnaces was shut down.

A second furnace went out Thursday and a third will be banked April 23, a spokesman said. Other operations will be curtailed proportionately, it was said. Eight of 12 open hearths will continue operating.

Under present plans, the layoffs this month would last only a week for 1,100 of the affected workers, the company said.

Businessmen Voice Protests On Road Billboards Removal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Highway Department said today that some of its division engineers in eastern Ohio are getting protests from businessmen who have been directed to remove roadside billboards.

The department announced Feb. 18 that it will use two state laws to clamp down on roadside signs.

One statute makes it illegal to have any kind of advertising device partly or entirely on state property without consent of the highway director, who may revoke his permission at any time.

The other prohibits most advertising devices within 660 feet of the right-of-way of highway on the interstate system, if it is built on new locations outside city limits. This does not apply to information the law requires be posted, name of a property owner or identification of a business on the premises, "for sale" signs or directional signals.

The complaints came from persons in Guernsey and Belmont counties who have advertising along the present route of U.S. 40, Executive Secretary Robert E. Wallace said. If they fail to act in a reasonable time, he added, the department will have a sheriff's notice served and the director of highways may request common pleas court action.

T. Dye Barnhouse, deputy director for operations, said everyone having advertising equipment affected by the laws is being notified by registered letter. No complaints have reached department headquarters here directly, he said.

McElroy Gives Opinion About Immunization

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy says when a local board of education requests it, township trustees must have school children immunized, at public expense and without delay, against infantile paralysis, smallpox, diphtheria, whooping cough and lockjaw.

He gave the opinion Thursday to Trumbull County Prosecutor Charles H. Anderson who raised the question after receiving queries from the County Board of Education and the County Interscholastic Assn.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:
Better Health Through Knowledge

Keep Trying-You May Save a Life

● Asthma Cures

Q. Is it possible to revive an accident or drowning victim after the heart has ceased beating?

A. Even though you can not feel the pulse in the victim of an accident, drowning, electrocution or poisoning, it may not mean that death has taken place. Doctors have resuscitated or "brought back to life" many patients in whom the heart beat couldn't be detected. Heart action and breathing rarely cease at the same time. It is only after both breathing and heart beat cease that there are only about three or four minutes left in which successful resuscitation is possible. Even after this point every effort should be made to revive the victim by applying measures to restore breathing and heart action.

Q. Are doctors any closer to a cure for asthma than they were ten years ago?

A. The basic principles of cure are known but real cures are sometimes hard to come by. Asthma is due to inflammation of the breathing tubes, which tend to contract and become covered with a thick blanket of mucus. Medicines now available only reduce the symptoms of asthma; they cure nothing. Cure of asthma depends on finding whatever is causing the irritation and removing it, correcting complications that may have developed, and cooperating with nature in her efforts to heal the irritated tissue of the breathing system. It is only when the cause of the inflammation is removed that healing will occur. For example, the source of trouble may be some type of tree or grass pollen. Avoid the offending substance and the asthma clears up. It isn't always so simple but the same principle applies — first find the cause and then work out a "cure."

Keep Trying-You May Save a Life

● Asthma Cures

Q. Is it possible to revive an accident or drowning victim after the heart has ceased beating?

A. Even though you can not feel the pulse in the victim of an accident, drowning, electrocution or poisoning, it may not mean that death has taken place. Doctors have resuscitated or "brought back to life" many patients in whom the heart beat couldn't be detected. Heart action and breathing rarely cease at the same time. It is only after both breathing and heart beat cease that there are only about three or four minutes left in which successful resuscitation is possible. Even after this point every effort should be made to revive the victim by applying measures to restore breathing and heart action.

Q. Are doctors any closer to a cure for asthma than they were ten years ago?

A. The basic principles of cure are known but real cures are sometimes hard to come by. Asthma is due to inflammation of the breathing tubes, which tend to contract and become covered with a thick blanket of mucus. Medicines now available only reduce the symptoms of asthma; they cure nothing. Cure of asthma depends on finding whatever is causing the irritation and removing it, correcting complications that may have developed, and cooperating with nature in her efforts to heal the irritated tissue of the breathing system. It is only when the cause of the inflammation is removed that healing will occur. For example, the source of trouble may be some type of tree or grass pollen. Avoid the offending substance and the asthma clears up. It isn't always so simple but the same principle applies — first find the cause and then work out a "cure."

Police confiscated whisky and slot machines in the raids. Whisky was confiscated in the raid made last night at the Club Paddock.

Meanwhile, Beer Commissioner R. D. Platt said today in Charleston that the beer license of Oliver W. Watson, doing business as Cicero's (Cactus Bar) on State Route 30, has been revoked and the bond of $200 ordered forfeited.

Platt said the revocation was for illegal sale, possession and consumption of liquor on the premises.

Triumph

about the disciples as grave robbers.

—:—

THERE WAS a close, oppressive quality about the room. It was dusky, hot, without windows. It was like a great damp oven, and sweat soaked their garments.

They could hear no sound of the city outside, and only faintly the movements of the women about the house. And then they gradually became aware that they did not even hear that. It was strange.

In the accumulating quiet, they themselves became quieter, and ceased their signing and their pacing. It was, indeed, strange. They had done nothing themselves to cause this attentive mood, yet they all sensed it.

Surely, in that enveloping silence, they had no reason to listen so closely, as if trying to catch the notes of some far off music, for there was no music, and only seemed to be because of a current of new air.

But from whence came that sweet air, that fresh and invigorating breath? No crannies opened in this cell. Yet it came now, mild, flowing, brushing their faces like the gentle Khamsin out of the south in springtime.

It was as if some unseen door had opened, and an unknown, yet familiar and comforting presence had entered the locked room, wherewith none could say, and it was completely impossible, but lo! They gasped.

The Lord Jesus stood in their midst, and said, "Peace be unto you." His eyes shone on them like a caress. "As my Father hath sent me, even so send I you."

It was a staggering, indescribable moment.

AGAIN, THAT tide of airy rapture, and His strong, loving countenance smiled on them.

"All power is given unto Me in heaven and in earth. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations. . .He that believeth. . .shall be saved. . . And lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world"

That was the hilltop time. That was the dazzling hour, the lancing revelation, when the wall was broken, and man caught a glimpse of a further country, of a reality he could not calculate.

That was the fire rekindled in the apostles.

It was as a man that Jesus had come to unveil that knowledge, to proclaim the magnitude of forgiving, steadfast love, and it was men that He charged with keeping that gift undimmed.

He was sent as man to men, and He sent men to man. That, in the mysterious interlocking of earth and the Almighty is the necessary conduit.

Within 40 days, Jesus appeared at least nine times to different individuals or groups, sometimes a few, sometimes as many as 500, in various places.

But it was the house of the widow of Cyprus that seems an especially sanctified site in God's geography.

It was there that He not only ate the last supper and first reappeared after the crucifixion, but also where the believers met to refill the ranks of the apostles, where Peter sought refuge after an escape from prison, where the spirit descended at Pentecost, the place where the spread of Christianity began.

It was the widow's son, John Mark, who became a stalwart of the church and the first gospel writer. It was her brother, Joseph bar-Nabas, who also ultimately became a foremost missionary, selling his own house and fields to contribute the proceeds to the cause.

And it was the valiant, undaunted widow whose loyalty amid the perils of Jesus' tragedy made her house the place of His triumph. It was a brave and hallowed house.

Indicted In Stabbing

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—The Clark County grand jury has returned a manslaughter indictment against Edward M. Norton, 76, in Wednesday night's fatal stabbing at Mercycrest Home for the Aged. Joseph G. Gerstner, 86, was killed during a quarrel. Norton admitted the stabbing of his fellow patient at the home.

Fire Threat Seen Critical In Fields

The threat of field and forest fires was in the critical stage today, district fire authorities reported, and area residents were urged to use extreme caution and not to do any outdoors burning until a rain.

Low humidity and high winds have pushed the burning index in the area over the 50 mark, indicating a near "explosive" level for igniting fires.

No serious blazes were reported Thursday by the fire tower at West Point, despite a high burning index of 81, but there were a number of serious fires earlier this week.

A fire burned off acreage in St. Clair Township near Birch Rd. Wednesday and a large fire scorched over 60 acres in southwest Madison Township in one of eight fires Tuesday, Mrs. Veronica Wolski, tower observer, reported.

Ohio Division of Forestry authorities said forest fire workers have been handling about 50 fires a day throughout the state this week.

Grass Fires Battled By Fireman At Lisbon

LISBON — A grass and brush fire along Route 172 northeast of here toward Mid-Way Lake was being fought late this morning by volunteer firemen who were called at 10:45 a. m.

An unused chicken house at the home of Robert Simon of the Lisbon - Millport Rd. was burned to the ground Thursday afternoon when it ignited from a grass fire according to firemen who answered the alarm.

Minor damage occurred at a home at 219 W. Washington St. when a stove ignited Thursday night at 7:30.

Spreading Fire Causes Damage To 45 Trees

Some 45 hemlock trees at Riverview Cemetery were damaged in a wind-fanned blaze Thursday afternoon that started on adjoining property.

Firemen were called to the home of Kenneth Calhoun, 2230 St. Clair Ave., at 3:14 p. m. yesterday to battle the blaze. The family was burning rubbish and the flames apparently were fanned by the wind, they said.

Malcolm L. Stenger, cemetery superintendent, said the trees, all about 4 feet high, apparently were only singed. Whether any of the trees were destroyed won't be determined until later, he added.

The fire occurred on the first day a ban against any type of fire in the city limits had been lifted. Chief Charles Bryan announced suspension of the ban Wednesday to allow homeowners to clear their yards and gardens of debris.

He instructed householders to burn only grass, leaves, hedge trimmings and garden rakings. Garbage, trash and papers remained on the banned list.

Kidnap

asked me to deliver the ransom to a specific place. I did it. Then there was nothing to do but wait. The last hours by the telephone were the most cruel."

Eric was examined by a doctor and pronounced in good health. Questioned closely, he said: "I didn't know the two men who took me away in a car. They didn't take me far. It was in a ground floor apartment. They had a television set. . . . They didn't hurt me."

Then, snuggling up to his father, he added, "I am very happy now."

At the news that Eric was safe, police intensified their search for the kidnapers. Roadblocks were set up at various points in Paris.

"I'm afraid. I'm all alone," Eric told Lucien Bonnet, an employe in a district tax office who happened by and found the child on the sidewalk.

Bonnet took the lad into a bar 20 yards down the street. The half-dozen late customers took a quick look at newspaper photographs, and the chubby, shock-haired child confirmed their hopeful suspicion.

Bonnet telephoned the neighborhood police station. Several police cars screamed to a halt in front of the bar almost before Eric could be served the hot chocolate he asked for. He nodded his head affirmatively when asked if he had been well treated.

The police took the child to a police station 300 yards away, and another car raced to the Peugeot apartment on fashionable Avenue Victor Hugo. Roland Peogeot, a director in several of the family's network of automobile, bicycle and household appliance manufacturing companies, rushed to the police station to reclaim his son.

"I can't say anything," Peugeot told reporters as he brought the child out of the station. He bundled the boy into a police car for the short trip home.

Mrs. Lawrence said she noted the disappearance of the wallet about 3, but did not notify police pending her husband's return from work. The theft was reported at 12:25 this morning.

Raid

raided Bob's Bar, Cicero's (Cactus Bar) and the Hilltop Inn and arrested three women and two men on sale of liquor, possession of gaming devices and possession of lottery tickets. They were fined a total of $2,000.

Police confiscated whisky and slot machines in the raids. Whisky was confiscated in the raid made last night at the Club Paddock.

Meanwhile, Beer Commissioner R. D. Platt said today in Charleston that the beer license of Oliver W. Watson, doing business as Cicero's (Cactus Bar) on State Route 30, has been revoked and the bond of $200 ordered forfeited.

Platt said the revocation was for illegal sale, possession and consumption of liquor on the premises.

Motorist Fined

LISBON — Harry Barnes, 64, of Kensington R. D. 1 was fined $5 and costs Wednesday by County Judge James L. MacDonald after he pleaded guilty to failing to yield the right-of-way at an intersection. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Triumph

about the disciples as grave robbers.

THERE WAS a close, oppressive quality about the room. It was dusky, hot, without windows. It was like a great damp oven, and sweat soaked their garments.

They could hear no sound of the city outside, and only faintly the movements of the women about the house. And then they gradually became aware that they did not even hear that. It was strange.

In the accumulating quiet, they themselves became quieter, and ceased their signing and their pacing. It was, indeed, strange. They had done nothing themselves to cause this attentive mood, yet they all sensed it.

Surely, in that enveloping silence, they had no reason to listen so closely, as if trying to catch the notes of some far off music, for there was no music, and only seemed to be because of a current of new air.

But from whence came that sweet air, that fresh and invigorating breath? No crannies opened in this cell. Yet it came now, mild, flowing, brushing their faces like the gentle Khamsin out of the south in springtime.

It was as if some unseen door had opened, and an unknown, yet familiar and comforting presence had entered the locked room, wherewith none could say, and it was completely impossible, but lo! They gasped.

The Lord Jesus stood in their midst, and said, "Peace be unto you." His eyes shone on them like a caress. "As my Father hath sent me, even so send I you."

It was a staggering, indescribable moment.

AGAIN, THAT tide of airy rapture, and His strong, loving countenance smiled on them.

"All power is given unto Me in heaven and in earth. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations. . .He that believeth. . .shall be saved. . . And lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world"

That was the hilltop time. That was the dazzling hour, the lancing revelation, when the wall was broken, and man caught a glimpse of a further country, of a reality he could not calculate.

That was the fire rekindled in the apostles.

It was as a man that Jesus had come to unveil that knowledge, to proclaim the magnitude of forgiving, steadfast love, and it was men that He charged with keeping that gift undimmed.

He was sent as man to men, and He sent men to man. That, in the mysterious interlocking of earth and the Almighty is the necessary conduit.

Within 40 days, Jesus appeared at least nine times to different individuals or groups, sometimes a few, sometimes as many as 500, in various places.

But it was the house of the widow of Cyprus that seems an especially sanctified site in God's geography.

It was there that He not only ate the last supper and first reappeared after the crucifixion, but also where the believers met to refill the ranks of the apostles, where Peter sought refuge after an escape from prison, where the spirit descended at Pentecost, the place where the spread of Christianity began.

It was the widow's son, John Mark, who became a stalwart of the church and the first gospel writer. It was her brother, Joseph bar-Nabas, who also ultimately became a foremost missionary, selling his own house and fields to contribute the proceeds to the cause.

And it was the valiant, undaunted widow whose loyalty amid the perils of Jesus' tragedy made her house the place of His triumph. It was a brave and hallowed house.

Indicted In Stabbing

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—The Clark County grand jury has returned a manslaughter indictment against Edward M. Norton, 76, in Wednesday night's fatal stabbing at Mercycrest Home for the Aged. Joseph G. Gerstner, 86, was killed during a quarrel. Norton admitted the stabbing of his fellow patient at the home.

Fire Threat Seen Critical In Fields

The threat of field and forest fires was in the critical stage today, district fire authorities reported, and area residents were urged to use extreme caution and not to do any outdoors burning until a rain.

Low humidity and high winds have pushed the burning index in the area over the 50 mark, indicating a near "explosive" level for igniting fires.

No serious blazes were reported Thursday by the fire tower at West Point, despite a high burning index of 81, but there were a number of serious fires earlier this week.

A fire burned off acreage in St. Clair Township near Birch Rd. Wednesday and a large fire scorched over 60 acres in southwest Madison Township in one of eight fires Tuesday, Mrs. Veronica Wolski, tower observer, reported.

Ohio Division of Forestry authorities said forest fire workers have been handling about 50 fires a day throughout the state this week.

Grass Fires Battled By Fireman At Lisbon

LISBON — A grass and brush fire along Route 172 northeast of here toward Mid-Way Lake was being fought late this morning by volunteer firemen who were called at 10:45 a. m.

An unused chicken house at the home of Robert Simon of the Lisbon - Millport Rd. was burned to the ground Thursday afternoon when it ignited from a grass fire according to firemen who answered the alarm.

Minor damage occurred at a home at 219 W. Washington St. when a stove ignited Thursday night at 7:30.

Spreading Fire Causes Damage To 45 Trees

Some 45 hemlock trees at Riverview Cemetery were damaged in a wind-fanned blaze Thursday afternoon that started on adjoining property.

Firemen were called to the home of Kenneth Calhoun, 2230 St. Clair Ave., at 3:14 p. m. yesterday to battle the blaze. The family was burning rubbish and the flames apparently were fanned by the wind, they said.

Malcolm L. Stenger, cemetery superintendent, said the trees, all about 4 feet high, apparently were only singed. Whether any of the trees were destroyed won't be determined until later, he added.

The fire occurred on the first day a ban against any type of fire in the city limits had been lifted. Chief Charles Bryan announced suspension of the ban Wednesday to allow homeowners to clear their yards and gardens of debris.

He instructed householders to burn only grass, leaves, hedge trimmings and garden rakings. Garbage, trash and papers remained on the banned list.

Not Very Sporting

MUNCIE, Ind. — The end of the high school basketball season came just in time for a local judge. A divorced couple agreed on dividing all their property — exeept a couple of season tickets to Muncie Central's basketball games. They didn't want to sit next to each other.

Kidnap

asked me to deliver the ransom to a specific place. I did it. Then there was nothing to do but wait. The last hours by the telephone were the most cruel."

Eric was examined by a doctor and pronounced in good health. Questioned closely, he said: "I didn't know the two men who took me away in a car. They didn't take me far. It was in a ground floor apartment. They had a television set. . . . They didn't hurt me."

Then, snuggling up to his father, he added, "I am very happy now."

At the news that Eric was safe, police intensified their search for the kidnapers. Roadblocks were set up at various points in Paris.

"I'm afraid. I'm all alone," Eric told Lucien Bonnet, an employe in a district tax office who happened by and found the child on the sidewalk.

Bonnet took the lad into a bar 20 yards down the street. The half-dozen late customers took a quick look at newspaper photographs, and the chubby, shock-haired child confirmed their hopeful suspicion.

Bonnet telephoned the neighborhood police station. Several police cars screamed to a halt in front of the bar almost before Eric could be served the hot chocolate he asked for. He nodded his head affirmatively when asked if he had been well treated.

The police took the child to a police station 300 yards away, and another car raced to the Peugeot apartment on fashionable Avenue Victor Hugo. Roland Peogeot, a director in several of the family's network of automobile, bicycle and household appliance manufacturing companies, rushed to the police station to reclaim his son.

"I can't say anything," Peugeot told reporters as he brought the child out of the station. He bundled the boy into a police car for the short trip home.

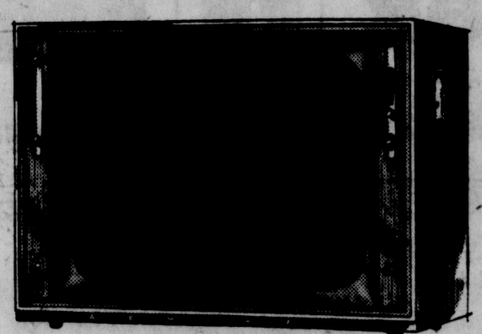

Wallet Containing $103 Disappears From Home

A man's wallet containing $103 disappeared mysteriously Thursday afternoon from a Thompson Ave. home, the family reported to police.

The wallet belonging to Jack Lawrence, 169 Thompson Ave., vanished sometime between 2:30 and 3 p. m. from a telephone stand where it had been placed, police said. Mrs. Lawrence said she noted the disappearance of the wallet about 3, but did not notify police pending her husband's return from work. The theft was reported at 12:25 this morning.

Gen. Zwicker To Retire Due To His Health

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Because of his physical condition, Maj. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, who will be 57 Easter Sunday, is retiring from active duty May 1.

Zwicker, now on recuperation leave as the result of two minor heart attacks, is commander of the 20th Army Corps—an all-reserve unit. The headquarters is at Fort Hayes, located close to downtown Columbus. He will be succeeded by Maj. Gen. Charles E. Beauchamp, 52, commander of the First Cavalry Division in Korea.

In a pre-retirement statement Zwicker praised the reserve units of the 20th Corps for "achieving maximum capability of performing assigned missions." He added he is retiring "because of physical conditions which might prevent me from contributing my maximum to the service of our country."

Zwicker was a key figure in the 1953 Army - McCarthy hearings. Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis), during a heated outburst in a Senate committee hearing, asserted Zwicker was "unfit to wear the uniform." At the time, McCarthy was accusing the Army of coddling communists.

Zwicker, then commander at Camp Kilmer, N. J., had been called as a witness in connection with the promotion and eventual honorable discharge of Maj. Irving Peress, a Camp Kilmer dentist labeled by McCarthy as a "fifth amendment communist."

Gen. Zwicker To Retire Due To His Health

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Because of his physical condition, Maj. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, who will be 57 Easter Sunday, is retiring from active duty May 1.

Zwicker, now on recuperation leave as the result of two minor heart attacks, is commander of the 20th Army Corps—an all-reserve unit. The headquarters is at Fort Hayes, located close to downtown Columbus. He will be succeeded by Maj. Gen. Charles E. Beauchamp, 52, commander of the First Cavalry Division in Korea.

In a pre-retirement statement Zwicker praised the reserve units of the 20th Corps for "achieving maximum capability of performing assigned missions." He added he is retiring "because of physical conditions which might prevent me from contributing my maximum to the service of our country."

Zwicker was a key figure in the 1953 Army - McCarthy hearings. Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis), during a heated outburst in a Senate committee hearing, asserted Zwicker was "unfit to wear the uniform." At the time, McCarthy was accusing the Army of coddling communists.

Zwicker, then commander at Camp Kilmer, N. J., had been called as a witness in connection with the promotion and eventual honorable discharge of Maj. Irving Peress, a Camp Kilmer dentist labeled by McCarthy as a "fifth amendment communist."

'The Hurricane'

Severe Shortage Of Meat Faces Cuba Under Castro

Third of a series of articles based on interviews with scores of Cubans and Americans in several parts of Cuba.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

CAMAGUEY, Cuba (AP) — Ranchers have a name for what's going on here. They call it "the hurricane."

Due to the policies of Fidel Castro's regime, a nation of meat eaters faces a severe meat shortage that will deepen as the months go by. Shortages of butter, milk and cheese are already felt.

"The damage done up to now will take years to repair," said a Cuban cattleman. "If things go on like this, the damage may never be repaired. All this is just too stupid to be accidental."

INRA — the regime's National Institute of Agrarian Reform — has been intervening cattle ranches all over the country. Strictly speaking, intervention does not mean confiscation—until or unless the regime finally says it will not pay for what it has taken.

INRA has taken over the ranges —as it has the agricultural side of the sugar industry—to direct the operation, apparently until such time as the government completes the job of setting up cooperatives. It has implied that eventually there will be payment; by 4½ per cent bonds, at the prices INRA fixes. Cuban and American ranchers alike wonder whether they ever will see such bonds.

Today no ranch is permitted private operation of more than 50 caballerias (1,650 acres) of land, or to own more than 500 head of cattle. Some ranches have been completely taken over.

"But a ranch is kept in production when its people know how to run it," said one cattleman. "When everybody gives orders, it takes four to do the work of one. When everybody is boss, production falls. Unskilled people give the orders now. We can't fire anyone. They disobey or countermand any order they don't like.

Nobody seems to know INRA's ground rules, which can change from day to day.

Despite regulations against slaughtering female cattle, 25,000 cows were killed in a four-months period to meet shortages. This, plus lack of trained help, contributed to the growing milk, butter and cheese shortages.

Prize herds, foundation of a promising industry, have been intervened and sold abroad by INRA.

INRA overstocked some ranches with intervened cattle, overgrazed pastures, will be unable to cultivate new pasturage in many cases this season. It has mixed prize bulls with scrub animals indiscriminately. It places little premium on fattening cattle, so produces less meat per head. Practically all the good Cuban meat is gone now. There is no American meat at all in Cuba and none is imported.

INRA's reserve of beef cattle ready for market as of about April 1 was reported at 18,000 head or more per week.

Even some vaqueros and campesinos—the cowboys and farmers working on the ranches—are becoming disillusioned. Newly imposed government deductions and "voluntary" contributions cut their wages sharply. They suspect INRA is intent upon further cuts.

The official explanation for shortages is: The revolution raised the standard of living so Cubans consume more, and there has not been enough production to go around.

One Cuban rancher said: "Since October, cattlemen have been selling animals, including cows, knowing INRA would take them anyway. Herds already are depleted."

The big American-owned King Ranch began operation in 1952 as the Compania Ganaderia Bercera, jointly owned by the Manati Sugar Co. and the King Ranch of Texas. It grew to 40,000 acres and 8,000 head. Today it has 1,650 acres and about 500 head. No compensation has been offered for land, cattle or the $150,000 worth of equipment taken over by INRA.

"Actually," said one rancher, "for us there is no such thing as a court, no such thing as protection. The politics of the owner makes no difference—whether he supported the revolution in the past or not. It's being done to all."

Always the heart of our business

Why do most drugstores sell everything from breakfast to dance wax . . .? The answer is simple. It is a matter of economic necessity. Americans, thank goodness, are generally healthy and there are not enough prescriptions to keep all drugstores going. Thus, we sell a variety of merchandise. By so doing we are able to stay open and render assistance whenever and wherever it is needed. Prescription service, however, continues to be the heart of our business and we are always pleased to assist you when medication is needed.

58 Given Early Ballots For Primaries In May

Fifty-eight civilian absentee ballots have been issued so far for the May 3 primaries, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the County Election Board, said today.

The "early" ballots became available April 4. The absentee ballots are for persons who will be outside Columbiana County and at least 10 miles from their home precincts on Election Day.

O'Hanlon commented that the demand for the civilian ballots so far is not indicative of any unusually intense interest in the voting. At the same time, 42 ballots have been issued under the Ohio "soldier voting law" to armed forces personnel and civilians residing temporarily outside the United States.

Mozart's Masterpiece Comes To TV

Now and then, lightning flashes out of the 21-inch screen and illuminates the countryside. One of those occasions came last Sunday when the NBC Opera Company perform "Don Giovanni, Mozart's greatest opera and one of the imperishable masterpieces of all music and all literature. I am an indifferent scholar of opera but you need bring very little but an open heart to Mozart's great work.

John Crosby

It means different things to different people, but to anyone it's an overwhelming experience. It was presented in color in its entirety.

Well, there were some small excisions and the final anticlimactic passage, which ought to be cut anyhow, came out. Cesare Siepi sang the title role, heading a brilliant cast. Peter Herman Adler conducted.

"DON GIOVANNI" is, of course, a stage piece of great glamour and splendor with its palaces and feats and merrymaking. On a small screen, some of the splendor fell away but the tremendously tight cumulative power of the dramatic narrative remained, under Kirk Browning's direction, as intense and explosive as ever. I barely can remember two and a half hours that fled past so rapidly on television.

The opera was sung in English, as all the NBC operas are, the English translation being the work of W. H. Auden and Chester Kallman.

It was a prosy if ingenious translation but it seemed eminently singable. (For me, it might as well be in Italian anyhow. I hardly can understand a word that is sung. Fortunately, NBC gave us English scripts.)

"DON GIOVANNI" ends NBC Opera's season of four operas, the others being "Fidelio," "Amahl and the Night Visitors" (for the 10th time) and "Cavalleria Rusticana." Next year NBC again will do four operas. (Might we get "Don Giovanni" again, please, and maybe some Puccini?)

NBC Opera, which has had its good seasons as well as its indifferent ones, is one of the small shining cultural beacons in particular of NBC and of television generally.

I'm afraid I missed "Cavalleria Rusticana" but I saw "Fidelio," which is not a very good opera, but is frequently an ennobling experience musically.

But even if it had presented "Don Giovanni" all by itself it would have been a smash season. I think—after due consultation with the restraint editor—that "Don Giovanni" ranks right up there among one of the three or four of the greatest emotional thrills television ever has given me.

INCIDENTALLY, "Don Giovanni" and "Cavalleria Rusticana" were sponsored by the Florists Telegraph Delivery Assn.

Opera lovers may have been slightly horrified at the commercials intruding into their beloved score, but the fact is that this sort of sponsorship is terribly important for a number of reasons. For one, it is part of a brand new awareness and support of good programming by sponsors and this has gained great impetus this year, largely as a result of the quiz scandals.

But, more importantly, it means the opera is carried on many, many stations that would drop it if it were sustaining. The sponsored "Don Giovanni" was carried on 150 television stations to what was almost certainly the largest audience it ever played to.

UNDER OUR SYSTEM of television, that is the way things have to be. As between having commercials and not having "Don Giovanni" at all I think there is no question as to which is preferable. That's a great argument for pay television, too.

"Don Giovanni," as presented, also is an imposing argument on behalf of important and memorable and noble television as opposed to popular triviality.

Long after the viewer has forgotten what questions he heard on "I've Got a Secret" or what quiz show he saw, or even that he looked at television that night, he'll remember "Don Giovanni."

In a more earthy sense, there is the impact on the press and all the good will the sponsor and network has won with the public and the FCC.

Young Attacks CD Light Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — A "moron's brainchild" is Ohio Democratic Sen. Stephen M. Young's description of Columbus' new Civil Defense evacuation traffic light system which cost $700,000.

Young said Thursday that Civil Defense Director Russ Pennell of Columbus "must have some project, foolish and expensive as it may be, to justify his place on the public payroll.

"This idiotic, half baked program, promulgated by some high salaries Civil Defense official, is planned for that time when the Russians fire a missile directed at the city of Columbus, or at the time the nuclear warhead strikes its target.

"This Civil Defense planner doubtless figured that Ohio's capital city would be a prime target, instead of an American missile base or air base," he said.

"That's a silly idea. Possibly he considers that Soviet dictators fear the Ohio Legislature which meets there," he said.

Young stated that during the last four years alone, the Columbus Civil Defense organization has been alloted over $150,000 from the city treasury, half of which went for salaries.

Rubber Band Seen Behind Injury To Small Dog's Neck

A rubber band can cause injury as severe as knife slashes when it's placed around a dog's neck like a collar and left there to rub through the hair and embed itself into the flesh, Dog Warden Robert Croyle learned while seeking the cause of mysterious injuries to an animal turned over to him last week.

When the owner turned over the dog to the warden last week, its throat was covered with deep wounds as though from a knife, but the man said he had no idea what had caused the injury. The dog was nervous and cried every time it was approached, Croyle said.

Mystified, he took the animal to a veterinarian, who found that a tight rubber band had been placed around the dog's neck weeks or months ago, probably by a child at play. In constant rubbing, the rubber band cut the dog's flesh repeatedly and part of it had been covered by growing flesh.

The veterinarian removed the rubber band, fixed up the wounds and returned the dog to Croyle. With the dog in good health, Croyle found a home for it with an Avondale St. family.

Croyle said he has four other dogs suitable for adoption at the pound at the sewage treatment plant in West End. He said he will be at the pound nightly from 6 to 8 to talk with persons interested in adopting dogs.

Employment Data Will Be Collected

The census taker, like the postman, will ring twice at the doors of a number of local households during April, according to Director Edgar L. Bryan of the U. S. Census Bureau's regional field office at Pittsburgh.

One visit from a census taker is for the purpose of collecting information for the nationwide 1960 Census of population and housing. The other census taker will be asking questions in connection with the Current Population Survey, the Census Bureau's monthly sample survey which has been gathering information on employment and unemployment for the past 20 years.

The Current Population Survey this month provides current information on employment conditions. Because the survey is confined to a sample of the population, it is possible to publish figures from it within three to four weeks. The 1960 census, on the other hand, is such a tremendous undertaking it will be several months before first results can be tabulated and published. Thus, the only employment figures for April 1960 that can be obtained quickly are those from the current survey. Without these figures, there would be a serious loss of information to many business, labor and government groups who are constantly studying the employment situation.

The survey will be conducted here and in 329 other sections next week.

City Trio Will Face Grand Jury In Theft

Raymond Payton, 21, of 1024 Waterloo St., Donald Louis Bailey Jr., 19, of 263 W. 3rd St., and Daniel Germanovich, 18, of 319 Broadway, East Liverpool, pleaded guilty Thursday before county Judge Luther Donbar at Salem and were bound over to the Grand Jury under $250 bond each in a service station burglary.

The three were stopped by Ravenna police early Wednesday morning and $35 worth of assorted merchandise was found in their car. The sheriff's office said they admitted a breaking and entering at the gas station and store of Mr. and Mrs. William Stayton, three miles south of Salem on Route 45.

Unable to make bond, they are being held in the County Jail at Lisbon.

City Seaman Due Home Soon After 6 Months In Antarctica

A 21 - year - old East Liverpool Navy man is scheduled to arrive at Boston Tuesday aboard the icebreaker Atka, winding up a 6-month tour of duty in the Antarctic with "Operation Deep Freeze 60."

It will mark the end of four trips to the Arctic and Antarctic in a 4-year Navy hitch for William J. McKeever Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. McKeever, 238 Ravine St.

The family expects him here for a brief leave by April 30. His enlistment is scheduled to expire May 12. Since entering the Navy in June 1956, immediately after graduation from High School, he has been on 2 expeditions to the Arctic and one previous expedition into the Antarctic, as a member of "Operation Deep Freeze III" in the winter of 1957-58.

Mrs. McKeever last heard from her son March 13 in a radio and telephone relay from McMurdo Sound in the Antarctic, when he called to wish her a happy birthday. He has not been at home on leave since last September, when he made a brief stop-over here shortly after returning from the Arctic and before reporting to begin the preparations for the Antarctic trip.

The Atka was the first ship to arrive in Antarctica for "Operation Deep Freeze" and nearly the last to leave. The icebreaker left McMurdo Sound March 15, went to Port Lyttelton, New Zealand, for supplies and then headed for home March 21.

The Atka's primary duties included clearing and maintaining an ice-free channel and re-supplying U. S. bases on the continent.

Young McKeever starred on the 1955 high school football team. Graduated June 5, 1957, he attained his 18th birthday June 6 and enlisted in the Navy a few days later.

His message on his mother's birthday went from McMurdo Sound to an Akron amateur radio operator via shortwave and then was relayed from Akron to East Liverpool by telephone. At the time he phoned, it was 47 below in Antarctica.

Easter Season Stirs Unusual Religious Activity In Moscow

MOSCOW (AP) — The Easter season is generating an unusual flurry of religious activity in this citadel of communism this year.

The Eastern Orthodox church's observance of Easter this year falls on the same day as that in the Western world, and Soviet Union churches in Moscow will be crowded. The foreign colony is attending services led by four foreign clergymen, an almost unheard of number to be officiating at one time in Moscow.

American Roman Catholics attended a midnight adoration of the Eucharist in "Our Lady of Hope" chapel, which the Rev. Louis Dion maintains in his Moscow apartment. Father Dion, from Worcester, Mass., arrived here just a year ago as the American priest the Soviet government permits to serve the American colony.

A candlelight communion service for Protestants was held Thursday in the American Embassy by Capt. Thomas L. McMinn Jr. of Odenton, Md., an Army chaplain who is on a two-week visit to friends. He also scheduled Good Friday services and an Easter service Sunday at Spaso House, the residence of U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson.

The Bishop of Fulham, England, the Rt. Rev. Roderic Norman Coote, flew here to officiate at Anglican Good Friday and Easter Sunday services in the British Embassy.

Catholic services in the French Embassy will be climaxed by a midnight Easter mass. Father Dion officates there.

In Moscow's only Roman Catholic church for Soviets, Polish-born Father Broninski is holding services.

Job Office To Expand Compensation Signup

Due to increased layoffs in the Midland area, the Pennsylvania State Employment Service will expand its schedule of compensation signup at Midland starting next week.

Applicants with Social Security numbers ending in 0, 1, 2, 3 and 4 will report Tuesdays to the Steelworkers Union Hall of Midland Ave., and those with numbers ending with 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 are to report on Thursdays.

Hours will be 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m., Francis Cameron, manager of the office at Beaver Falls, said. The visitations have been held on Wednesdays, but the new schedule will continue until further notice, he said.

Next Move Sifted After Court Lifts Amish School Ban

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Hardin County officials aren't sure what course of action they'll take now that a court of appeals has ruled there is no state law that says Amish schools must close.

Following Thursday's ruling by the Third District Court of Appeals, Carlos Faulkner, acting for the county's Board of Education, said:

"We can appeal (the case) or we can bring the parents into court for keeping their children truant from school. If it was handled this way it would entail a $20 fine a day for each child.

"But there are 50 children in those two schools and if we brought each one of them into court every day we would have to set up another court just to handle the truancy cases," he explained.

The two Amish schools in question have been in the spotlight for about a year. The court Thursday refused to issue a permanent injunction to close them sought on grounds they do not meet state requirements.

Joseph Dush, of Willard, attorney for the Amish, called the court's decision gratifying.

"DON GIOVANNI" ends NBC Opera's season of four operas, the others being "Fidelio," "Amahl and the Night Visitors" (for the 10th time) and "Cavalleria Rusticana." Next year NBC again will do four operas. (Might we get "Don Giovanni" again, please, and maybe some Puccini?)

NBC Opera, which has had its good seasons as well as its indifferent ones, is one of the small shining cultural beacons in particular of NBC and of television generally.

I'm afraid I missed "Cavalleria Rusticana" but I saw "Fidelio," which is not a very good opera, but is frequently an ennobling experience musically.

But even if it had presented "Don Giovanni" all by itself it would have been a smash season. I think—after due consultation with the restraint editor—that "Don Giovanni" ranks right up there among one of the three or four of the greatest emotional thrills television ever has given me.

INCIDENTALLY, "Don Giovanni" and "Cavalleria Rusticana" were sponsored by the Florists Telegraph Delivery Assn.

Opera lovers may have been slightly horrified at the commercials intruding into their beloved score, but the fact is that this sort of sponsorship is terribly important for a number of reasons. For one, it is part of a brand new awareness and support of good programming by sponsors and this has gained great impetus this year, largely as a result of the quiz scandals.

But, more importantly, it means the opera is carried on many, many stations that would drop it if it were sustaining. The sponsored "Don Giovanni" was carried on 150 television stations to what was almost certainly the largest audience it ever played to.

UNDER OUR SYSTEM of television, that is the way things have to be. As between having commercials and not having "Don Giovanni" at all I think there is no question as to which is preferable. That's a great argument for pay television, too.

"Don Giovanni," as presented, also is an imposing argument on behalf of important and memorable and noble television as opposed to popular triviality.

Long after the viewer has forgotten what questions he heard on "I've Got a Secret" or what quiz show he saw, or even that he looked at television that night, he'll remember "Don Giovanni."

In a more earthy sense, there is the impact on the press and all the good will the sponsor and network has won with the public and the FCC.

Young Attacks CD Light Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — A "moron's brainchild" is Ohio Democratic Sen. Stephen M. Young's description of Columbus' new Civil Defense evacuation traffic light system which cost $700,000.

Young said Thursday that Civil Defense Director Russ Pennell of Columbus "must have some project, foolish and expensive as it may be, to justify his place on the public payroll.

"This idiotic, half baked program, promulgated by some high salaries Civil Defense official, is planned for that time when the Russians fire a missile directed at the city of Columbus, or at the time the nuclear warhead strikes its target.

"This Civil Defense planner doubtless figured that Ohio's capital city would be a prime target, instead of an American missile base or air base," he said.

"That's a silly idea. Possibly he considers that Soviet dictators fear the Ohio Legislature which meets there," he said.

Young stated that during the last four years alone, the Columbus Civil Defense organization has been alloted over $150,000 from the city treasury, half of which went for salaries.

Rubber Band Seen Behind Injury To Small Dog's Neck

A rubber band can cause injury as severe as knife slashes when it's placed around a dog's neck like a collar and left there to rub through the hair and embed itself into the flesh, Dog Warden Robert Croyle learned while seeking the cause of mysterious injuries to an animal turned over to him last week.

When the owner turned over the dog to the warden last week, its throat was covered with deep wounds as though from a knife, but the man said he had no idea what had caused the injury. The dog was nervous and cried every time it was approached, Croyle said.

Mystified, he took the animal to a veterinarian, who found that a tight rubber band had been placed around the dog's neck weeks or months ago, probably by a child at play. In constant rubbing, the rubber band cut the dog's flesh repeatedly and part of it had been covered by growing flesh.

The veterinarian removed the rubber band, fixed up the wounds and returned the dog to Croyle. With the dog in good health, Croyle found a home for it with an Avondale St. family.

Croyle said he has four other dogs suitable for adoption at the pound at the sewage treatment plant in West End. He said he will be at the pound nightly from 6 to 8 to talk with persons interested in adopting dogs.

Employment Data Will Be Collected

The census taker, like the postman, will ring twice at the doors of a number of local households during April, according to Director Edgar L. Bryan of the U. S. Census Bureau's regional field office at Pittsburgh.

One visit from a census taker is for the purpose of collecting information for the nationwide 1960 Census of population and housing. The other census taker will be asking questions in connection with the Current Population Survey, the Census Bureau's monthly sample survey which has been gathering information on employment and unemployment for the past 20 years.

The Current Population Survey this month provides current information on employment conditions. Because the survey is confined to a sample of the population, it is possible to publish figures from it within three to four weeks. The 1960 census, on the other hand, is such a tremendous undertaking it will be several months before first results can be tabulated and published. Thus, the only employment figures for April 1960 that can be obtained quickly are those from the current survey. Without these figures, there would be a serious loss of information to many business, labor and government groups who are constantly studying the employment situation.

The survey will be conducted here and in 329 other sections next week.

City Trio Will Face Grand Jury In Theft

Raymond Payton, 21, of 1024 Waterloo St., Donald Louis Bailey Jr., 19, of 263 W. 3rd St., and Daniel Germanovich, 18, of 319 Broadway, East Liverpool, pleaded guilty Thursday before county Judge Luther Donbar at Salem and were bound over to the Grand Jury under $250 bond each in a service station burglary.

The three were stopped by Ravenna police early Wednesday morning and $35 worth of assorted merchandise was found in their car. The sheriff's office said they admitted a breaking and entering at the gas station and store of Mr. and Mrs. William Stayton, three miles south of Salem on Route 45.

Unable to make bond, they are being held in the County Jail at Lisbon.

City Seaman Due Home Soon After 6 Months In Antarctica

A 21 - year - old East Liverpool Navy man is scheduled to arrive at Boston Tuesday aboard the icebreaker Atka, winding up a 6-month tour of duty in the Antarctic with "Operation Deep Freeze 60."

It will mark the end of four trips to the Arctic and Antarctic in a 4-year Navy hitch for William J. McKeever Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. McKeever, 238 Ravine St.

The family expects him here for a brief leave by April 30. His enlistment is scheduled to expire May 12. Since entering the Navy in June 1956, immediately after graduation from High School, he has been on 2 expeditions to the Arctic and one previous expedition into the Antarctic, as a member of "Operation Deep Freeze III" in the winter of 1957-58.

Mrs. McKeever last heard from her son March 13 in a radio and telephone relay from McMurdo Sound in the Antarctic, when he called to wish her a happy birthday. He has not been at home on leave since last September, when he made a brief stop-over here shortly after returning from the Arctic and before reporting to begin the preparations for the Antarctic trip.

The Atka was the first ship to arrive in Antarctica for "Operation Deep Freeze" and nearly the last to leave. The icebreaker left McMurdo Sound March 16, went to Port Lyttelton, New Zealand, for supplies and then headed for home March 21.

The Atka's primary duties included clearing and maintaining an ice-free channel and re-supplying U. S. bases on the continent.

Young McKeever starred on the 1955 high school football team. Graduated June 5, 1957, he attained his 18th birthday June 6 and enlisted in the Navy a few days later.

His message on his mother's birthday went from McMurdo Sound to an Akron amateur radio operator via shortwave and then was relayed from Akron to East Liverpool by telephone. At the time he phoned, it was 47 below in Antarctica.

Easter Season Stirs Unusual Religious Activity In Moscow

MOSCOW (AP) — The Easter season is generating an unusual flurry of religious activity in this citadel of communism this year.

The Eastern Orthodox church's observance of Easter this year falls on the same day as that in the Western world, and Soviet Union churches in Moscow will be crowded. The foreign colony is attending services led by four foreign clergymen, an almost unheard of number to be officiating at one time in Moscow.

American Roman Catholics attended a midnight adoration of the Eucharist in "Our Lady of Hope" chapel, which the Rev. Louis Dion maintains in his Moscow apartment. Father Dion, from Worcester, Mass., arrived here just a year ago as the American priest the Soviet government permits to serve the American colony.

A candlelight communion service for Protestants was held Thursday in the American Embassy by Capt. Thomas L. McMinn Jr. of Odenton, Md., an Army chaplain who is on a two-week visit to friends. He also scheduled Good Friday services and an Easter service Sunday at Spaso House, the residence of U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson.

The Bishop of Fulham, England, the Rt. Rev. Roderic Norman Coote, flew here to officiate at Anglican Good Friday and Easter Sunday services in the British Embassy.

Catholic services in the French Embassy will be climaxed by a midnight Easter mass. Father Dion officates there.

In Moscow's only Roman Catholic church for Soviets, Polish-born Father Broninski is holding services.

Job Office To Expand Compensation Signup

Due to increased layoffs in the Midland area, the Pennsylvania State Employment Service will expand its schedule of compensation signup at Midland starting next week.

Applicants with Social Security numbers ending in 0, 1, 2, 3 and 4 will report Tuesdays to the Steelworkers Union Hall of Midland Ave., and those with numbers ending with 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 are to report on Thursdays.

Hours will be 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m., Francis Cameron, manager of the office at Beaver Falls, said. The visitations have been held on Wednesdays, but the new schedule will continue until further notice, he said.

Next Move Sifted After Court Lifts Amish School Ban

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Hardin County officials aren't sure what course of action they'll take now that a court of appeals has ruled there is no state law that says Amish schools must close.

Following Thursday's ruling by the Third District Court of Appeals, Carlos Faulkner, acting for the county's Board of Education, said:

"We can appeal (the case) or we can bring the parents into court for keeping their children truant from school. If it was handled this way it would entail a $20 fine a day for each child.

"But there are 50 children in those two schools and if we brought each one of them into court every day we would have to set up another court just to handle the truancy cases," he explained.

The two Amish schools in question have been in the spotlight for about a year. The court Thursday refused to issue a permanent injunction to close them sought on grounds they do not meet state requirements.

Joseph Dush, of Willard, attorney for the Amish, called the court's decision gratifying.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My son is a high school senior and now is looking over various universities and colleges. He's a good student and probably could get into any school he selected.

The thing that bothers me is he judges schools by their athletic achievements. If a college doesn't have a red-hot football team he's not interested.

I've tried to explain this is a poor criterion but he says it's the best way to tell if an institution is "on the stick."

The sharp schools, according to him, pay a lot of attention to their athletic program and get a winning team at all costs. It's smart public relations, he says, which influences the entire program. What do you say about this? — KNOW-NOTHING POP.

Dear Pop: Robert Hutchins said it better than anyone — and I quote: "Football has the same relation to education that bull fighting has to agriculture."

Back In Circulation

Dear Ann: I'm planning to break my engagement to a fellow who monopolized my life for five years. We started to go steady when I was 15 and became engaged three years late. I've never had a date with anyone else.

I won't go into detail but I'm sure he's a confirmed alcoholic and a pathological liar. I don't want to spend my life listening to lies and nursing hangovers.

Everyone thinks of me as Mickey's girl and I know it will take a long time before the word gets around that I'm available for dates. Could I hurry things along by placing a small ad in the newspaper? — NICK OF TIME.

Dear Nick: I dislike spoiling a sale for the classified ad department but I cannot, in good conscience, advise you to place an ad in the paper announcing a broken engagement.

I hate to resort to this very tired joke but if you want the word to get around fast — telephone, telegraph and telawoman.

Unrequited Love

Dear Ann: I'm a middle-aged businessman and a widower. In my younger days I worshiped a young girl from afar but was too shy to make my feelings known. She married and so did I.

Twelve years ago my wife died. I'm still in love with the idol of my dreams and always will be.

Three years ago her husband died. She travels, entertains and is invited everywhere. Her husband's picture is in every room. She refuses to give him up.

She's still beautiful and desirable and could give a man great happiness but she won't even accept a dinner date.

I know another widower who has tried to interest her but has failed, too. She loves to help others so if you could make her realize how much happiness she could bring to some lonely man if she married again I'm sure it would bring her happiness, too. — L. W.

Dear L. W.: Why don't you marry one of the thousands of eager widows who are searching frantically for a man and bring some happiness into her life? I'm sure the idea doesn't appeal to you and I don't blame you.

Marriage should be mutually rewarding. You wouldn't want a woman to marry you as a favor —in much the way she might lend you her car, would you? Well, get off your knees and find a woman who wants you at least as much as you want her.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Soviet Union fishermen have a "floating city" of 2,500 persons in the Bering Sea off Alaska, operating year-around despite the ice pack, but insisting they are taking only fish passed up by Americans.

"If fishery problems in the Bering Sea became a choice of friendship or fish," their commander told a visiting group of Alaskans, "we would withdraw in favor of friendship."

The Alaskans have just returned here after a week's trip into Bering pack ice led them to a fleet of 5 ships of the Soviet expedition.

It was believed the first time any foreigners had been allowed aboard the Soviet vessels operating off Alaska. The Alaskans were welcomed as friends and neighbors.

The trip was made aboard the 150-foot vessel "Deep Sea," owned by Howard Wakefield, vice president of Wakefield Fisheries, who organized the expedition.

The crew of the "Deep Sea" visited the crews, enjoyed Soviet and American motion pictures together. There were exchanges of gifts and other friendly gestures.

The visit revealed that the Soviet Union has established a floating city with a degree of permanence that is surprising. The ships rotate every four months.

"We want to cooperate with you in the Bering Sea fishery," Cmdr. Paul Alexander Dimedov told us. "We are not touching the king crabs, the halibut or any other fish. We are after only flounder, a fish that Americans have never taken from this area."

House To Probe Major U.S. Gas Pipeline Firms

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators will look into the activities of all major U.S. gas pipeline companies to determine the extent of off-the-record contacts with the Federal Power Commission.

This was disclosed today by a source who asked not to be identified. He said an effort will be made to determine whether such contacts are accepted practice in the industry.

He said the broadened inquiry would extend to all major pipelines engaged in interstate transmission of natural gas under FPC jurisdiction.

FPC records show 41 pipeline companies fall into this category.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark), whose Legislative Oversight subcommittee is launching the comprehensive study, was not available for comment.

However, the abrupt decision to expand the scope of the investigation reportedly was prompted by a statement by a pipeline official that private approaches to the PFC are "accepted practice."

The statement was made last week by Gardiner Symonds, board chairman of Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. and of its subsidiary, Midwestern Gas Transmission Co. at a meeting of Tennessee Gas stockholders in Houston, Tex.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My son is a high school senior and now is looking over various universities and colleges. He's a good student and probably could get into any school he selected.

The thing that bothers me is he judges schools by their athletic achievements. If a college doesn't have a red-hot football team he's not interested.

I've tried to explain this is a poor criterion but he says it's the best way to tell if an institution is "on the stick."

The sharp schools, according to him, pay a lot of attention to their athletic program and get a winning team at all costs. It's smart public relations, he says, which influences the entire program. What do you say about this? — KNOW-NOTHING POP.

Dear Pop: Robert Hutchins said it better than anyone — and I quote: "Football has the same relation to education that bull fighting has to agriculture."

Back In Circulation

Dear Ann: I'm planning to break my engagement to a fellow who monopolized my life for five years. We started to go steady when I was 15 and became engaged three years late. I've never had a date with anyone else.

I won't go into detail but I'm sure he's a confirmed alcoholic and a pathological liar. I don't want to spend my life listening to lies and nursing hangovers.

Everyone thinks of me as Mickey's girl and I know it will take a long time before the word gets around that I'm available for dates. Could I hurry things along by placing a small ad in the newspaper? — NICK OF TIME.

Dear Nick: I dislike spoiling a sale for the classified ad department but I cannot, in good conscience, advise you to place an ad in the paper announcing a broken engagement.

I hate to resort to this very tired joke but if you want the word to get around fast — telephone, telegraph and telawoman.

Unrequited Love

Dear Ann: I'm a middle-aged businessman and a widower. In my younger days I worshiped a young girl from afar but was too shy to make my feelings known. She married and so did I.

Twelve years ago my wife died. I'm still in love with the idol of my dreams and always will be.

Three years ago her husband died. She travels, entertains and is invited everywhere. Her husband's picture is in every room. She refuses to give him up.

She's still beautiful and desirable and could give a man great happiness but she won't even accept a dinner date.

I know another widower who has tried to interest her but has failed, too. She loves to help others so if you could make her realize how much happiness she could bring to some lonely man if she married again I'm sure it would bring her happiness, too. — L. W.

Dear L. W.: Why don't you marry one of the thousands of eager widows who are searching frantically for a man and bring some happiness into her life? I'm sure the idea doesn't appeal to you and I don't blame you.

Marriage should be mutually rewarding. You wouldn't want a woman to marry you as a favor —in much the way she might lend you her car, would you? Well, get off your knees and find a woman who wants you at least as much as you want her.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Alaskans Get Warm Welcome Aboard Soviet 'Floating City'

The Sports Bench

Hawkins Sticks With Tribe . . .

Don't look now but Wynn Hawkins, who cut his teeth on area diamonds, may stick with the Cleveland Indians this season.

The New Waterford product is getting his first crack with the Tribe and is going about it like a veteran. It's only four days until Clevleand opens the 1960 season at lakefront stadium and Hawkins hasn't been cut yet.

He pitched Tuesday against the Yankees at St. Petersburg and turned in a fine performance.

Wynn made his first start Tuesday since he was hit on the right arm by a line drive two weeks ago.

He limited the Yanks to three runs on seven hits in six innings and was the winning pitcher in Cleveland's 7-4 victory.

The 24-year-old righthander was signed by the Indians in 1954 and reported to Fargo of the Northern League his first year. It wasn't a pleasant one. He was with a losing team, had a 10-12 record and his earned run average shot up to 4.43.

He pitched at Fayetteville the next season, brought his earned run mark down to 2.92 and won 16 while losing 12. This performance won him a promotion to the Class "A" Eastern League with Reading in 1957.

The Indians advanced him again to Mobile of the Southern Association in 1958 but it was back to reading the same year.

The last season Hawkins made his determined bid with Mobile. His record with the Southern Association pennent winner spoke loud enough and he got his chance with the Tribe.

At Mobile he was the strikeout leader in the Association with 149, showed a 14-9 record and his 2.55 earned run average was the best of his professional career.

Giles Wins MVP At Weirton . . .

VINCE GILES one of the cleverest independent basketball players in the area had honors heaped upon him Sunday at Weirton when he was named the most valuable player in the Weirton Invitational Tournament.

He led the Midland All - Stars to the runnerup spot. Being named most valuable player at Weirton was quite an accomplishment for the former Wellsville star.

You must consider that some top college players along with Bill Reigel, Charlie Slack and other members of the Akron Goodyear squad performed in the tournament.

Vince cast his lot with Freed's-American in the Wellsville tourney this week. He played college ball at Adrian, Mich., last year and was one of the team's leading scorers but was forced to drop out of school after one season.

WHILE SPEAKING about tournament, the Wellsville Jaycees are ready to wind up one of their most successfull tourneys in several years.

They had a good field of 30 teams and some top flight talent.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

A CALL of "help" has been issued by the East Liverpool Little League. The loop needs managers for Minor League teams and umpires for both the Little League and Minor League.

Anyone interested should contact Dick Forzano, Little League commissioner, at the Travelers Hotel.

THE MIDLAND High basketball team will be treated to another banquet Monday at 6:30 in the borough building sponsored by the Hi-Spot Canteen.

—:—

EARL BIEDERMAN, who guided Toronto to an 8-1 record in football last season, has resigned at the Gem City to take a head coaching job at Mentor, Ohio.

In addition to football at Mentor, Biederman will serve as athletic director.

Only 24 years old, Biederman's 1959 team won the Ohio Valley Athletic Conference. East Liverpool was the only team to defeat Toronto and that came in the last game of the season.

DICK RISINGER of East Liverpool was awarded a varsity "O" at Ohio State for his participation on the fencing team.

Law Holds Slugging Reds Scoreless On Seven Hits

PITTSBURGH (AP) — "Anytime a pitcher shuts out the Cincinnati Reds he's pitched himself a whale of a ball game."

So echoed Manager Danny Murtaugh of the Pittsburgh Pirates Thursday after Vernon Law blanked the Reds 13-0 on seven hits in the Pirates' home opener.

Law, the Pirates' top winner in 1959 with an 18-9 record, said he relied chiefly on his fast ball and a few curves.

"I mixed 'em up a lot," he said, relaxing on the rubbing table. "Guess I just got careless in the seventh and eighth."

Vada Pinson opened the seventh with a safe bunt and Gus Bell singled to center. But Frank Robinson, Tony Gonzalez and Ed Bailey were unable to get the ball out of the infield.

In the eighth, Billy Martin led off with a double and Ed Kasko got an infield single. This time Law got Jerry Lynch on a fly to right and Roy McMillan and Pinson on easy infield outs.

The Pirates banged out 11 hits —seven of them extra base blows —off five Red hurlers. They included six doubles and a two-run homer by Bill Mazeroski over the leftfield scoreboard in the second inning.

A partisan crowd of 34,064, largest here for an opener since 1948, watched with delight as the Pirates bombarded Cal McLish, Brooks Lawrence, Bob Purkey, Raul Sanchez and Ted Wieand.

McLish, who was 19-8 with Cleveland last year, lasted only 2 2-3 innings. By then the Pirates had picked up five runs. They chipped Lawrence for six tallies in the fifth and added two more in the sixth off Sanchez.

Law's lifetime mark over the Reds now is 13-6 and he hasn't lost to Cincinnati at Forbes Field since July 29, 1956.

Leetonia Gains Second Dual Meet Victory Over North Lima

LEETONIA — Leetonia's track and field forces picked up their second victory in as many starts by turning back North Lima, 60½-49½, here Thursday afternoon.

Bob Gullett remained undefeated in the hurdle events for the Bears by taking the 120-yard highs in 19 flat and coming back later with a 24.5 clocking in the 180-yard lows.

Overall depth paid off for Leetonia which only won five of the 13 events but built up points with seconds and thirds.

Ron Tilley captured the 880-yard run for Leetonia in 2:11 while Jim Stelts put the shot 40 feet, 1 inch. Leetonia's mile relay team won in 4 minutes flat.

Cooley was the only double winner for North Lima with victories in the 100-yard dash and 220.

Pete's Cafe, Johnny's To Clash For Title

Championship Contest Slated On Saturday

Pete's Cafe and Johnny's Lunch will battle for the championship of the Wellsville Jaycee tournament.

These two teams will meet Saturday at 8:30 p. m. for the title while Herron's Transfer and Freed's-American will clash in a consolation game at 7 p. m.

Pete's pulled no punches in running over Herron's Transfer, 103-65, Thursday night at the Beacom Memorial Gym. After Pete's finished Johnny's Lunch took the floor and had a much tougher time with Freed's-American but squeezed out a 75-73 victory.

Pete's and Herron's were locked in a close duel in the first quarter which ended, 18-17, with Pete's on top.

The Wellsville entry composed of ex-area high school stars, along with the fabulous Charlie Boykin of Kent State, got rolling in the second quarter and in the last half to run away with its opposition.

By halftime the score was 47-31 and the third period ended with Pete's in front, 71-48.

Boykin turned in the best scoring performance of the tournament as the 6-foot-8 cager dropped in 35 points for Pete's. He poured in 14 field goals and added seven more points from the foul line.

Smith added 20 points to the attack while Dan Baldwin, who was Wellsville's big star two years ago, dropped in 15.

The same brother combination which sparked Herron's in previous games prevailed Thursday night as Salem's Dave Hunter tallied 19 points and Rich Hunter added 18.

In one of the top games of the tournament, Johnny's Lunch edged Freed's-American by two points.

The game was close all the way and not more than one-point separated the two teams at the quarter marks.

At the end of the first period Johnny's led, 20-19, but Freed's-American managed to gain a 37-36 edge at halftime. The third quarter ended with Johnny's on top, 56-55, and they held on for the victory.

Thomas and big Gus Johnson were the mainstays for Johnny's. Thomas tallied 20 points while Johnson, who stands 6-foot-8, scored 19.

Bevo Francis was the point leader for Freed's-American with 19 while Jim Tucker chipped in with 16.

Team and individual trophies will be presented following Saturday's championship contest. No games are scheduled tonight because of Good Friday.

Beaver Local Nine Routs Potters In 14-7 Contest

Eight base hits, 12 walks and five errors helped Beaver Local smother East Liverpool, 14-7, Thursday afternoon on the Beaver Local diamond.

The Beavers, keyed high for the game, scored in every inning but the fifth. They pushed across five runs in the first inning, two in the second and third frames, three in the fourth and two more in the sixth.

The shabby play in the field and the wildness of several pitchers tried by Coach Rey Peduzzi led to the Potters defeat, their second in as many starts.

Tom Shallenberger, who scattered 10 hits, was the winning pitcher while Mel Standley, one of five pitchers used by the Potters, was tagged with the loss.

Ron Ensinger and Dick Barnhart were the hitting stars for Beaver Local. Ensinger collected three hits in four trips to the plate while Barnhart smashed a double and single. Shallenberger also helped his own cause with a triple.

East Liverpool outhit Beaver Local, 10-8, but it went to no avail. Dave Zelch, Kenny Cunningham and Myers each collected two hits for the Blue and White with one of Cunningham's a triple while Zelch belted a double.

Dodgers Win 3-2; Phils Nip Braves

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

So it's early yet and it may not mean a thing, but Duke Snider and Gil Hodges, too old to do it again, and Ed Roebuck, a forgotten reliever, have the Los Angeles Dodgers in first place at the moment.

Snider belted a home run, his first hit of the season, and Hodges triggered a two-run ninth that gave Roebuck his first victory since 1957 in a 3-2 decision over winless St. Louis Thursday night. That hoisted the world champs into a share of the National League lead with San Francisco and the Chicago Cubs, who handed the Giants their first loss, 6-5, with a walk and wind-blown double in the ninth.

The Milwaukee Braves blew a three-run lead and lost 5-4 in 10 innings to the Philadelphia Phillies, left without a manager when Eddie Sawyer called it quits earlier in the day. The Pittsburgh Pirates walloped Cincinnati 13-0 behind Vern Law's seven-hit pitching.

A bases-loaded wild pitch by losing reliever Bob (Och) Duliba won it for the Dodgers.

The Giants, who overcame Ernie Banks' third-inning grand slam homer with home runs by Willie Kirkland and Willie McCovey, were beaten when reliever Billy O'Dell walked Bob Will in the ninth and Thomas lofted a two-out fly ball. The ball dropped for a double behind short and Will was home. Don Elston, second of four Cub pitchers, won it in relief of starter Seth Morehead, who gave up a third Giant homer to Orlando Cepeda.

The Phillies, directed by coach Andy Cohen while awaiting the arrival of new manager Gene Mauch from the Minneapolis Millers of the American Assn., chased Milwaukee starter Carl Willey with three sixth-inning runs on homers by Bobby Del Greco and winning reliever Don Cardwell. In the 10th, Del Greco walked, stole second against losing reliever Juan Pizarro and scored on Joe Koppe's single.

Law, Pittsburgh's top winner last year, didn't walk a man and struck out two. The Bucs, rapped Cal McLish, a Cleveland ace last season, for five extra base hits and a 5-0 lead in three innings. Bob Clemente, 3-for-3, drove in five runs and Bill Mazeroski, who homered, drove in four as Law won his fifth in a row against the Reds at Forbes Field since 1956.

Hawkins Sticks With Tribe . . .

Don't look now but Wynn Hawkins, who cut his teeth on area diamonds, may stick with the Cleveland Indians this season.

The New Waterford product is getting his first crack with the Tribe and is going about it like a veteran. It's only four days until Cleveland opens the 1960 season at lakefront stadium and Hawkins hasn't been cut yet.

He pitched Tuesday against the Yankees at St. Petersburg and turned in a fine performance.

Wynn made his first start Tuesday since he was hit on the right arm by a line drive two weeks ago.

He limited the Yanks to three runs on seven hits in six innings and was the winning pitcher in Cleveland's 7-4 victory.

The 24-year-old righthander was signed by the Indians in 1954 and reported to Fargo of the Northern League his first year. It wasn't a pleasant one. He was with a losing team, had a 10-12 record and his earned run average shot up to 4.43.

He pitched at Fayetteville the next season, brought his earned run mark down to 2.92 and won 16 while losing 12. This performance won him a promotion to the Class "A" Eastern League with Reading in 1957.

The Indians advanced him again to Mobile of the Southern Association in 1958 but it was back to reading the same year.

The last season Hawkins made his determined bid with Mobile. His record with the Southern Association pennent winner spoke loud enough and he got his chance with the Tribe.

At Mobile he was the strikeout leader in the Association with 149, showed a 14-9 record and his 2.55 earned run average was the best of his professional career.

Giles Wins MVP At Weirton . . .

VINCE GILES one of the cleverest independent basketball players in the area had honors heaped upon him Sunday at Weirton when he was named the most valuable player in the Weirton Invitational Tournament.

He led the Midland All - Stars to the runnerup spot. Being named most valuable player at Weirton was quite an accomplishment for the former Wellsville star.

You must consider that some top college players along with Bill Reigel, Charlie Slack and other members of the Akron Goodyear squad performed in the tournament.

Vince cast his lot with Freed's American in the Wellsville tourney this week. He played college ball at Adrian, Mich., last year and was one of the team's leading scorers but was forced to drop out of school after one season.

WHILE SPEAKING about tournament, the Wellsville Jaycees are ready to wind up one of their most successfull tourneys in several years.

They had a good field of 30 teams and some top flight talent.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

A CALL of "help" has been issued by the East Liverpool Little League. The loop needs managers for Minor League teams and umpires for both the Little League and Minor League.

Anyone interested should contact Dick Forzano, Little League commissioner, at the Travelers Hotel.

THE MIDLAND High basketball team will be treated to another banquet Monday at 6:30 in the borough building sponsored by the Hi-Spot Canteen.

—:—

EARL BIEDERMAN, who guided Toronto to an 8-1 record in football last season, has resigned at the Gem City to take a head coaching job at Mentor, Ohio.

In addition to football at Mentor, Biederman will serve as athletic director.

Only 34 years old, Biederman's 1959 team won the Ohio Valley Athletic Conference. East Liverpool was the only team to defeat Toronto and that came in the last game of the season.

DICK RISINGER of East Liverpool was awarded a varsity "O" at Ohio State for his participation on the fencing team.

Championship Contest Slated On Saturday

Pete's Cafe and Johnny's Lunch will battle for the championship of the Wellsville Jaycee tournament.

These two teams will meet Saturday at 8:30 p. m. for the title while Herron's Transfer and Freed's-American will clash in a consolation game at 7 p. m.

Pete's pulled no punches in running over Herron's Transfer, 103-65, Thursday night at the Beacom Memorial Gym. After Pete's finished Johnny's Lunch took the floor and had a much tougher time with Freed's-American but squeezed out a 75-73 victory.

Pete's and Herron's were locked in a close duel in the first quarter which ended, 18-17, with Pete's on top.

The Wellsville entry composed of ex-area high school stars, along with the fabulous Charlie Boykin of Kent State, got rolling in the second quarter and in the last half to run away with its opposition.

By halftime the score was 47-31 and the third period ended with Pete's in front, 71-48.

Boykin turned in the best scoring performance of the tournament as the 6-foot-8 cager drooped in 35 points for Pete's. He poured in 14 field goals and added seven more points from the foul line.

Smith added 20 points to the attack while Dan Baldwin, who was Wellsville's big star two years ago, dropped in 15.

The same brother combination which sparked Herron's in previous games prevailed Thursday night as Salem's Dave Hunter tallied 19 points and Rich Hunter added 18.

In one of the top games of the tournament, Johnny's Lunch edged Freed's-American by two points.

The game was close all the way and not more than one-point separated the two teams at the quarter marks.

At the end of the first period Johnny's led, 20-19, but Freed's-American managed to gain a 37-36 edge at halftime. The third quarter ended with Johnny's on top, 56-55, and they held on for the victory.

Thomas and big Gus Johnson were the mainstays for Johnny's. Thomas tallied 20 points while Johnson, who stands 6-foot-8, scored 19.

Bevo Francis was the point leader for Freed's-American with 19 while Jim Tucker chipped in with 16.

Team and individual trophies will be presented following Saturday's championship contest. No games are scheduled tonight because of Good Friday.

Law Holds Slugging Reds Scoreless On Seven Hits

PITTSBURGH (AP) — "Anytime a pitcher shuts out the Cincinnati Reds he's pitched himself a whale of a ball game."

So echoed Manager Danny Murtaugh of the Pittsburgh Pirates Thursday after Vernon Law blanked the Reds 13-0 on seven hits in the Pirates' home opener.

"But we had a lot of hits," continued Murtaugh, "and that is what counts."

Law, the Pirates' top winner in 1959 with an 18-9 record, said he relied chiefly on his fast ball and a few curves.

"I mixed 'em up a lot," he said, relaxing on the rubbing table. "Guess I just got careless in the seventh and eighth."

Vada Pinson opened the seventh with a safe bunt and Gus Bell singled to center. But Frank Robinson, Tony Gonzalez and Ed Bailey were unable to get the ball out of the infield.

In the eighth, Billy Martin led off with a double and Ed Kasko got an infield single. This time Law got Jerry Lynch on a fly to right and Roy McMillan and Pinson on easy infield outs.

The Pirates banged out 11 hits —seven of them extra base blows —off five Red hurlers. They included six doubles and a two-run homer by Bill Mazeroski over the leftfield scoreboard in the second inning.

The Pirate second sacker, trimmed down to 185 from a hefty 197 last year, also counted two more runs with a double in the fifth.

Roberto Clemente was another big thumper for the Pirates. He drove in five runs with a pair of doubles, a single and a long fly ball.

A partisan crowd of 34,064, largest here for an opener since 1948, watched with delight as the Pirates bombarded Cal McLish, Brooks Lawrence, Bob Purkey, Raul Sanchez and Ted Wieand.

McLish, who was 19-8 with Cleveland last year, lasted only 2 2-3 innings. By then the Pirates had picked up five runs. They chipped Lawrence for six tallies in the fifth and added two more in the sixth off Sanchez.

Law's lifetime mark over the Reds now is 13-6 and he hasn't lost to Cincinnati at Forbes Field since July 29, 1956.

Leetonia Gains Second Dual Meet Victory Over North Lima

LEETONIA — Leetonia's track and field forces picked up their second victory in as many starts by turning back North Lima, 60½-49½, here Thursday afternoon.

Bob Gullett remained undefeated in the hurdle events for the Bears by taking the 120-yard highs in 10 flat and coming back later with a 24.5 clocking in the 180-yard lows.

Overall depth paid off for Leetonia which only won five of the 13 events but built up points with seconds and thirds.

Ron Tilley captured the 880-yard run for Leetonia in 2:11 while Jim Stelts put the shot 40 feet, 1 inch. Leetonia's mile relay team won in 4 minutes flat.

Cooley was the only double winner for North Lima with victories in the 100-yard dash and 220.

Dodgers Win, But Alston Is Disappointed

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers so far have presented a fairly feeble image of a world championship club, but they apparently haven't lost their touch for taking the tight ones.

They have been outhit in all of their first three games, yet have won two of them — the latest through the rare fortune of a bases loaded wild pitch in the ninth inning.

"I don't mind saying I'm disappointed," Manager Walt Alston remarked Thursday night after the Dodgers dropped St. Louis 3-2 on a curve ball delivered by Cardinal reliever Bob Duliba.

"I'm pretty well pleased with the pitching," Alston said, "but the hitting has been awful."

In 29 innings, the Dodgers have scored just six runs and have accumulated only 18 hits, an average of less than six per nine innings.

Trailing 2-1 after 8½ innings Thursday night, they got a lead-off single from pinch hitter Chuck Essegian — the man who won the opener against Chicago with an 11th inning homer. Gil Hodges drove in Essegian with a triple and scored himself after two walks when Duliba flung a curve ball into the dirt with pinch hitter Carl Furillo at bat.

Canadiens Take Record-Breaking 5th Straight Title

TORONTO (AP)—The Montreal Canadiens were hailed today as the greatest all-round team in the history of professional hockey following the winning of the Stanley Cup for an unprecedented fifth straight year.

The power-packed Canadiens wrapped up the National Hockey League's postseason competition Thursday night with a 4-0 victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs.

The triumph gave the league champions a sweep of the two playoff series — a feat accomplished only once before. That was by Detroit in 1952.

En route to the finals, the Canadiens eliminated the Chicago Black Hawks four games to none with goalie Jacques Plante turning in two shutouts. Thursday night's shutout was his only one in the four games with Toronto.

Counting the last two victories over Toronto a year ago, the Canadiens have won 10 straight playoff games. They have been a finalist in the postseason competition for 10 straight years.

Jean Beliveau, at 29 one of the great stars of the power-packed club, was the leading scorer in the game. He scored the first and last goals. In between Doug Harvey and Henri Richard tallied.

Mathews Is New Take Charge Guy

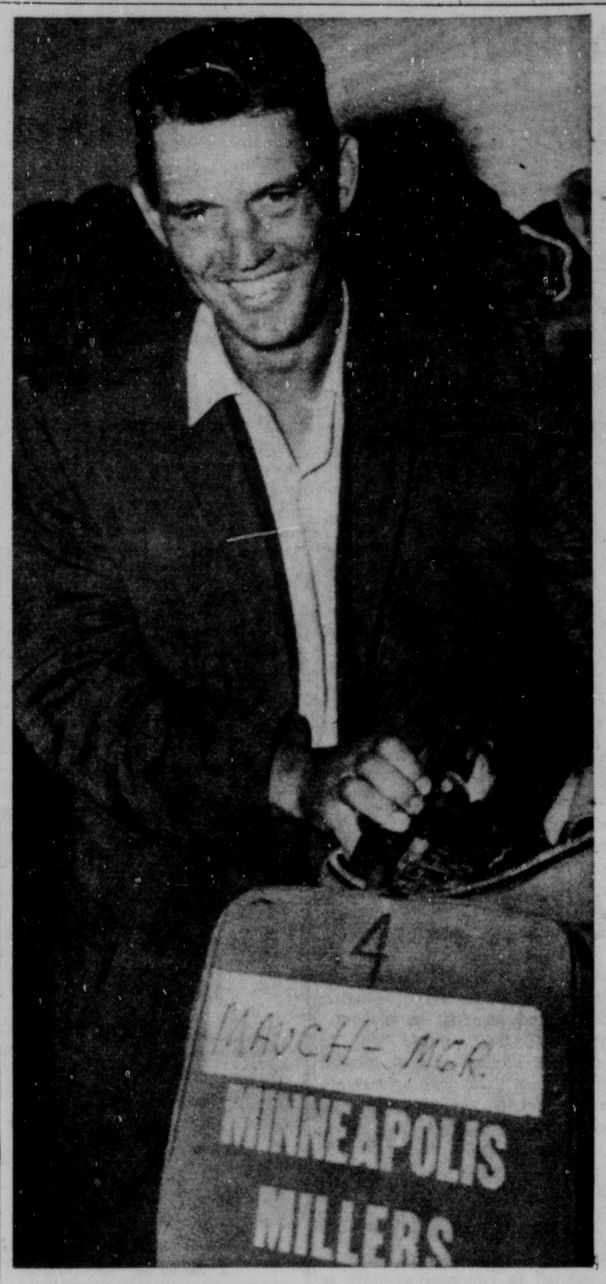

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Hard-hitting Eddie Mathews had a new job with the Milwaukee Braves today.

Manager Charlie Dressen named him as the "take charge guy" on defense in the infield Thursday night.

Dressen said that when he played third base he was the "policeman" of the infield and he wanted Mathews "to do the same for us."

Red Schoendienst, veteran second baseman who had made a comeback after being out a year with tuberculosis was the infield director in 1958 but Dressen believes "he's got more things to do than look out for at second base."

"That's why I'm picking Mathews for the job," Dressen said. "He doesn't have as much to worry about at third."

Mauch In—Sawyer Out As Philadelphia Boss

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Did Eddie Sawyer quit because he was tired of managing or because he read the handwriting on the wall?

This was the question inquiring reporters tried to get answered Thursday night before the Philadelphia Phillies, under acting manager Andy Cohen, met the Milwaukee Braves at Connie Mack Stadium.

The unexpected resignation of the 49-year-old Sawyer and immediate appointment of Gene Mauch as his successor landed on the Philadelphia sports scene like a bombshell.

"I just don't care to manage a major league club, or any club," asserted Sawyer Thursday in giving up one of the 16 coveted major league managerships.

Phillies' owner Bob Carpenter and General Manager John Quinn said they were shocked over Sawyer's decision.

"He'd still be managing if he wanted to," Quinn said.

"I'm disappointed in Eddie," commented Carpenter who brought Sawyer back in mid-season of 1958, for his second term as manager. Carpenter at that time expressed the hope Sawyer could take the youngsters budding in the Phillies' farm system and develop them into a pennant winner in the same manner he did in the late 1940s.

It has been widely speculated that although Quinn and Sawyer were good friends, the one-time college professor was not Quinn's type of manager. It has been felt in some quarters that Sawyer wouldn't last the season in this graveyard of managers. The 34-year-old Mauch will be the Phillies' sixth skipper since 1950.

Two Rank Outsiders Lead Greensboro Open

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP) — Two rank outsiders, Thorne Wood and Len Woodward, were showing the way as the $17,500 Greater Greensboro Open Golf tournament's second round got underway today.

Wood, a left-handed professional from nearby Asheboro, led the pack of 128 after a first round 66, five under par.

Woodward, 27-year-old Sydney, Australia pro, was one stroke back, tied with Dow Finsterwald of Tequesto, Fla., last year's winner here.

Only two shots away in fourth place was Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., who has won here six times, including the initial Greensboro tournament back in 1938.

Indians Slice Roster To 28

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) —The Cleveland Indians are down to 28 men today—the roster limit for the first month of regular season ball.

The squad has 14 pitchers, two catchers, five outfielders and seven infielders.

Latest to be dropped were right-handed pitcher Bobby Locke, optioned to Indianapolis on a 24-hour recall basis, and rookie infielder Mike De La Hoz, sent to Toronto.

De La Hoz, originally with Mobile, said he was elated over the promotion to Toronto, where he probably will be the regular shortstop.

Manager Frank Lane said the 20-year-old Cuban would have remained with the Indians if the infield weren't set. "We'd rather have him playing every day with Toronto," said Lane, "than sitting on the bench with us."

De La Hoz made his farewell appearance Thursday as the Tribe defeated the Boston Red Sox, 5-1. With two singles, De La Hoz was the only Indian to get more than one hit.

Hurling against Boston was right-hander Gary Bell, who is Manager Joe Gordon's probable selection to pitch the opener in Cleveland next Tuesday.

Bell allowed only one run on six hits during eight innings—the longest turn by a Cleveland pitcher this spring. He walked four and struck out five.

Johnny Klippstein, purchased from Los Angeles on Monday, made his Indian debut by retiring three men in order in the ninth. Boston's Bill Monbouquette and Ted Bowsfield held Cleveland to six hits—three in the third and three in the fifth.

Tito Francona knocked in four of the Tribe's five runs with a two-run triple and a pair of infield outs.

Big Walter Bond doubled in the third inning in his only official appearance. Bond later drew two walks and was hit on the right elbow by a pitch from southpaw Bowsfield. Painfully bruised, Bond had to leave the game.

The Indians had an open date today, but Gordon arranged a game with the Toronto farmhands at nearby Indianville, naming Jim Perry as the Indians' pitcher.

Miteff, Warner Paired In TV Bout

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Alex Miteff, the No. 8 heavyweight contender, faces unranked Don Warner of Philadelphia tonight in a 10-round match at Convention Hall. Miteff, a sturdy Argentine, is substituting for Eddie Machen who withdrew because of his mother's illness.

The scrap gets the usual Friday night network (NBC) radio and television treatment, starting at 10 p.m. Eastern Standard Time. The referee will be the only official.

Despite his solid ranking, Miteff had some troubles in 1959 when he lost three of six. In his last two starts last year he was stopped by Billy Hunter and lost a decision to the same man. However, he has won two fights this year, both by knockouts for a 21-5-1 lifetime record.

Warner, 20, never has been in with a ranked opponent. Fighting only since 1958 he has a 10-1-2 record with nine knockouts. In his only 1960 bout he fought an eight-round draw with Lee Williams in a Madison Square Garden semi-final Jan. 1.

Del Greco And Cardwell Start Well With Phils

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — This could be the season a couple of guys with great potential finally blossom into major league stardom —outfielder Bobby Del Greco and pitcher Don Cardwell.

The Philadelphia Phillies have been consigned to last place by most of the experts, but Del Greco and Cardwell could help fool them. Both were off to great starts Thursday night as the Phillies whipped the Milwaukee Braves 5-4 in 10 innings.

The 27-year-old Del Greco is no newcomer to the major league scene. He's had four chances in the big leagues, with Pittsburgh, the Cardinals, Cubs and New York Yankees. The cry was always the same: good field, no hit.

Last season at Buffalo in the International League, Del Greco hit .286 with 21 homers and 72 runs batted in.

Thursday night he doubled home a run in the second inning off starter Carlton Willey and belted the same right-hander for a two-run homer in the sixth, the inning the Phillies tied the score 4-4 with a three run rally.

In the decisive 10th, he waited out relief pitcher Juan Pizarro for a walk, then stole second. Moments later, he scored from second on Joe Koppe's single to win the game.

Cardwell came out of the bullpen to replace Rube Gomez who had relieved starter Curt Simmons. Cardwell gave up only one run in six innings, striking out five and walking none. In addition he smashed a home run in the sixth to tie the score 4-4.

Take It From Cubs, Homers Can Be Hit In Giants' Park

By ALAN CLINE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Take it from the Chicago Cubs, especially Ernie Banks, home runs can be hit in the San Francisco Giants' new Candlestick Park.

"They told me no home runs here," said Cub Manager Charley Grimm, "and then I see balls flying out like aspirin tablets."

Banks hit a grand slammer in his team's 6-5 triumph Thursday night, and the Giants' Orlando Cepeda, Willie Kirkland and Willie McCovey also cleared the fences.

McCovey tied it at 5-5 in the eighth with a three-run 400-foot blast.

The Cubs won in the ninth when Bob Will walked and scored on Frank Thomas' sky high double that mixed up both the Giant infield and outfield.

Will kept running as the ball dropped in field between Cepeda and shortstop Eddie Bressoud, who threw wild to the plate. Thomas was credited with a run batted in, Bressoud was charged with an error.

"I just quit running," Bressoud said later in taking the blame.

Until Thursday night only Kirkland had homered in the new park. Cepeda, who hit a towering shot which was caught at the 420-foot marker in deepest center opening day, said he couldn't hit a ball any harder. Some fans wondered then if they would ever see one hit out of the lot.

Cepeda ended that talk in the third when he drove a Seth Moorhead pitch over the 397-foot mark in left center.

In the fourth, starter Jack Sanford loaded the bases. Banks, for two years the league's most valuable player, swung at a two-out, 2-2 pitch. The ball landed in the field seats, 365 feet away.

Three strokes back were two University of Houston sophomores Larry Beck and Homero Blancas. Beck had 73-69—142, Blancas 72-70—142.

The Houston foursome that also includes Jack Cupit and Tony Marimon, two members of the school's 1959 NCAA championship team, scored a tournament record 279 second round while boosting its team medal lead to 22 points over Louisiana State.

The nine-under-par 279 broke the old mark of 281 set by Houston in 1957 and gave the Cougars a 36-hole 575.

Louisiana State had 597, North Texas held third place at 608 and was followed by Oklahoma State 612, Texas A&M 619, Texas Tech 620, Tulsa 622, New Mexico 623, Memphis State 623, Baylor 628, Arizona State 632, Southern Methodist 632, Texas 639 Western Illinois 647, Oklahoma 651 and Rice 653.

Center Lining Scheduled On Main Streets

Repainting the center lines of major thoroughfares is the next major task planned for the street department in the annual spring refurbishing of winter - weary pavements, Supt. W. M. Laughlin said today.

The first center line marking is scheduled to begin at the Ohio-Pennsylvania state line and extend along Harvey Ave., Elizabeth St. and Pennsylvania Ave. to Elm St. on the E. 5th St. grade, he said.

New lines also will be painted on St. Clair Ave., Lisbon St. and Dresden Ave.

Sikora Brothers Excavating Co. of Poland, contractor, is continuing with concrete resurfacing across the W. 8th St. "super road" stretch where pavement was torn up during relocation of the Carpenters Run trunk line sanitary sewer.

The eastbound lanes of the "super road" and the upbound lane leading from W. 8th St. to Lisbon St. were reopened to traffic this morning. But a detour continues in the area, as the westbound lanes of the "super road" now are closed for resurfacing. The work is being done at the foot of Lisbon St. where the relocated sewer crosses diagonally in its new path toward W. 9th St.

Another breakdown has taken the street department's mechanical sweeper out of service temporarily, but flushing of streets is scheduled to continue as part of the removal of winter debris.

The chain drive for the rear broom of the mechanical sweeper is broken, necessitating an order for new parts at the factory in California. However, temporary repair may be arranged through a Pittsburgh distributor. The sweeper is expected to be out of service several days.

Band Parents To Hold Tag Day Sale Saturday

Mrs. Clair Manypenny, ways and means chairman, said the sale will begin at 8 a. m. Headquarters will be in the Memorial Auditorium and the three students collecting the most donations will receive awards.

Officers will be elected at a meeting of the group Tuesday night at the Memorial Auditorium. Mrs. Wayne Russell, president, will be in charge.

Center Lining Scheduled On Main Streets

Repainting the center lines of major thoroughfares is the next major task planned for the street department in the annual spring refurbishing of winter - wearied pavements, Supt. W. M. Laughlin said today.

The first center line marking is scheduled to begin at the Ohio-Pennsylvania state line and extend along Harvey Ave., Elizabeth St. and Pennsylvania Ave. to Elm St. on the E. 5th St. grade, he said.

New lines also will be painted on St. Clair Ave., Lisbon St. and Dresden Ave.

Sikora Brothers Excavating Co. of Poland, contractor, is continuing with concrete resurfacing across the W. 8th St. "super road" stretch where pavement was torn up during relocation of the Carpenters Run trunk line sanitary sewer.

The eastbound lanes of the "super road" and the upbound lane leading from W. 8th St. to Lisbon St. were reopened to traffic this morning. But a detour continues in the area, as the westbound lanes of the "super road" now are closed for resurfacing. The work is being done at the foot of Lisbon St. where the relocated sewer crosses diagonally in its new path toward W. 9th St.

Another breakdown has taken the street department's mechanical sweeper out of service temporarily, but flushing of streets is scheduled to continue as part of the removal of winter debris.

The chain drive for the rear broom of the mechanical sweeper is broken, necessitating an order for new parts at the factory in California. However, temporary repair may be arranged through a Pittsburgh distributor. The sweeper is expected to be out of service several days.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Children Reflect Ways Of Parents

Yesterday I wrote about the prevalence of cheating in high school and college and relayed some suggestions on what may be lone about it.

By Garry Meyer.

If you have a child under five or six, or in the primary grades, you may wonder if you can do anything now and later to armor him against cheating when he will be in high school or college. Here are a few suggestions: Resolve that you and your spouse will strive hard, in all you do and say, to set an example of moral integrity.

Remember that your child observes what you parents do. He hears what you say when alone with you in the family and when neighbors or other persons are there.

DOES HE EVER hear you tell how you have deceived somebody?

When you find an error on a bill in your favor, does he know about it and that you have corrected it as surely as if the error had been in the opposite direction?

When your child is old enough to pay full fare, or adult entrance to a movie, does he see you paying the proper fare or entrance and hear you insist that he do so when alone?

Does your child learn from day-by-day experience that you keep a promise to him or anybody else, if possible, or, if not possible, that you try to make reasonable explanation or amends?

Does he gradually learn at home not to use the things of another person there without that person's permission? Does he also learn to observe the same rule in regard to things belonging to other persons in the neighborhood and, by and by, in wider areas?

WHEN HE is old enough to sell things for his church, club or school, does he keep a careful account of what he sells, has left and the money received? Do you guide him to account for and handle funds carefully, if he becomes treasurer of his class, Sunday School, club or Scout troop?

After he begins doing homework and you help him prepare some written work, do you write a note on his paper indicating to the teacher how you helped him? Do you teach him, when he gets information from a book, to put it in his own words or, when he copies it, to use quotations and name the source and author? This may directly relate to cheating.

When no problem of right or wrong directly faces your child, you often should, at quiet, companionable moments, talk to him about being honest and truthful in hundreds of situatiins he may know about, and give him the reasons why.

THESE WILL include many times when he might be tempted to copy homework from another child, or from someone during a test or examination. Help him see this would not be right, and that he could not feel happy if he got a grade for something he did not do himself.

Try to do all these things in a family atmosphere of love and understanding.

My bulletin, "Honesty and Truthfulness in Children" may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Teen-Agers Need Not Sing Sad Songs

"I'm so fat it's pitiful," a teen-age lassie writes. "I can't seem to stop eating. I say to myself, 'I'll eat this now and go on a diet tomorrow.' Tomorrow never comes. What can I do to lose weight in a hurry?"

By Ida Jean Kain

All teen-agers who sing that same sad song, tune in: Are you game to try a three week experiment? There is a way to eat to beat the bulges; give the plan a whirl.

Do you have what it takes to get up 15 minutes early and eat breakfast? Don't turn away bored! You may think of food as something that goes on you. .but food is what you go on! To begin with, you can't get anything in your head if you haven't anything in your stomach.

GET HEP! A dynamic action, low calorie breakfast is the key meal for happy dieting.

Have fruit or juice, an egg and a slice of toast, and a glass of skim milk, or have whole grain cereal with whole milk in place of the egg. Overweight boys can have both the egg and the cereal, fruit, and skim milk.

Too many calories? Don't be such a diet dud. When you skimp on breakfast, you hit an 'all gone' slump by mid-morning and grab a sweet snack. That plan adds padding and makes blotches.

So the second part of the challenge is to turn the empty calories taken between meals into nutrition assets. If you want an apple during recess, fine, have a big one, After school, you'll be hungry.

Something that will absolutely hold your appetite in check until dinner is a hard-cooked egg. During the time it's cooking, swing through shape-ups. Or choose fruit for a pick-up, such as a big, juicy orange, of the type that you can peel and eat.

The third part of the experiment is to eat a modest lunch, but no chocolate bar. At dinner, have one serving of everything, one serving only. Skip the rich dessert.

Since that is the tough part. . . try this plan which worked wonders for one teen-ager: When confronted with dessert temptation, she would ask herself how she'd look with that pie plastered on her waistline. .and the chocolate eclair glued to her hips! At that point she would walk briskly away from the table.

SINCE IT WAS her job to wash the dishes, she asked her mother to put the food away first. During that ten minutes our teen - ager walked around the block. When she came back, she whipped into the dishes.

At the end of the study session, she put on a record and "moved to music". . .stretching, bending, and swinging. Her bedtime snack was a big red apple. That teen-ager is now a shapely weight.

Send a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope for "Teen-Age Slimming Challenge." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Cited In Week Strike

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—Charles Deak, 44, was charged Thursday with disorderly conduct in the week-old strike of 500 United Rubber Workers Union employes of the Chardon Rubber Co. Police Chief John R. Bohl said Deak was seen throwing rocks at cars driven by non-striking employes and that three cars had been damaged. Union leaders said working conditions, not wages, are the issue in the walkout.

To Challenge Order

CLEVELAND (AP)—One of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's slate of Democratic convention delegate candidates says he will challenge an order by the party's Cuyahoga County chairman, Ray T. Miller, to allow speeches at ward meetings only by candidates which the county organization has endorsed. Howard M. Metzenbaum, an attorney and former state senator, said Thursday he expected "to attend every Democratic ward meeting that comes to my attention in the 23rd District" and that he already had been at several and was permitted to speak.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Children Reflect Ways Of Parents

Yesterday I wrote about the prevalence of cheating in high school and college and relayed some suggestions on what may be done about it.

By Garry Meyer.

If you have a child under five or six, or in the primary grades, you may wonder if you can do anything now and later to armor him against cheating when he will be in high school or college. Here are a few suggestions: Resolve that you and your spouse will strive hard, in all you do and say, to set an example of moral integrity.

Remember that your child observes what you parents do. He hears what you say when alone with you in the family and when neighbors or other persons are there.

DOES HE EVER hear you tell how you have deceived somebody? When you find an error on a bill in your favor, does he know about it and that you have corrected it as surely as if the error had been in the opposite direction?

When your child is old enough to pay full fare, or adult entrance to a movie, does he see you paying the proper fare or entrance and hear you insist that he do so when alone?

Does your child learn from day-by-day experience that you keep a promise to him or anybody else, if possible, or, if not possible, that you try to make reasonable explanation or amends?

Does he gradually learn at home not to use the things of another person there without that person's permission? Does he also learn to observe the same rule in regard to things belonging to other persons in the neighborhood and, by and by, in wider areas?

WHEN HE is old enough to sell things for his church, club or school, does he keep a careful account of what he sells, has left and the money received? Do you guide him to account for and handle funds carefully, if he becomes treasurer of his class, Sunday School, club or Scout troop?

After he begins doing homework and you help him prepare some written work, do you write a note on his paper indicating to the teacher how you helped him? Do you teach him, when he gets information from a book, to put it in his own words or, when he copies it, to use quotations and name the source and author? This may directly relate to cheating.

When no problem of right or wrong directly faces your child, you often should, at quiet, companionable moments, talk to him about being honest and truthful in hundreds of situatiins he may know about, and give him the reasons why.

THESE WILL include many times when he might be tempted to copy homework from another child, or from someone during a test or examination. Help him see this would not be right, and that he could not feel happy if he got a grade for something he did not do himself.

Try to do all these things in a family atmosphere of love and understanding.

My bulletin, "Honesty and Truthfulness in Children" may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Teen-Agers Need Not Sing Sad Songs

"I'm so fat it's pitiful," a teen-age lassie writes. "I can't seem to stop eating. I say to myself, 'I'll eat this now and go on a diet tomorrow.' Tomorrow never comes. What can I do to lose weight in a hurry?"

By Ida Jean Kain

All teen-agers who sing that same sad song, tune in: Are you game to try a three week experiment? There is a way to eat to beat the bulges; give the plan a whirl.

Do you have what it takes to get up 15 minutes early and eat breakfast? Don't turn away bored! You may think of food as something that goes on you. .but food is what you go on! To begin with, you can't get anything in your head if you haven't anything in your stomach.

GET HEP! A dynamic action, low calorie breakfast is the key meal for happy dieting.

Have fruit or juice, an egg and a slice of toast, and a glass of skim milk, or have whole grain cereal with whole milk in place of the egg. Overweight boys can have both the egg and the cereal, fruit, and skim milk.

Too many calories? Don't be such a diet dud. When you skimp on breakfast, you hit an 'all gone' slump by mid-morning and grab a sweet snack. That plan adds padding and makes blotches.

So the second part of the challenge is to turn the empty calories taken between meals into nutrition assets. If you want an apple during recess, fine, have a big one, After school, you'll be hungry.

Something that will absolutely hold your appetite in check until dinner is a hard-cooked egg. During the time it's cooking, swing through shape-ups. Or choose fruit for a pick-up, such as a big, juicy orange, of the type that you can peel and eat.

The third part of the experiment is to eat a modest lunch, but no chocolate bar. At dinner, have one serving of everything, one serving only. Skip the rich dessert.

Since that is the tough part. . . try this plan which worked wonders for one teen-ager: When confronted with dessert temptation, she would ask herself how she'd look with that pie plastered on her waistline. .and the chocolate eclair glued to her hips! At that point she would walk briskly away from the table.

SINCE IT WAS her job to wash the dishes, she asked her mother to put the food away first. During that ten minutes our teen - ager walked around the block. When she came back, she whipped into the dishes.

At the end of the study session, she put on a record and "moved to music". . .stretching, bending, and swinging. Her bedtime snack was a big red apple. That teen-ager is now a shapely weight.

Send a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope for "Teen-Age Slimming Challenge." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Cross Burned On Street Corner In Detroit

Although City Hall offices normally close at 4 p. m., the Municipal Civil Service Commission will keep its office open until 5 Monday, deadline for applications for a test which will be given Monday, April 25, to make up a new eligibility list for police department patrolmen.

P. K. Calhoon, secretary, will be in the commission's office on the second floor until 5 to receive last - minute applications for the test. The exam is set at 8 p. m. April 25 in the Council Chamber at City Hall.

Cited In Week Strike

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—Charles Deak, 44, was charged Thursday with disorderly conduct in the week-old strike of 500 United Rubber Workers Union employes of the Chardon Rubber Co. Police Chief John R. Bohl said Deak was seen throwing rocks at cars driven by non-striking employes and that three cars had been damaged. Union leaders said working conditions, not wages, are the issue in the walkout.

To Challenge Order

CLEVELAND (AP)—One of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's slate of Democratic convention delegate candidates says he will challenge an order by the party's Cuyahoga County chairman, Ray T. Miller, to allow speeches at ward meetings only by candidates which the county organization has endorsed. Howard M. Metzenbaum, an attorney and former state senator, said Thursday he expected "to attend every Democratic ward meeting that comes to my attention in the 23rd District" and that he already had been at several and was permitted to speak.

Tiny Virus Seen Boosting Price Of Your Pork Chops

By PHIL GUNBY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A virus only a 250,000th of an inch long is increasing the price of the pork chops you purchase.

It causes hog cholera, a disease that costs Ohio's livestock producers about $2,400,000 in pig deaths each year.

"Consumers pay for that loss in the price of pork," says Dr. Harry G. Geyer, veterinarian in charge of the Division of Animal Industry in the Ohio Department of Agriculture.

Geyer and his boss, Agriculture Director Robert H. Terhune, are awaiting word from the Ohio Swine Feeders and Breeders Assn. before starting an intensive campaign to eradicate the disease, which was noted in southern Ohio —for the first time anywhere—in 1833.

Only about 35 per cent of the 2,700,000 or so swine raised yearly in Ohio are vaccinated against the lethal virus, Geyer estimates, although the national average is a still-low 37 per cent. Ohio ranks about fifth in the nation in swine production.

"If everybody did what he was supposed to, we could wipe out this disease in three years," Geyer contends. "We're ready to go on an eradication campaign, but we want a majority—not 51 per cent, but 90 per cent or more—of the swine industry to be willing to get this job done."

It's just sound economics for farmers to vaccinate their hogs, Geyer and Dr. C. E. Boyd agree. Boyd is veterinarian in charge of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Animal Disease Eradication Division in Columbus.

At present, 12 nations won't import U.S. (and Ohio) pork because of the danger of spreading the cholera virus, the two veterinarians explain, and this costs the farmer money. Further, it costs about 90 cents to vaccinate a hog, and the money involved in the loss of one pig, say $34, could protect a great many more in the herd.

As it stands, anyone who eats pork has consumed some of the virus.

But humans aren't susceptible to the virus which, although it kills more hogs than any other single disease, will die in an hour if exposed to sunlight.

However, if scraps of pork containing the virus are removed from the dinner table and fed to the hogs, any that have not been vaccinated will be infected. Agriculture officials say this is one of the problems related to spread of cholera.

"We've been fighting this disease for a long time," he adds. "The State Agriculture Department laboratories at Reynoldsburg (east of Columbus) were built in 1912 to prepare vaccine. But the highest percentage of vaccination we've ever had in this state is about 47 per cent.

"We've got to do better than that if we are going to get rid of a disease that's been with Ohio since the very beginning."

Calvary Termed Victory Over Evil By Kiwanis Guest

Calvary, as a symbol of Christ's victory over the power of evil to take life, was described by John Mostoller, pastor of the First Church of Christ in an Easter program of the Kiwanis Club Thursday.

The minister said Christ's Crucifixion stood for more than atonement of the sins of the world and more than the martrydom of a lonely man upon the Cross.

"When Christ permitted the design of men to put him on the Cross, he did so as a challenge to the cosmic evil of the world," he said.

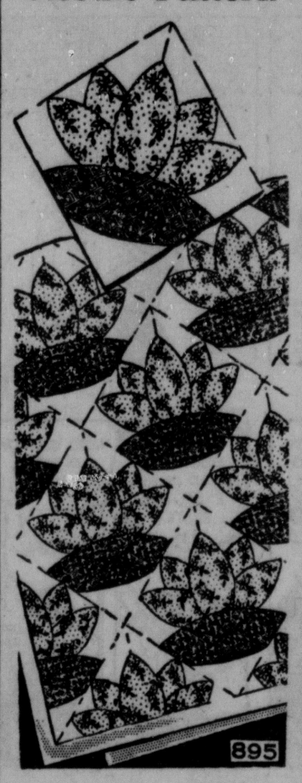

The pastor described the factors of personal faults, religious prejudice and political self - interest that resulted in the Crucifixion of Jesus, and commented that "similar forces of apathy, pride, fear and selfishness exist today."

But he said Christ's victory over evil and the power of death made the Cross "not His scaffold but His throne," and a "fundamental of Christian religion in which we can rejoice on this anniversary."

Rowland Kaufman sang "My God, Why Hast Thou Forsaken Me?", accompanied by Miss Joann Vannoy.

Hugh Gibson, who died in 1954, was during his career U. S. minister to Poland, Switzerland, Belguim and Luxembourg, and U. S. ambassador to Brazil.

IRS Warns Truckers Use Tax Must Be Paid

Melvin J. Burton, Internal Revenue District director, announced that a large number of truck operators in the 47 Northern Ohio Counties, which now comprise the Cleveland Internal Revenue District, have failed to pay the highway use tax on their vehicles.

It is the duty of each person owning trucks to file Form 2290, "Federal Use Tax Return on Highway Motor Vehicles," and pay this tax on or before the last day of the month following the month in which the truck was first put into use, he said. "Taxes range from $40.50 to $90 a year on taxable trucks," Burton said.

Forms 2290 and Publication No. 349, which explain the Highway Revenue Act of 1956, are available at all Internal Revenue Offices, including East Liverpool's in the Erlanger Building.

Burton urged all truckers who have not paid the tax to contact the nearest office immediately.
